WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Col. McClure, at Chambersburg, reports that Stuart's rebel cavalry had not escaped, but were driven back from the Potomac, and were trying to escape. But this is a mistake. They escaped, and it is said that the failure to arrest them is attributed to the division commander at Poolsville, to whom instructions had been sent by Gen. McClellan. From the facts already made public, it is evident that Gen. McClellan took proper measures to prevent the return of Stuart to Virginia, and the fault must be with subordinate officers who failed to obey orders or appreciate his suggestion.

The N. Y. Times Harper's Ferry letter confirms the statements that a forward movement of the army is determined upon.

A dispatch from Gen. McClellan's headquarters state that Stuart escaped because our cavalry force was absent on important duty, and it was impossible for infantry to pursue them. Stuart made his march of 92 miles in 24 hours, by means of fresh horses taken from Pennsylvanians. Gen. Pleasanton made his march of 78 miles in 24 hours, without the change of a horse or rest. He came up with the rebels at the mouth of the Monocacy, repulsed them, and took six prisoners. Our loss was one man wounded. Stuart, unable to cross here, moved three miles down the river, and escaped. Gen. Pleasanton, while pursuing him, lost the use of his guns, the horses giving out from exhaustion. It is believed that both marches are the most extraordinary on record.

☞ Hon. Solomon Foot on Tuesday was chosen U. S. Senator for Vermont for six years from the 4th of March next. The vote for him was unanimous in the Senate, and in the House only seven votes were cast against him. This is Mr. Foot's third election to the Senate.

☞ Dispatches from Philadelphia and Harrisburg, Tuesday afternoon, state that a heavy vote was being thrown, and the Union men were active and sanguine. Party lines were being disregarded, in support of the government and the Union.

☞ The Herald's Washington dispatch says the State Department has received information from Minister Adams of the arrest of parties in England for counterfeiting U. S. Treasury Notes.

☞ At Davenport, the other day, a rat, which was being chased by several persons, ran up a man's leg inside his trowsers. It laid hold of the man's leg with his teeth, and held its grip with such tenacity that the man's trowsers had to be cut, and the rat was ultimately taken off with a piece of flesh between his teeth. The wound inflicted is stated to be serious.

CASUALTIES OF THE WAR.—The career of the 2d Wisconsin Regiment is practically ended. All that remains of the eleven hundred who left Wisconsin a little more than twelve months ago, are fifty-nine war-worn and battle-grimed men. There were ten overflowing companies when the regiment left the State.

☞ Mrs. Douglas, who resides near the Douglas Hospital, in the small villa originally occupied by the Illinois Statesman, has regularly visited this hospital, unless when prevented by her recent indisposition.—From this she has now entirely recovered.

☞ The production of tobacco is rapidly increasing in Algiers. This year's crop is estimated at twelve million pounds. In 1844 there were only three tobacco planters in the colony, and their plantations comprised an aggregate of only three and a half acres. The quality of the tobacco now grown is highly praised in the French journals.

☞ A man named O'Neil, in Boston, has done a good business with a recruit. First, he got him to enlist, receiving $200 bounty. Then he induced him to desert, shaved off his whiskers, enlisted him in another company, and got $200 more. Got him to desert again, and put a wig on him and received $200 more. The fourth time, as he was re-wigging him, the sharper was caught.

☞ Mr. Charles Fontayne of Cincinnati has perfected a machine for printing photographs, from the negative, at the rate of from 2,500 to 12,00 impressions an hour, according to their size.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Statesman says that a loyal Baltimore gentleman, who has been an officer in the navy, was recently visiting in an interior town in this State, and engaged in conversation with a Democratic editor, on the management of Gen. Butler at New Orleans. The man of the quill pitched into old Ben, and the other being a great admirer of Butler, the discussion became quite violent, closing with the production of pistols, and an invitation to the editor to take his choice of the weapons, and exchange bullets to close the dispute.

—— One of the Fifth Regiment says: The other day at Antietam, just after we had changed front to meet the flank movement of the "gray backs," the latter bore down on us awfully. Our regiment was alone, and it seemed as if we should be swept away. At this moment the Colonel shouted, "Forward! Raise the war-whoop, boys! Forward!" giving us the example at the same time by shouting the Indian yell terrifically. We all took it up, and if the rebels never heard the Colonel's "Wild Indian" before, they heard it then, as we drove them back shattered and beaten.

—— A man was exempted last week, who, by the records of the shop in which he was employed, did 341 days' work during the last year. What constitutes an able-bodied man?

—— The new City Hall, which is to be erected in Boston next season, will be constructed of Concord granite, from the quarries on Rattlesnake hill. The building is to be 138 feet in length, 92 in depth, and the amount of granite required for its construction is said to be 60,000 cubic feet.

—— The gallantry of the Sixth N. H. Regt. is especially commended in the report of Gen. Cox, the commander of the Ninth Army Corps.

—— Hall Roberts, Esq., President of the State Capital Bank, Concord, died suddenly at noon, on Monday. He was about fifty years of age.

☞ The State Treasurer of California has paid the U. S. Assistant Treasurer on account of the direct tax levied in that State for National purposes, $63,000 in legal tender notes. The money was paid into the State Treasury in gold, and much indignation is manifested against the Treasurer for changing the gold for notes before settling with the U.S. Treas. The Governor formally protests against the State speculating at the expense of the National Government. It is thought the Legislature will disapprove of such financiering.

CRINOLINE AMONG THE ORIENTALS.—The French papers publish accounts of the expedition of M. Lambert to Madagascar. Its object being primarily the spread of civilization and toleration, the envoy took out for the princesses of that island an abundant stock of crimson robes, having skirts resplendant with embroidery, sent by her imperial Majesty. But the object of universal attention among the fair was the expanding crinoline, the only question being whether it should be worn above or beneath the dress. A French officer says that one of Radama's daughters decided on wearing the "cage" on the outside, and probably that will be the fashion in Madagascar.

A young woman, who had been bedridden seven years, and during that time had received five shillings a week from the parish of Guyzance, besides a great deal of private charity, was last week brought to the Union Workhouse, Alnwick. She demanded a nurse, butter and jelly at breakfast, and a pair of crutches; but on learning that Mr. Young, the master, had sent for the doctor, she suddenly rose, dressed, leaped over a stone wall four feet in height, and ran a quarter of a mile before she was recaptured.

☞ A correspondent with Gen. McClellan's army writes to the World, under date of Oct. 9, as follows:—

"Gen. McClellan's order in reference to the President's proclamation was read to the regiments on dress parade this afternoon. The troops cheered it, as they do everything from their General."

☞ At the celebration of the anniversary of a Sabbath school in Lawrence on Sunday, Oct. 5th, it was remarked that none of the children bed died during the year. Among those who took a part on that occasion, was a little girl seven or eight years old, who upon her return home, was taken suddenly ill of diptheria and died.

☞ The Commonwealth positively asserts that the late Mr. Hallet, after the breaking out of the rebellion, "was entirely convinced of the impossibility of putting an end to the war, and restoring the authority of the government over the seceded States, tills lavery should be abolished."

☞ The Secretary of the Treasury has taken the whole matter of the supply of the postal currency upon himself, and it is said that the issue will shortly be a hundred thousand dollars a day, which is four times the present amount.

☞ A friend in the United States army at Port Royal, S. C. sends us "The New South," a spicy little paper, published there by a yankee. The New South of October 4, contains President Lincoln's proclamation—speaks favorably of it; and heads it, "the Decree of Emancipation." About 4000 of these papers are printed each week, and of course some of them find their way back in the country, among people of various colors. The paper speaks in approval of Gen. Mitchell's system of education there; and remarks that the raising, by Gen. Hunter, of a "single black regiment, like the sowing of a dragon's tooth, springs up in a command for five" of the same complexion. A correspondent, evidently an officer, proposes, that besides the negroes employed by the General Staff as laborers, fifty or an hundred blacks should enlist in each white regment stationed there, for fatigue duty, care of the camp, carrying shot and shell, and other toils, whereby the soldiers might be greatly relieved, and made stronger for the battle. The editor of the New-South, Mr. Sears, is evidently a good classical scholar, and an elegant writer.

☞ The New-Orleans National Advocate of Sept. 29, has an article on money and business, dull and gloomy; seeing no prospect of improvement; fearing that the city must remain another year under the blighting effects and evils of war; and saying, "In fact it will require ten years to lead to only a commencement of a return to the high position our city once held."—"The specie of the South, or rather of New Orleans, is leaving weekly, and it apparently leaves nothing behind to represent it."

This picture is drawn by one who knows all about the matter; and it brings to view a remarkable change, and a fearful retribution, self-inflicted, within two years. In 1860, New-Orleans was the great southern mart, for the purchase and sale of cotton, sugar, flour and corn, pork and lard, imported goods and slaves: but now in 1862, her trade in any of these things is extremely small, and in most of them it is nothing. What is the reason? She went into the rebellion:—and now she is reaping these bitter fruits of it.

ENLISTMENT FRAUDS.—Mr. Robert O. Vosburg, of Barkhamstead, made a good financial speculation (if a gross fraud can be called "good,") in recruiting in Connecticut. He enlisted about 30 men n Hartford, sold them to another captain at $10 a head, got his own pay and bounty, and then enlisted as a substitute, selling himself for $450, got the cash, went into camp, ran the guard at night, went to Barkhamstead, procured the town bounty of $200, and then with a pocket full of rocks, he disappeared!

A CONTENTED PAUPER.—There is at Ward's Island a man about fifty years oil, gentlemanly and well educated, who came to this city from Scotland a few years ago with a fair supply of money. He put up at the Astor House, lived and dressed well, and received for a time ample remittances from the old country. After a while, however, the remittances ceased, and the man, having no trade or profession, and showing no disposition to work, gradually fell so low that he was sent to Ward's Island as a pauper. Here he is quite contented, and on Sunday last represented his fellow islanders by entering before President Draper a respectful protest against the recent withdrawal of fish on Friday. This seemed to be his only source of unhappiness.—N. Y. Post.

"ON CHANGE."

"The rank is but the "postage stamp."
—Burns (altered.)

What great change has come to pass,
In small change,
And all change,
Alas!
We hear no more the soft, melodious jingle,
Making the ears with rapture tingle,
That the silver coin repeat,
And ringing the changes
Has become quite obsolete.
In these eventful times,
Have we forever bid adieu,
To quarters, halves, and dimes,
For "postages," red, green, and blue.
Yet thanks to Heaven we'll not repine,
At anything
The war may bring.
At least we'll all of us grow rich,
For though our friends deceive us,
And other ills bereave us,
And fate upsets us in a ditch,
We know, sir,
That closer,
Than our brother man,
"Or any other man,"
Will our money now stick to us!
—N. Y. Sunday Times.

On a grocery store kept by a foreigner, at the South End, in Boston, may be seen a large canvass sign with this inscription—a curiosity in its way:—

"Butter
Fit for a Webster, a Choat,
A Clay, i, or a McClellan
At 12 to 17 cts. & tip top."

At a large fire at a celebrated pianoforte maker's, an instrument worth two hundred guineas was burnt; it was inlaid with mother-of-pearl and other costly decoration. "Dear me!" said a gentleman to the proprietor, "how was it they could not contrive to save that splendid instrument?" "Why," replied the proprietor, who, being insured, could afford the joke, "the reason was, that the engines could not play upon it, I am told."

BUY CALIFORNIA WINES.

They are the Purest!
The Best!
The Cheapest!

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine.

The Port has a fine flavor and body; and The Port is excellent because it is pure.

Tax Stamps.—We understand that Mr. John S. Harvey, of this city, has made arrangements with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington, to receive a supply of Stamps for sale to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity, for use on business documents of all sorts—as soon as they are ready, and ordered to be used here.

It requires quite an outlay of capital for this business—one each of the ninety-five different kinds of stamps required to be used, from 1 cent to $20, amounting to $196.53.

☞ Two boys, Arthur Rutledge aged 15, and John F. Horrocks aged 14, were brought before our Police Court on Tuesday, by Officer Johnson, charged with entering and robbing Mr. Critchley's store, last week. They were bound over in $400 for trial at the S. J. Court, and committed to jail. Mr. Johnson arrested one at Portland, and the other at Lewiston, by telegraph—and then went after them. None of the $40 stolen was recovered.

☞ A young man, about 18 yrs. old, son of Ephraim Staples, of Eliot, Me., fell in the Dry Dock at the Navy Yard on Tuesday afternoon, striking upon his head, and inflicting an injury to the brain, which it is thought may prove fatal. He was conveyed to the Hospital, and after the application of restoratives, was conveyed to his home on a litter.

A half hour later, another man fell from nearly the same place, injuring his side, not seriously, however.

☞ Lieut. Henry N. Metcalf, of the 2d New Hampshire regiment, has been raised to the rank of Captain, and taken command of Co. F. This promotion has been earned by hard service.

☞ Gen. Anderson, of Fort Sumter fame, is with his family at Henderson, Herkimer county, New York. His health is not yet restored.

☞ Secretary Chase is seriously ill, and has transacted no business at the Treasury Department for a week.

☞ Commander Beaumont had been ordered to the gunboat Sebago at Port Royal.

"Mamma, may I go a fishing?" "Yes, lad, but don't go near the water. And recollect, if you're drowned, I shall skin you as sure as you're alive."

A Curious Copartnership.—Two men named Sariol and Turban have just been brought before the Tribunal of Correctional Police, for being drunk and disorderly at Saint-Denis. Those two individuals had formed a partnership for the sale of four francs' worth of brandy at the fair of that place, and set out for the scene of operation with their stock in trade, which they had agreed to sell for four sous the small glass. On arriving at La Chapelle, Sariol expressed a desire to taste the liquid, but the objection was immediately made that he was only part proprietor, and that one-half of what he might take would belong to the other. "Oh, I perfectly comprehend that," said Sariol, "and in consequence I propose to pay you two sous for the glass, being your share of the value."—As Turban made no further objection, Sariol very gravely handed him over the two sous and drank the liquid.

Shortly after Turban, who had looked on the enjoyment of his companion with jealous eye, determined in his turn to regale himself, and accordingly handing over with perfect gravity the two sous to his companion swallowed a glass of thre bandy. But this see-saw process was repeated so often that when the two parties arrived at Saint Denis, their brandy was found to have dwindled away to almost nothing, they themselves were three-fourths intoxicated, and the total receipt of the day was only two sour. Turban could not by any possibility understand how four francs' worth of brandy should have been regularly sold, glass by glass, and that only two sous should be forthcoming to represent both the original capital and the profit. He therefore expressed the opinion that there must be something wrong somewhere, and he terminated by expressing doubts as to his associate's honesty. That impeachment led to a regular fight, followed by the interference of the police, and the arrest of the two partners. Tribunal condemned them each to a week's imprisonment.—Paris Gallignani.

☞ A gentleman from Harper's Ferry states that on top of a pillar of one of the churches, which was much battered in the Antietam fight, some man had written, in large letters, "The result of slavery."—Hundreds had written their names on the post below, endorsing the sentiment.

☞ Through the contributions of the people, in response to the appeal heretofore made, the Medical Department at Washington has been supplied with immense quantities of lint and dressing, and therefore no more are at present required.

☞ The New Orleans True Delta of the 23d states that the restoration of the civil law would commence that day by the opening of three of the six district courts.

Scarlet Fever.—The Rochester Union says that a poultice of common burdock boiled in milk, and applied to the neck of the patient, will cure scarlet fever. The earlier applied the better.

The Salve is used for the following diseases:—Burns, Bruises, Felons, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Boils, Scurvy, Chilblains, Sore Ears, Swellings, Nose, Ulcers, Lame Joints, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Ringworms, Sprains, Flesh Wounds, Erysipelas, Scalds, Stings of Venomous Insects, Piles, Bunions, Frozen Limbs, Nettle Rash, Sore Breast, Wens, Eruptions, Festers, Shingles, Cancers, Wallows, Tetter, Sides, Lame Wrist, and Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature, without leaving a scar. It will also cure pimples on the face, and beautify the skin.

There are thousands who are suffering for months and even years in consequence of Sores and wounds that might be cured in a short time by the use of this great external Salve, and have never failed to effect a speedy cure when properly applied. The Salve has none of the irritating heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses and heals the most serious Sores and Wounds. Every family and especially those containing children, should keep a box on hand, for it will save them trouble, suffering and money, and in many cases it has saved life itself. The manufacturer receives testimonials daily from some of our most distinguished citizens, expressing benefits derived from its use. This Salve is warranted to give perfect satisfaction in every disease that it professes to cure; if not, the money will be refunded.

McGREGOR'S PATENT

AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING

FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

We might refer to the following persons who are using the McGregor in this city:

Rev. Chas. Burroughs, D. D.; Messrs. Alfred W. Haven, Mark H. Wentworth, George Wentworth, J. K. Bartlett, Com. John Pope, Wm. B. Dwight, Mrs. Levi Woodbury. Also to Rev. Dan'l Austin, Kittery; Capt. Chas. H. Salter, Greenland, and many others.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Giles, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never met one bottle which failed of the desired effect and that full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Scald and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Bigelow, Lynn, Mass.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medical virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mr. Jno. F. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely known Gage, Murray & Co. stage proprietors of Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features, and became intolerable with pain. I had tried many things, taking a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptom of the humor that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Fowler, Houston St., New York.

"DR. AYER: I seldom fail to remove Erysipelas and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have never met a case in which of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnson, Esq., Hillsboro, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicine. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated or I must lose my life. My wife urged me to take two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am free as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monroe, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Tetter, Scaly Itch.

From Harvey Stickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tunkhannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. We tried nitrate of silver, nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear off the burning and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began using your SARSAPARILLA and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's appearance, which had run out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Rivers Shoot, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more efficacious remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER: My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effected in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know of any one who can place with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Vail, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, during which every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness,

are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require longer, as all of the SARSAPARILLA, the skilful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent adjunct of diet in my practice. Many cases of Irritability, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and I think it is first that did not, when its effects properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Lame Complaints, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia, when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this PURIFYING SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best they ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in the city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Drew, Jno. J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John R. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pindar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon, Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the best of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove to the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this city for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would say that about remodeling all stocks, buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass of from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke pipe or flue on the top of the zone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron M. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes —of the— MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

MATHEWS' ARNICA HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all disease.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

The Chronicle.

A star for every State: a State for every star.

Some of the St. John papers tell about the manner in which those afflicted with whooping cough in that city get cured. Some woman (probably a Yankee) took a donkey to that city and represented that those in trouble from the aforesaid cause obtained immediate and permanent relief by crawling under the animal's body. The afflicted rushed forward en masse to bow down to the new "golden calf," and she charging 12 1-2 cents for the operation, a respectable sum was realized.

☞ The pretty Jewess, Charlotte Werder, who sued for $10,000 damages for breach of promise, was accorded six cents and costs by a heartless New York jury.

☞ Dr. Orestes A. Brownson, on Friday last, was nominated for Congress by the Unionists, of the third district of New Jersey.

☞ The city of Thebes had a hundred gates, and could send out at each gate 10,000 fighting men and 200 chariots—in all 1,000,000 men and 2000 chariots.

Somebody has said—"Nothing is more dangerous than one engrossing idea. In its extreme uses it produces lunacy; in all others it disqualifies the judgment."

☞ The larger part of the inhabitants at Nassau are said to be descendants of old American loyalists, and thus to have inherited their dislike to us.

A quack announced in his handbills, that he could instantly cure the most obstinate "AGEWS," thus satisfactorily proving that he was no conjurer, and did not attempt to cure them BY A SPELL.

☞ Governor Buckingham of Connecticut has ordered a draft for eight hundred more men to fill up the regiments now organized in the State.

RICHARDS' NEW BOOT BLACKING.

This splendid compound is truly unrivaled in this or any other country for its shining quality and nutritious elements for leather, giving the boot an elegant yet black polish, quick and clean: an oil compound, rendering the leather soft and easy to the foot; strictly a leather preservative; will not dry in the box. Try it, Gentlemen, and you will be pleased with it.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions; also legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claim of any Patent furnished, by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but from its peculiar facilities, gives advantage for securing Patents, by ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THIS PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, enables him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical work, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in usuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, in all, but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part that he is recommended all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The Richmond papers admit a rebel loss of 3000 men and four pieces of artillery at Corinth. The rebel Gens. Nelson, Martin, and Moore, and Cols. Rogers of Texas, and Wiart Adams of Mississippi, are reported killed. The Richmond Dispatch says:—

The fight continued almost uninterruptedly during Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The slaughter on both sides is described as unparalelled. One of our Generals writes that Maury's division of three brigades will not muster more than one brigade. The enemy fought determinedly, and were maneuvered splendidly. Rosecrans commanded in person. Our army is perfectly safe, and no fears are entertained of its being followed by the crippled Yankees. The army is in the vicinity of Ripley. It is rumored that but one general was sanguine of success before the attack.

The divisions of Gen. Rosecrans, Stanley and Hamilton have returned to Corinth, where they are to be reorganized. Gen. Hurlburt was moving from Bolivar to Jackson.

A despatch from Gen. Boyle at Louisville, says it was generally believed that the rebel Gens. Bragg and Cheatham were both killed in the engagement on Wednesday nst near Bardstown.

The Memphis Bulletin says the Federal victory at Corinth has quieted all apprehensions of an attack on Memphis, and believes it will relieve all Western Tennessee and allow the Federal army to enter Mississippi and open the whole territory to commerce with Memphis.

A dispatch to Gov. Robinson, dated Danville, Ky., says that Bragg's army left Camp Dick Robinson, going south towards Lancaster. The Federals were in pursuit.

A rebel battery of four guns at Urbana, on the Rappahannock, was captured by our gunboats on the 7th, with the loss of one killed and seven wounded.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says there has been no fighting in Kentucky since the battle of the 9th inst. It is now believed that there will be none, decisive at present.

The various rumors that the enemy had appeared in force, 50,000 strong, at or near Centreville, are not confirmed. A refugee says there is no large force of the enemy either at Richmond, Lynchburg, Culpepper, Rappahannock or Bristow.

A rebel General, writing to the Granada Appeal, says that the crisis is upon Mississippi, and urges the State authorities not to rely any longer upon the Confederate government for protection, but to throw into the field their whole available force. The defeat of Buell by Bragg is a contingency that cannot be relied upon.

The Granada Appeal says that a regiment of Indians from North Carolina is now stationed at Cumberland Gap.

Southern papers report the evacuation of Jacksonville, Fla., by the Yankees, taking all the negroes they could get.

The Petersburg Express says the Union forces about Suffolk are estimated at 35,000, and says the rebel forces are so stationed that the invaders will meet with a desperate resistance whenever they attempt to come.

A private letter states that the rebels were crossing the Potomac at Hancock, in large force. Great excitement prevailed. A dispatch from Chambersburg states that heavy firing was heard all Tuesday in the neighborhood of Hancock.

The rebels are trying to escape from Kentucky. There was skirmishing on Tuesday, all along the lines from Harrisburg to Stanford.

THE RELIEF OF TEXAS.—A memorial has been submitted to the President by Gen. Walbridge and Messrs. Stevens, Lathrop and others, on the practicability of sending a Federal force to retake Texas, and the demand for a proclamation announcing the policy of the Government to be simply the restoration of the Federal Constitutional Government where it is subverted. The memorial says:—

"Recent advices inform us that if the loyal people of that section of country could be positively assured of the assistance of the Federal Government, large numbers would immediately flock to the standard of the old flag, who have been induced by misrepresentation to believe that the action of the United States has been undertaken to subjugate them and overthrow all their civil and political rights."

ROBBERY.—On Thursday night last, at Georgetown, Mass., a box containing $600, belonging to Mr. Richard Tenney, the postmaster, was stolen from the office. Deputy Sheriff Boynton traced it to a boy of ten years of age, whom he arrested, recovering nearly all the money. The balance he afterwards found in the possession of the boy's father, whom he also arrested.

☞ The draft in Massachusetts was commenced on Wednesday. Boston's quota is 2,739. 1,629 have been mustered in, leaving 2,169 to be drafted.

☞ Gen. Prentiss with 500 released Union prisoners, has arrived at Fortress Monroe.

NEW YORK POLITICS.—An immense Democratic meeting was held at the Cooper Institute Monday night. It was presided over by Washington Hunt and numerous others. Speeches were made by Horatio Seymour, John Van Buren, and Richard O'Gorman. Large numbers of outside meetings were also held in the vicinity of the building. It is estimated that over fifty thousand people were present.

GEN. SCOTT'S LETTER.—At a recent democratic meeting in New-York, Hon. Jno. Van Buren read a letter purporting to be written March 3, 1861, by Gen. Scott to Mr. Seward,—in which the general suggests four courses, as the only ways in which the president could proceed. 1. Adopt Mr. Crittenden's Compromise,—which he tho't would bring back the seceders,—but without it all the slave states would go out in 60 days. 2. Collect duties outside the rebel ports, or blockade them. 3. Conquer the rebel states by invading armies, hold them by arms, and have a dictator to rule them. 4. Let them go. The general don't suggest emancipation as a war measure. The letter will hardly make a ripple in the political waters now. It belongs to the past.

☞ The party in New York which preferred Gen. Franklin Pierce to Gen. Winfield Scott for the Presidency in 1852, have found it convenient to use the veteran hero now, in engeneering their submissive peace principles. A letter written by Gen. Scott to Mr. Seward (how came a letter to Mr. Seward, in such hands, to be made public?) was read at the Democratic meeting at the Cooper Institute, Monday.

TRUE DEMOCRACY.—Gen. Wilcox, in a speech at Detroit, said, "I am a democrat, and I say upon this issue, we democrats can grasp and join hands with the abolitionists. The war is crushing slavery, and will continue to crush it till its vitality is gone; and I cry, Amen! I go for the President and a killing policy. He is right, and I will stand by him as long as he carries the flag." So say Daniel S. Dickinson, John A. Dix, John McClernand, and hosts of others, who believe in the democracy of Jefferson.—New Bedford Mercury.

ELECTIONS.—Dispatches state that in Ohio, on Tuesday, Pendleton, (Dem.) was elected in the 1st district, the present member being re-elected. In the 2d district, Lang (Dem.) probably beats Gurley (Rep.) the present member. Returns from the other counties come in slowly. Vallandigham (Dem.) in the 3d district is probably beaten.

In Pennsylvania a great Union victory is confidently claimed. Mayor Henry, the Union candidate, was re-elected in Philadelphia, by a large majority. Thaddeus Stevens is re-elected to Congress.

Latest returns from Pennsylvania show 11 Union and 7 Democrats, elected to Congress. In Ohio Mr. Gurley is defeated for Congress. A dispatch from Davenport, Iowa, says Hiram Price, rep., probably elected to Congress from that district.

The Newark, N. J., city election has gone heavily democratic, as it did last year.

☞ Cunard steamship Asia arrived off Cape Race on Monday, with two days' later news from Europe. The shipment of arms and ammunition from England to America during the first eight months of the year, is valued at £308,000 and are said to be rapidly increasing. The New York correspondent of the London Times says under date of Sept. 19th that the resignation or abdication of President Lincoln is debated as a matter of course. An amnesty for Garibaldi and his followers was to be proclaimed on the 5th inst. through the intercession of the daughter of Victor Emanuel

☞ The elevation of Brig. Gen. McPherson to the rank of Major General, says the Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Times, is said to have in contemplation his appointment to the highest command in the Southwest, under the law authorizing the President to appoint to commands officers of the same grade, without regard to seniority. It is believed by those who have had opportunities for judging, that Gen. McPherson possesses very superior administrative and military qualities. He is a young officer, but has seen much service.

☞ John L. Hunter, a lawyer of Gardiner, Me., has been sent to Fort Preble for volunteering his advice to some enlisted men to leave Camp Keyes,

☞ The plague at Wilmington, N. C., is increasing in violence. The Jewish citizens of that place, now at Charlotte, have contributed $1100 to the relief of the sufferers.

☞ Secretary Stanton has telegraphed Gen. Tuttle to send no more contrabands into Illinois until further orders.

☞ Gen. Jeff. C. Davis, who shot Gen. Nelson, is still in confinement at the Galt House, Louisville, not being permitted to leave his room.

☞ By a boiler explosion at the State Almshouse, Tewksbury, Mass., on Tuesday morning, five persons were killed and seven injured.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Quartermaster John L. Kelly, of the 4th Regiment, who came home some time since, quite low from the effects of a fever, has sufficiently recovered to be able again to join his regiment, and he has left for his post of duty.

—— Lieut. A. W. Messer, of New London, Doorkeeper of the Council Chamber, has resigned his commission in the 11th Regt. on account of ill health, and returned home.

—— Hon. Allen Tenny, Secretary of State, is now absent on a trip to the West. The duties of the department are in the hands of Deputy Secretary Gerrish.

—— S. A. Walker sold on Wednesday last, the factory of the Nashua Watch Company, at Nashua, for the sum of $4,750.—Murray, Gay & Co. were the purchasers.

—— The Patriot states that on Monday, the 6th, as Mr. William Roby was ploughing on his farm in Northfield, one of his oxen suddenly stumbled and fell through a barrel which lay about two feet under ground, and which contained a human body. The body, which was that of a large sized man, appeared to have been buried several years, but much of the flesh still remained upon the limbs, and the hair was quite perfect. The body was taken in charge by the Chairman of the Selectmen of the town, and interred. No clue to the mystery has yet been discovered.

—— The matter of exemptions in this State is causing a good deal of pretty severe criticism. Some of the Surgeons are reported as passing upon from one to two hundred or more cases per day, and exempting the larger part of those who appear.—The Manchester Mirror says, "in New Boston 80 were exempted At Goffstown Centre, we understand, 16 stout looking men that worked in one shop went in, most of them for the fun of it, and 15 got exempted. In Mason, out of 150 liable to do duty by the enrollment, 90 got clear. From Hooksett, Hancock, Candia, and everywhere, we hear of the same ridiculous results." The Statesman says—"Exemptions have been given to persons whose ailments are "feeling tired after working hard," "sedentary habits," "leg broken in boyhood," and for even more trivial excuses. In one instance, three soldiers who have passed military examination, for the fun of the thing, dressed in citizens' clothes, and easily procured certificates of exemption. Another young man in perfect health, who, for mere amusement, asked for a certificate, basing his claim on no specific ground, was exempted because of partial consumption of the left lung, and chronic disease of the heart. These fearful ailments are a source of much amusement to this afflicted person. Such instances are but a few of the many mentioned. It is said that in some towns so many are exempted that enough do not remain to fill the quotas." These exemptions should all be set aside, and the draft made on the original enrollment.

☞ A boy twelve years of age, named Hurk, escaped from the Indian attack on a settlement near Lake Shetek, Minn., and carried and led his baby brother, two years old, sixty miles, to New Ulm, the nearest settlement. These "babes in the woods" were fourteen days making the journey, subsisting on wild fruit and roots. The mother of the children has since been rescued.

☞ Henry Higgins, a workman in the brass foundry at the Charlestown Navy Yard, was brought before U. S. Commissioner Merwin on Tuesday, on a charge of stealing about 150 pounds of block tin, worth $50. The case was continued to Saturday, and Higgins was held in $500 for his appearance.

☞ At the late session of the grand jury, at Fayetteville, Vt., the publisher of the Bellows Falls (Vt.) Argus, was indicted for publishing an obscene paper. The vote of the eighteen jurymen, in finding a bill against him, was unanimous.

☞ The War Department has received dispatches from Gen. Pope that the Sioux war is at an end. Little Crow has fled with a small party to the Yankton country, but a cavalry force has been sent after them, and there is no doubt they will be given up.

☞ The Land Secretary of Ecuador has offered to our government lands for the colonization of the negroes. The offer cannot be accepted unless coming through the government of the country.

☞ The friends of the Rev. Dr. Chapin will be gratified to learn that his recent tour in Germany has greatly improved his health. He and his family have recently returned to Paris.

☞ The Legislature of Oregon has passed an act requiring all persons having bills against the State, to take the oath of allegiance before they can be settled.

☞ The Monitor has gone to Washington merely to have her boiler repaired. She is not injured at all in her frame or armor. She will be ready for sea in three weeks.

☞ The rebel Brig. Gen. W. D. Smith, died at Charleston, S. C., on Saturday afternoon.

Local.

☞ Duprez & Green's Minstrels drew a full house here, Tuesday evening, seven hundred people or so filling all eligible seats or stands. And the concert was a good one, —hard to beat, of the sort, and well worthy patronage, as the crowd always votes concerning this long-favorite troupe. By the way, who said the war engrossed everybody's attention, and that a "house" couldn't be got out for any sort of a show? People, singly or in the mass, always have money enough, and time enough, to buy and enjoy what they really want.

☞ "The (Ass B.) Hutchinson Family" give one of their inimitable concerts at the Temple, to-night. Take it as you will,—praise or sneer—the Hutchinsons have been a musical institution for the people, and an astonishingly successful one, too, for about a quarter of a century; with scarcely a real rival for popular favor, in their own line and class. Asa sings a fuller, smoother, sweeter bass, "than when he first began," and has a "family" of his own to assist—though the originals rather excelled all the off-shoots, we think. Still, "the tribe of Jesse," even to the second generation, retains its popularity; and these concerts call out great houses, the tickets being put at the people's price of 15 cents. It is not easy to decide which entertainments are the "blackest"—those of the burnt cork Minstrels we had here the other evening, or the Hutchinsons. At any rate, somebody may have a chance to see, ere long, whether our Old Granite State friends have been correct all these years, in their song:

"Hurrah! Hurrah! Emancipation
Will be the blessing of this nation."

☞ At least four different kinds of 25 cent bills, or shinplasters, have been issued in considerable amounts, by associations or unions of merchants, and merchants and banks, in Portsmouth; besides small circulating checks on the banks, issued by individual depositors. Undoubtedly these are all good paper, and if not "as good as gold," it is only because the best of bank bills are worth relatively only about three-quarters as much as "the shiners," which rate at so high premium, and of which the public has so entirely lost sight and sound. These shinplasters, the like of which we last year so derided the rebels for issuing, in similar necessity as our own now, have been a great convenience to all, and a harm to nobody; and though generally regarded, all save the "check" form, as not authorized by our State laws, yet necessity knows no law, but must do the best it can. "When you can't do as you would, do the best you can," under the circumstances. And there will probably soon be issues for smaller amounts than "a quarter"; besides the new issue of currency postage stamps, and perhaps some similar use of the tax stamps.

☞ The Company of nine months' Volunteers, mainly recruited in this city by Messrs. Webster and others, have elected Isaac F. Jenness, of this city, Captain; Ammi Farr, of the N. H. Sixth, 1st Lieutenant; and Frank D. Webster, of this city, 2d Lieutenant—subject of course to the appointment of the State authorities.

☞ We learn that Asa Walker, son of Mr. Asa T. Walker, of this city, has recently received an appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy at Newport.

☞ We learn that Mr. Charles W. Martin, of this city, who was injured at the time of the late accident on the Eastern Railroad, has been awarded $40 in full, for all damages received.

☞ A desirable piece of real estate, near the City Farm, is advertised to be sold at Auction to-day.

CONSUMPTION.—Notwithstanding the many articles advertised to cure Consumption, we do not believe, when once fully seated in the system, it can be perfectly cured. But we do know of hundreds of cases where persons were supposed to be suffering under that fatal disease, who have become perfectly well and robust from the use of Spear's Sambuci Wine. Many times people for years waste and at last die from diseases of the kidneys or glands, when they were supposed to have, and were treated for consumption. A long-continued affection of the kidneys, however, may result in consumption. The Sambuci Wine used alone, or taken with a fresh raw egg, or new milk, daily, has been found to be an excellent remedy, and has the reputation in some places of rendering a perfect cure for consumption. —Medical Times.

Wm. R. Preston has procured some that is four years old.

From A. L. Fifield, a well known resident of Salisbury Point, late Postmaster of that place.

Mr. Grace, Sir: It gives me great pleasure to state to you that your celebrated Salve has been used in my family and among my neighbors with the greatest satisfaction. My customers praise it in the highest terms when they call at my store. They believe, as well as myself, that it is the most efficient preparation for the cure of external soreness yet introduced to the public. The sale of it here is increasing every day. In short, every family will have a box on hand, for it will save them trouble, suffering and money. May God speed you in your work and succeed your efforts in carrying relief to human sufferers.

Yours, &c. A. L. FIFIELD.

SCIENTIFIC AMUSEMENT.

"Care to our coffin adds a nail, no doubt,
While every grin so merrily draws one out."

Dr. Colton,

Who gave the NITROUS OXIDE Exhibitions in the COOPER INSTITUTE, New York, and TREMONT TEMPLE, Boston, which were attended by overflowing audiences of Ladies and Gentlemen, will give

NITROUS OXIDE

—or—

LAUGHING GAS!

MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 20th, 1862,

AT THE TEMPLE.

Sixty gallons of Gas will be made and administered. A strong railing will be erected around the Stage to prevent those who inhale the Gas from coming in contact with the audience.

Twelve stout men will occupy the Stage to protect those under the influence of the Gas from injuring themselves or others.

The effect of the Gas is to develope the most prominent traits of character. Some will LAUGH, SING, DANCE, DECLAIM, Etc., Etc.

The Gas will be administered only to gentlemen of the highest respectability. To an intellectual person, the sensations produced by it are delightful beyond all power of language to express.

TWELVE GENTLEMEN will inhale the Gas to commence the entertainment.

Dr. C. has administered the Nitrous Oxide, since 1844, to probably 10,000 persons, and by exercising great care in the selections has not had the slightest thing said or done which could offend the most fastidious lady. He will exercise the same caution on this occasion.

Dr. C. will be the first to inhale the Gas. Previous to its exhibition, Dr. C will deliver a brief lecture, explaining its properties and effects. Dr. C. will endeavour to conduct the exhibition in such a manner as to deserve the patronage (as in New York and Boston) of an intelligent audience of ladies and gentlemen.

Tickets, 15 cts. Two tickets for 25 cts.

Positively no bills changed for less than 4 tickets.

Doors open at 7. To commence at 7½.

McGREGOR'S PATENT

AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING

FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is

THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling-houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

We might refer to the following persons who are using the McGregor in this city:

Rev. Chas. Burroughs, D. D.; Messrs. Alfred W. Haven, Mark H. Wentworth, George Wentworth, J. P. Bartlett, Com. John Pope, Wm. L. Dwight, Mrs. Levi Woodbury. Also to Rev. Danl. Austin, Kittery; Capt. Chas. H. Salter, Greenland, and many others.

A NEW PIPE.—Mr. Robert Heneage, of Buffalo, has invented a pipe entirely upon new principles, and destined, in all probability, to effect a complete revolution in smoking. The editor of the Buffalo Express says that he has tried the pipe, and found it to be all that it promised. The tobacco in the bowl is lighted at the bottom, and burns upward. The stem is inserted in a cap at the top, which also has a chamber filled with cotton to purify the smoke. The contrivance is not complicated, but simple, and works to a charm.—Quaker Chronicle.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it fested her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which entirely cured her. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing such diseases as those of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it; and I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking two bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct. SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors. HANNAH DOWS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevents sleep by night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for Humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1839, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night, she had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." I. CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N.H., promptly attended to. MAY 26

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 5 Endicott Street, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience, unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of producing to the afflicted, with medicine that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, such as Pimples, Ulcers, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, pain and distress in the region of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Secondary Symptoms, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr Dow has also for sale the French Depotics, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail, three for $1 and 3 red stamps.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all disease incident to the female system, as Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Brag-don, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John R. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Findar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon; Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq. | Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, | Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, | John Sise, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes —of the—

MATHEWS Arnica HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammations are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter amazingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

A star for every State: a State for every star.

CULPABLE AND FOOLISH.—A young married man residing in Boston, whose wife is naturally nervous and timid, thought to have a little fun by suddenly frightening her. He accordingly concealed himself under the bed in his wife's chamber, while she was absent from the house. Upon her return she went to her room, when her husband putting his hand out from under the bed, seized her roughly by the leg. Supposing that it was a burglar, she gave a shriek, and fell senseless upon the floor.—At the last accounts it was thought her life might be saved, though it is feared that her mind will be shattered forever.

☞ Six rowdy young fellows of the colored persuasion, visited the fair of the ladies of the colored Methodist church in Hartford, last Thursday evening, and after indulging in boisterous language and disturbing the good order of the assemblage, became engaged in a general fight among themselves. This refined amusement cost them just $41.54 in fines.

Great advance in Railroad stock has been indicated by recent sales in Bath.—Shares in the Ken. & Port.—old stock—were sold at auction last week, and at another sale on Monday, an advance on the former figure was made of twenty-five per cent. The first sale was for ten, and the latter for twelve and a half cents per share —cash!—Portland Press.

☞ A foreign journal says the Austrian ladies have resolved to give crinoline a dead cut, and have intimated to the managers of the Vienna theatres that they will not patronise the house where the actresses wear crinoline.

RICHARDS' NEW BOOT BLACKING.

This splendid compound is truly unrivaled in this or any other country for its shining quality and nutritious elements for leather, giving the boot an elegant jet black polish, quick and clean: an oil compound, rendering the leather soft and easy to the foot; strictly a leather preservative; will not dry in the box. Try it, gentlemen, and you will be pleased with it.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch to the Cincinnati Commercial says a large portion of Gen. Curtis' army left Helena, Ark., some days since, ascending the Mississippi and disembarked at Cape Girardeau, Mo. Their destination is unknown.

Nashville (Tenn) papers of the 12th, say the Federals are concentrating a large force at Fort Donelson, and mean to clear that portion of Tennessee of the rebels.—The rebels are in full retreat in two columns toward the Cumberland river. There is no confirmation of the death of Bragg and Cheatham.

The report that the rebels crossed at Hancock is not believed at Harrisburg.

From Kentucky we have a doubtful rumor that Kirby Smith and his command had been captured between Lexington and Harrodsburg. Gen. Granger's advance occupied Paris, Ky., on Wednesday.

THE ELECTIONS.—The 12th Pennsylvania Congressional district gives Denison (Dem.) about 1000 majority over G. A. Grow—a democratic gain of 3000.

The returns from Indiana come in slowly. The Democratic State ticket is probably elected. The Democrats will have a majority in the House, but there will be a Union majority in the Senate. Official returns from 16 counties give 2000 Democratic majority.

Returns from nine counties in Ohio show a Democratic gain of 6000. The Democrats claim thirteen or fourteen Congressmen, and that the State ticket is elected by 10,000 majority.

☞ In the elections held this week it is possible that the Democrats may have gained a few members of the House, but the popular vote is the highest endorsement of the administration possible. There is nothing perfect in this world, and the government may make some mistakes—it would be strange if it did not; but it is evident that the people of this country are as well satisfied with "honest old Abe" as they were on the day of his election, and they mean to stand by him, and to lend all the aid he needs till the war is brought to a close. That is the verdict of these elections When the full returns are in, we shall be able to state definitely the loss or gain of each party.

☞ Postmaster Wakeman, of New York city, publishes a letter stating that the Postmaster General adheres to his instructions to Postmasters not to pass defaced stamps on letters,—but adds that there was never the remotest idea on the government's part of repudiating a single uncancelled stamp. On the contrary a plan is nearly matured for redeeming all that are out and have been used for currency, paying for them in the new postage currency. Our whole community will rejoice at the prospect of being rid of the stamps, although unquestionably they have served a very useful purpose.

☞ The Baltimore American now takes back its assertion that the name of the great battle field is pronounced An-te-tem, and says the accent should not be on the last, but on the middle syllable, thus—An tee-tam. So let it stand.

The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser says that a formidable naval expedition is now preparing to act against one or more Southern ports.

☞ The experiments with 15-inch Dahlgren guns at the Washington Navy Yard are satisfactory. It is not doubted that this species of ordnance will be made practically useful in naval operations.

☞ The city of Vicksburg is said to have sent in a bill of damages against the Confederate Government of $90,000 for allowing it to be bombarded.

☞ It was rumored at Memphis, Oct. 9, that Gen. Price's Adjutant had shot Gen. Van Dorn two or three days after the fight at Corinth.

☞ The Mobile Tribune says that that place will certainly be attacked by Farragut's fleet as soon as he gets ready for action, which may be looked for at any time.

☞ By order of Gen. Foster, an export duty of ten per cent. is levied on all cotton and hides shipped from Newbern.

☞ The New York city banks refuse to lend money on gold, the object being to put a stop to the speculation therein. They have also raised the margin on stock securities 25 per cent.

P. S. A later dispatch says that the above statement is at least premature.

☞ Prince Polignac, reported to be a bearer of despatches from Slidell to Jeff. Davis, was seen in New York on Wednesday.

☞ Ohio elects 11 Democratic and 5 Republican Congressmen, with two districts to be heard from.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Col. Mason W. Tappan, of Bradford, has been appointed to the command of the Sixteenth Regiment of nine months' volunteers. Rev. James Pike, of Sanbornton bridge, formerly member of Congress, is Lieutenant Colonel of the same regiment.

—— The Fifteenth regiment of nine months' men is full, and in camp. Some five hundred of the Sixteenth regiment have also gone into camp.

—— It is stated that arrangements for the construction of the new telegraph line from Boston to the White Mountains have been completed. The line is to run through Manchester, Concord, Plymouth, Woodsville, Littleton, and Profile House to the Crawford House, and will be completed to Littleton this fall. Col. J. W. Robinson of Concord, has been appointed Superintendent.

—— An official list just issued, gives the following New Hampshire officers who have lately been exchanged by the rebels: Capt. George A. Gerrish, 1st N. H. Battery. First Lieut. P. P. Bixby, 6th Regt. Second Lieut. E. M. Emerson, 6th N. H. regiment.

—— The 14th regiment did not leave Concord on Wednesday, as announced. They did not receive their Springfield rifles until Tuesday night, and the arrangements for their transportation were not completed.

—— Capt. Sewell A. Tilton of Co. B, 11th Regt., has been presented with a sword by his friends in Raymond.

—— Mr. Stephen Richardson of Raymond, while getting some cider into his cellar, was struck by one of the barrels, breaking his leg in two places.

—— The Concord Democrat states that the guns with which the Fourteenth Regiment is supplied are rather a poor specimen of firearms. It is to be hoped better ones will be substituted.

—— The 6th, 9th, 10th and 11th N. H. regiments are in General Burnside's army corps.

☞ A boy, 11 years old, stole $7 from his mother in Portland, a short time since, and went to Canada, where he agreed to live with a man residing in Sherbrooke.—He remained there, however, but a short time, and then ran away and returned home. The mother of the boy thereupon went to the City Marshal of Portland, and stated that her son stole $89 and ran away; but a man in Sherbrooke, with whom he had stopped, got it away from him. The man was accordingly arrested, but was discharged by the magistrate. The boy then admitted that his story was false, and that he was put up to it by his father-in-law and mother, who hoped to extort money from the man in Canada. Further inquiry developes the fact that the boy's father-in law enlisted at Manchester, N. H., got his bounty and deserted. The father-in-law is now in jail and will be sent to this State to fulfil his agreement; the boy is in the Reform School, and the mother will be sent where she belongs.

☞ A little boy named Kline, fourteen years of age, fell into a coal shaft at Macoutah, Ill., while scuffling with another boy. He was precipitated to the bottom, a distance of one hundred and fifty-three feet, but striking the water, was not injured beyond a thorough sousing. He was drawn out safely, ran home and changed his clothes, and in forty minutes from the time of the accident he was back again, as tho' nothing had happened.

☞ In Cleveland, Ohio, a boy of seventeen was accepted as a substitute for a drafted man, and received $200 bonus. He spent the money, and then obtained his discharge on a writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that he was under the age prescribed by law for recruits.

☞ A distinguished physician in Paris, Dr. Robert DeLambelle, announces that a shock of electricity given a patient dying from the effects of chloroform, immediately counteracts its influence and restores the sufferers to life.

☞ Lieut. Worden has entirely recovered from the injuries received during the engagement between the Monitor and the Merrimac, and it is reported that he will shortly be placed in command of one of the new Monitors.

An old lady was telling her grandchildren about some trouble in Scotland, in the course of which the chief of her clan was beheaded. "It was nae great thing of a head, to be sure," said the good lady, "but it was a sad loss to him."

☞ A gentleman from Charleston reports that the rebels have completed two formidable rams, and will probably have them in use in a few days.

CATCHING COLD.—Some people take cold easily. Howard Paul, in his amusing "Patchwork," tells of a delicate young man who kissed a lady's "snowy brow," and was laid up a week in consequence.

☞ There is reported to be great need of warm clothing at the New England Rooms in New York city, for returned sick, wounded and discharged soldiers.

☞ It is indignantly denied that Prince Salm Salm has been sent to Sing Sing.

☞ The Bank of England directors two or three weeks ago received an anonymous letter, stating that the writer had access to their bullion room. They treated it as a hoax and took no notice of the letter. Another more urgent and specific letter failed to arouse them. At length the writer offered to meet them in the bullion room at any hour they pleased to name. They then communicated with their correspondent through the channel he had indicated, appointing "some dark and midnight hour" for the rendezvous.

A deputation from the board, lantern in hand, repaired to the bullion room, locked themselves in, and awaited the arrival of the mysterious correspondent. Punctual to the hour, a noise was heard below. Some boards in the floor were without much trouble displaced, and in a few minutes the Guy Fawkes of the bank stood in the midst of the astonished directors. His story was very simple and straightforward. An old drain ran under the bullion room, the existence of which had become known to him, and by means of which he might have carried away enormous sums. Inquiry was made. Nothing had been abstracted, and the directors rewarded the honesty and ingenuity of their anonymous correspondent—a working man, who had been employed in repairing the sewer—by a present of £800.

THE SIGNS OF DRUNKENNESS.—Every one of the signs of drunkenness is a sign of depression. First of all, the face becomes unnaturally flushed, and the movements of the eyes unsteady; that is to say, the muscular coats of the blood vessels of the face are paralyzed, and then the muscles of the eyeballs are paralyzed; then the speech becomes thick—that means that the tongue is getting palsied. Later, the muscles of the trunk and limbs get paralyzed, and the drinker cannot walk nor sit upright, but sprawls upon the ground; and at last, if the doses of alcohol have been very large indeed, the breathing muscles get paralyzed, and death results.

The power of perceiving sensations, too, is uniformly and progressively lessened from the moment that intoxication begins, and the effects upon the mind are wholly of a paralyzing kind. First of all, the drunkard loses the power of coherent reasoning; then obliteration of ideas of time, space and locality ensues.

☞ On Tuesday afternoon, as an ox was being driven through Broadway, New York, he became excited, and rushing at Daniel O'Leary, pitched him a distance of ten feet, and was about to rush on him again, when he was secured by two of the police and taken to a slaughter-house.

☞ There is a very touching story now circulating of the handsome Ludwig, a Swede, who fell in love with his two pretty cousins at Drontheim, frankly explained his feelings to them, and all three became Mormons, and passed through Boston recently en route for Salt Lake City and polygamy.

☞ It is now stated that the iron-clad war vessels will not be ready before December, but plenty of river gunboats will be completed before that time. Several of our iron mills in Tennessee and Kentucky fell into the possession of the rebels, who secured the sheathing work which they were occupied in making.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer of the 11th says: "There are prospects of an early peace, which conclusion is founded on the results of the battles in Virginia and Maryland and the campaign now progressing.—The battle of Antietam was to the Federals the most terrible defeat of the war."

☞ State Senator Baker, of California, elected from Fuller county, last year, has been arrested by order of Gen. Wright, for uttering treasonable language in a public address. He and Assemblyman Kewen, recently arrested at Los Angelos, are now confined at Alcatraz.

Fifty-eight printers have volunteered for the war from Rochester, N. Y.

The printers are always ready for war. On the battlefields of Mexico, those whose duty it was to bury the dead, were surprised at the number of dead men having nothing but little steel rules in their pockets.—Amesbury Villager.

☞ Queen Victoria intends to carry on the model farm at Frogmore, which was established by Prince Albert, but the farms at Bagshot and in Windsor Great Park will be given up.

☞ A little child, in Maine, was so severely burst recently by falling into a fire, kindled in the field by itself and other children, that it died in a few hours after.

☞ The railroad between Moscow and St. Petersburg, Russia, has been in operation twelve years, and during that time not a single person has been injured.

☞ It is estimated that the cider brandy c.op of Connecticut, will this year equal in the number of gallons the wine crop of Ohio.

☞ One hundred thousand pounds of wool was lately sold in Farmington, Me., at 65 cents per pound.

☞ The present Judges of the Supreme Court of Vermont have been unanimously re-elected by the Legislature.

The young lady who promises one gentleman and then marries another, hasn't "the right ring" about her.

☞ Nowhere but in the "all sorts" of the Boston Post could the following originally appear:—

"It is said that Roscrans has surpassed Cæsar and Perry in the brevity of the announcement of his victory in Iuka. His dispatch was, 'I u-kered the enemy.'"

☞ At the thousandth birth-day of Russia, celebrated at Novgorod, the Emperor made a speech, declaring his intention to hold firmly to the course he has marked out in regard to the serfs.

LAUGHING GAS!

MONDAY EVENING, Oct. 20th, 1862,

AT THE TEMPLE.

Sixty gallons of Gas will be made and administered. A strong railing will be erected around the Stage to prevent those who inhale the Gas from coming in contact with the audience.

The effect of the Gas is to develope the most prominent traits of character. Some will LAUGH, SING, DANCE, DECLAIM, Etc., Etc.

The Gas will be administered only to gentlemen of the highest respectability, to an intellectual person, the sensations produced by it are delightful beyond all power of language to express.

Dr. C. will be the first to inhale the Gas. Previous to its exhibition, Dr C will deliver a brief lecture, explaining its properties and effects. Important to Females.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruation, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from the interruption of nature.

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and wherever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

are the most successful remedy ever known for all complaints peculiar to FEMALES. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Local.

☞ Business is tolerably brisk at the Portsmouth Navy Yard at the present time. The Colorado's topmasts are being sent up, and as soon as her machinery is replaced, and in working order, she will be ready for sea. The Ossipee,—a splendid craft,—is rigged, and her machinery is nearly ready to be tested, after which she will be fit for her sphere of action. The Sacramento, another model vessel, is fast approaching completion and will probably be equipped for sea-service in two months. The frame of the Sassacus (screw propeller) is nearly erected, and in course of a week will be ready for plating. It is "rumored" that as soon as she is launched she will be taken to New York for the purpose of receiving her machinery. There is probably no foundation for this report, as she can be finished at so much less expense at this Yard, that it would be more than an offset to the cost of transporting her machinery hither. The Agaminticus, which is to be iron plated, is being built on the railway, and is progressing favorably. She will be a queer looking craft when fininshed, with her rail but twenty inches above water, when in fighting trim.

Some persons get the impression that the workmen on the Navy Yard have no patriotism, and seek nothing but the attainment of their own selfish ends, but we will state, that, to our personal knowledge, during the months of August and September scarcely a day passed, on which from one to a half a dozen persons did not request their discharge for the purpose of enlisting in the army. Many left places where there was a good prospect of a long job, and when their services were much needed. Some even left wages of $2.00 and $2.50 per day to enlist as privates at $13 per month.

There are about fifteen hundred men employed on the Yard at the present time.

☞ George Francis Train, who said so many bitter things to the English people when in Great Britain, and who at the time was not seldom applauded on this side of the water, will speak at the Temple this evening on the "Rottenness of England." He has, during the past year, had his full share of public notice, and has been almost as frequently referred to in the newspapers, as any other person then on English soil. That it will be a matter of interest to many of our citizens to listen to him we have no doubt. Of him a contemporary says:—

There is always nerve and force—point, pith and aptness in what Mr. Train says, which carry great influence with a popular audience, and if he fails to convince, he instructs and interests. His boarest ardor, impulsive earnestness and broad philanthropy, are so conspicuous, that a laudable motive is always acknowledged as the source of his inspiration, if his purpose does not always command approbation.

"LAUGHING GAS."—One of the celebrities of the last season has been Dr. Colton, who has had the Cooper Institute, New York, and Tremont Temple, Boston, thronged nightly by the most fashionable audiences of ladies and gentlemen, to hear his lectures and witness his experiments with the Nitrous Oxide, or Laughing Gas. From the fact of Dr. C. being a regularly educated physician, the public have confidence that the Laughing Gas, as administered by him, will be productive of no unpleasant results. Persons under its influence, laugh, dance, sing, declaim, or turn somersets, as the case may be, with a perfect abandon. But as the gas leaves the subject very suddenly in a minute or two, he collapses equally as suddenly, and just at this point is "where the laugh comes in." Dr. Colton has arranged his prices on the most liberal scale, to suit all classes—and we may expect to see the Temple well filled on Monday night. Those who are so fortunate as to be selected by the Dr. as subjects, will get more than their money's worth.

☞ We regret to learn that Mr. Howard M. Jackson, of Jackson & Co.'s express, fell from the cars at the junction of the Eastern and C. & P. railroads near the depot in this city, a few days since, and received severe bruises about the head. He had been unwell for some days, and was probably somewhat faint at the time.

☞ Small vessels are now in great demand and pay better than large ones. Coal freights last year were $1 on a tun; now they are two dollars. Mr. G. V. Rowe pays the snug little sum of $500 for a charter out to the Potomac.

☞ Among the many articles now being shipped on board Sutler Rowe's schooner, lying at Long Wharf, are 100 barrels sweet cider and 200 barrels apples.

☞ Frederick Ward, the American who ranks high among the Chinese Mandarins on account of services in the imperial army, —who in fact is a Chinese prince, with a Chinese wife,—has offered Prince Kung to put down the rebellion in that empire, which has been in progress fourteen years, for ten million dollars.

☞ Wilkie Collins receives thirty thousand dollars from the publication in England and America of his novel—No Name.

☞ The draft in Baltimore was made on Wednesday. Only 64 were required to fill the city's quota.

McGREGOR'S PATENT

AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING

FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful, and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal. No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and sample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

We might refer to the following persons who are using the McGregor in this city:

Rev. Chas. Burroughs, D. D.; Messrs. Alfred W. Haven, Mark H. Wentworth, George Wentworth, J. P. Bartlett, Com. John Pope, Wm. L. Dwight, Mrs. Levi Woodbury. Also to Rev. Dani. Austin, Kittery; Capt. Chas. H. Salter, Greenland, and many others.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ James Ferguson and his wife had a cat-and-dog life, and she is not once alluded to in the philosopher's autobiography.—About the year 1750, one evening while he was delivering to a London audience a lecture on astronomy, his wife entered the room in a passion, and maliciously overturned several pieces of the apparatus, when all the notice Ferguson took of the matter was the observation to the audience: "Ladies and gentlemen, I have the misfortune to be married to this woman."

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

EYE, NAIL, Feb. 28, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for relief, with Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's Panacea, for curing various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it. Any one may refer to me as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Dr. Swett's Panacea, in curing such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prescribed, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct. SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1851.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors. HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1851.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to relieve me, until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, and that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1853. Dr. Swett:—Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which defied every other remedy, I send you this, hoping that it may be published widely and day. I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints. WM. P. LAVETT.

From ELDER I. CHASLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest or strength. Your medicine, applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to test quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISAAC CHASLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. May 20

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 and 8 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting to the afflicted, remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, pain and distress in the region of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Blotches, Frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible evil consequences attending the class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil foreboding, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow's tea also for sale the French Lozenges, warranted the most powerful. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 8 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system, such as Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppressions, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon a new and improved principle, and especially relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints of years standing, the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt, had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron boiler combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, so no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Bragdon, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John R. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pinder, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon, Charles Stimpson, Sittery, Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke pipe or flue on the top of the coal can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Rae, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes of the

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

MATHEWS' Arnica HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in matters touching the same. Models of the claims of any Patent, furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them anywhere. Testimonials below or from prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications EIGHTEEN APPEALS; EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. McClellan's army has made a forward movement. A reconnoissance was made on Thursday towards Winchester.—An engagement near Charlestown, mostly with artillery, lasted two hours, when the enemy fell back to hills beyond the town.—Our troops, under Gen. Hancock, entered the town about 12 o'clock. In the afternoon, the rebels were driven from the hills, and our troops at dark occupied a position two miles beyond the town. The main body of the rebel army was ascertained to occupy a position extending from Bunker Hill to the Shenandoah. Gen. McClellan arrived at Charlestown at 2 o'clock, and remained there during the night.

Gen. Humphrey's division crossed the Potomac at Blackford's ford, at daylight on Thursday morning, and advanced on Shepardstown. They were met near Shepardstown by a rebel force which opened upon them an artillery fire. As our force had no artillery with them, they retired across the river, having accomplished the object of the reconnoissance, and ascertained that the rebels were still in the same force at this point.

The Washington Star says that it is sure that Stuart reached Leesburg on Sunday and remained until Monday noon. But he moved off toward Winchester, fearing an attack.

The N. Y. Times' Charleston, Va., correspondent says he learns from the people that Jeff. Davis has issued a proclamation that all Union officers held and captured shall be put to hard labor if President Lincoln's proclamation is carried out.

We have various reports of disasters to the rebels in Kentucky, but it is thought, at headquarters, that Gen. Buell is pressing the enemy's rear sharply, and that these reports relate to skirmishes preliminary to a general battle.

The rebels were in large force near Nashville, on the 11th, and sent a flag of truce demanding its surrender. Gen. Negley declined. Our force is said to be ample for the defence of the place.

A steamer from New Orleans arrived at New York on Thursday, with $125,000 in specie. Col. Deming, of the 12th Conn. Regiment, has been appointed acting Mayor of New Orleans. Our gunboats had captured 1500 head of cattle at Donaldsonville, and were conveying them down the river when a rebel battery opened on them, killing 1st Lieut. Swasey, of the Scioto, and wounding several others.

Gen. Morgan has not been suspended from his command on account of his retreat from Cumberland Gap.

It is said Gen. Fremont is to be assigned to an important command Southward.

☞ The city of Notions is great on dodges. At the meeting of the Common Council, on Thursday evening, an order was adopted, making the bounty $200 for both three years' and nine months' men. The Commissioner is, by the letter of the law, only required to draft one man, between the hours of nine and five, on each succeeding day after the draft is begun.—As it is understood that advantage will be taken of this, to delay the completion of the draft until the experiment is tried of raising the quota by enlistments with the increased bounty, it is to be hoped that Boston will now succeed in raising her full quota, without any more games at blind-man's-buff, in Faneuil Hall.

☞ Thirty-one counties in Ohio give a Democratic majority of 17,800. Democratic gain over 28,000.

The Democratic majority on the Indiana State ticket is about 8000. The Democrats have elected five Congressmen, the Union men three, and three are doubtful.

In Pennsylvania, two very close districts have been carried by the republicans. In Iowa, five republicans are elected to Congress. In Nebraska, a republican delegate is elected.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Col. Henry O. Kent, of Lancaster, has been appointed Colonel of the 17th regiment; Capt. Charles H. Long, of Claremont, Lieut. Colonel; and H. W. Blair, Esq., of Plymouth, Major.

—— The 14th regiment is announced to leave this (Saturday) morning.

—— Adj. Thomas A. Henderson, of Dover, has been promoted to Major of the 7th regiment, vice Smith, deceased.

☞ A New York dispatch says the underwriters have advanced the war risk for vessels sailing in the track of the Alabama, to five per cent.

☞ Gen. Jeff. C. Davis, who shot Gen. Nelson, has been released, by an order from the War Department.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

THE REBEL STEAMER ALABAMA, or "290," continues her havoc among American shipping. She captured and burnt, lat. 40, lon. 50, Oct 3, the ship Brilliant, of New York, bound from New York to London. The ship Emily Farnum, Simes, of this city, from New York for Liverpool, was captured at the same time, but was released, it having been proved, by documents on board, that her cargo was on English account. The Brilliant, 839 tons, was built in East Boston in 1860. With freights and outfit she was worth $80,000. She was owned by Atkins & Co. of New York and Capt. Hagar, all of whose property was in her.

The Alabama has destroyed ships Brilliant, Oceanic, Benjamin Tucker, barques Virginia, Elisha Dunbar, Ocean Rover, brig Altamaha, schooners Courier, Weather Gauge and Starlight. Also a ship name unknown. One hundred and ninety-one prisoners were landed on the Island of Flores. The officers and crews of the Brilliant and of the Elisha Dunbar and the Virginia were placed on board the Emily Farnum.

The propeller Alabama is 1200 tons burthen, wooden vessel, coppered bottom, 210 feet long, rather narrow, painted black outside, carries three long 32-pounders on a side, pierced for two more amidships; has a 100-pounder rifled pivot gun forward of the bridge, and a 68-pounder on the main deck; has tracks laid forward for a pivot bow gun, and tracks aft for a pivot stern chaser. Her guns are of the Blakely pattern, made by Wesley & Preston, Liverpool, 1863. She is barque rigged, is represented to go 13 knots under sail and 15 under steam; can get up steam in 20 minutes; has all the national flags, but usually sets St. George's cross on approaching a vessel. Her complement of men is 120, but is anxious to ship more. She took her armament and crew on board near Western Islands from an English barque. Her crew are principally English, her officers being the chivalry of the South. All the water consumed on board is condensed. She has eight months' provisions besides what she has plundered, and about 400 tons of coal.

☞ It is said the banks of Charleston have $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 of counterfeit Confederate notes on hand, which they have received as good. There are said to be from $60,000,000 to $80,000,000 of such trash in circulation in the Confederacy. The Treasury Department at Richmond sent about $250,000 of this counterfeit money to Charleston, to pay troops with. The banks in all the Confederacy are offering large rewards for the detection of the counterfeiters. All the necessaries of life are at starvation prices in Charleston. Price of flour, $45 per barrel; tea, $8 per pound; sugar, $1.50 per pound; side bacon, 75 cents; hams, $1; bar of soap $4.50; candles, 25 cents apiece.

☞ The U. S. gunboat Mahaska, from off Wilmington, N. C., arrived at Hampton Roads on Thursday. She experienced very heavy weather, and lost one man overboard while securing an anchor. She reports that just before leaving Wilmington, the rebels opened fire from field pieces on shore on the gunboat Maratanza, killing a master's mate and one sailor, and wounding five men, two mortally. The Mahaska immediately opened on the rebels, who subsequently retired, although they were out of range of the Mahaska's guns.

☞ Of the 40 Maj. Generals in the U. S. service, over 30 are graduates of West Point. Banks and Butler are among the civilians. A very large proportion of the officers are or were democrats, and so are a good number of the private volunteers, but a very large majority of the latter are of the republican party—as a canvas of this State showed very clearly.

☞ At Sag Harbor, L. I., on Thursday, a sad accident occurred during a trial of the James projectile, in the presence of some French and Russian officers of artillery.—Owing to an accident or from carelessness, a shell exploded, killing one man and severely wounding four others.

☞ Godey for November has for its frontispiece, "Heavenly Consolation," a superb engraving. The Fashions in this number, contain six figures elegant in engraving and coloring. Marion Harland, a highly gifted writer, is engaged exclusively for the Lady's Book for 1863.

☞ The city of Buenos Ayres has been fearfully scourged with the small pox, which at last accounts was still spreading.

☞ Eleven deaths have already resulted from the explosion at the State Alms House in Tewksbury, Massachusetts.

☞ The Detroit Adv. says it is authorized by Gen. Cass to say that he does not endorse the president's emancipation proclamation, nor believe he has authority to issue it. Gen. C. was of Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet; but is not of Mr. Lincoln's.

☞ All the old rebel earthworks on the Potomac river have been destroyed or rendered useless.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TOBY.

Joshua Moodey—Marriage—Early Ministry—Ordination and Church Organization.—We find him laboring in his chosen field, two years, viz: from 1658 to 1660, before a vote of the town was taken for his formal establishment in the ministry. At the same time, viz. March 5, 1660, a vote was also passed to fit up the old chapel as a dwelling house for him to live in. This building stood on Pleasant street, a little to the north of the present Universalist church. His place of preaching, probably from the beginning, and certainly to the end of his ministry in Portsmouth, was the meeting-house which stood about three or four rods to the south of Pickering's mill dam, and which was voted to be built in 1657. The dedication services in that house were probably performed by him, but of this we have no record.

Mr. Moodey married Martha Collins, daughter of Edward Collins of Cambridge; the precise date we know not, but probably soon after the commencement of his ministry in Portsmouth. He had one son, Samuel, who was a Cambridge scholar, a minister at Newcastle and the Shoals, and afterwards a military commander in the Indian wars in Maine, commonly called Major Moodey. He had also three daughters, viz: Martha, wife of Rev. Jonathan Russell, of Barnstable; Sarah, wife of Rev. John Pike, of Dover; and Hannah. He had probably other children, whose names have not come down to us: and it is perhaps worthy of mention here, that Mr. Moodey has left no record of baptizing any of his children, but does record the baptism of some of his grand-children. His children were, however, unquestionably, all baptized—but we have no records of any baptisms at all by him till 1693, at which time he baptized a grand child. These supposed and unrecorded children doubtless died young, and with their mother, who did not live to be old, lie buried in Portsmouth, as he says, in the burying place there, under the great stone, by the side of the oak,—where he wished himself to be buried, had he died in Portsmouth. After the decease of his wife of his youth, he married Mrs. Ann Jacobs, of Ipswich.

Though Mr. Moodey commenced preaching in Portsmouth in 1650, and though he was regularly established in his ministry there in 1660 by a vote of the town, yet we find no church organized till 1671, nor any mention of his efforts to accomplish an object so important till 1670. But it must not be inferred from these statements, that he was indifferent or idle. The contrary is manifest. He was busy during these ten years, in preaching the Gospel as he understood it, and in living down whatever of prejudice might exist against a puritan minister, among a people, many of whom were said by Winthrop, in his journal, to be enemies to the way of our churches.

In Mr. Moodey's successful, as well as patient efforts to bring order out of chaos, and harmony out of discord, we see an admirable union of caution with firmness, and of patience with perseverance. The success of these efforts was made certain, and rendered more valuable, by Mr. Moodey's cheerful benevolence, and uniform Christian kindness, which were shed, like the impartial rains and dews of heaven, upon all within his reach. When he had statedly labored among his flock in word and doctrine for twelve years, then, and not till then, it was, that we find him in the latter end of the year 1670, and the beginning of the year 1671, delivering many sermons, as he states, on his views of the order and discipline of the House of God, and about the laws, ordinances, and forms of the house: "Of such high concernment (says he) did and do we account it to be, for the peace and edification of the whole, that both pastor and people should, in these matters, at least for the substance, and as near as may be in mere circumstantials also, speak the same things."

That is to say, in plainer language and more direct phraseology: There must be some forms of church regulations and ordinances, if we would have order. Mr. Moodey preferred that wherein he had been educated, viz: the Puritan Congregational. A portion of his flock, perhaps a large portion, had a similar preference for that of their fathers and their fatherland; while another portion, how large we know not, had no settled views of religion, and had paid little attention to the subject. The delay of twelve years, therefore, in which the able ministry and godly conversation of Moodey were melting and moulding the moral elements into form and comeliness, were by no means lost time. True, he could not be said to have built up his church in that time, but he laid the foundation broad, and deep, and strong.

At the end of this time the church was formed, and of course it was a Congregational Church. It could be no other. His noble ministry with his noble life for more than a dozen years in Portsmouth, was an epistle known and read of all men there, and understood in deed as recommending a Congregational minister to not a few who could never have been made to understand the difference between Episcopal and lay ordination. This is the proper place for me to say, as I do without hesitation, that sturdy conformist and puritan as we shall presently see Moodey to be, he would yet, had he been educated in the Anglo Episcopal Church, have made one of the best and most esteemed of Bishops.

As it was, the intellectual, social and moral strength of the man, under the guidance of Divine Providence, aided and sustained the minister, and established and consolidated the church.

The church was organized, and Mr. Moodey ordained its pastor on the same day, early in the year 1671. On this occasion the pastor, as it was then common among the puritans, preached his own ordination sermon, in presence of delegations from the churches in Cambridge, Ipswich, Rowley and Hampton. Mr. Cabot gave the charge, and Mr. Wheelwright the right hand of fellowship. The church appear to have voted for Mr. Moodey as pastor in public before the Council that day; and after this, public liberty was given to all the congregation to object, if they had aught to say.

The covenant of the church, which is yet extant, in Mr. Moodey's own hand writing, and which forms a part of the church record, shows conclusively that its members were, or professed to be, Trinitarians; but it does not show them to be Calvinists. Probably some of them were not. There is enough known of Mr. Moodey, however, through his publications and otherwise, to make it certain that he would have been called a moderate Calvinist, had he lived a hundred years later.

LAUGHING GAS!

Sixty gallons of Gas will be made and administered. A strong railing will be erected around the Stage to prevent those who inhale the Gas from coming in contact with the audience.

The effect of the Gas is to develope the most prominent traits of character. Some will LAUGH, SING, DANCE, DECLAIM, Etc., Etc.

The Gas will be administered only to gentlemen of the highest respectability, as an intellectual person, the sensations produced by it are delightful beyond all power of language to express.

TWELVE GENTLEMEN will inhale the Gas to commence the entertainment.

Dr. C. has administered the Nitrous Oxide since 1844, to probably 10,000 persons, and by exercising great care in the selections has not had the slightest thing said or done which could offend the most fastidious lady. He will exercise the same caution on this occasion.

Dr. C. will be the first to inhale the Gas. Previous to its exhibition, Dr. C. will deliver a brief lecture, explaining its properties and effects. LAUGHING GAS.

PORTLAND, Oct. 13th, 1862.

Messrs Editors:—I propose to visit Portsmouth and give your citizens an evening of hearty laughter, Monday, Oct. 20th.—My father taught me from my earliest childhood that whatever business I engaged in to remember this truth:—"A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold." I endeavor to conduct my entertainments in such a manner as to secure, from the best class of ladies and gentlemen, this "good name." There is no notice of my entertainment, which I have seen, that pleases me so much as the following from the Portland Press, referring to my 6th entertainment here, though the editor overestimates my merits:—

"Dr. Colton, the Laughing Gas Philosopher, will be welcomed back to Portland. There are very few men who leave a more pleasant impression upon the community than the quiet, unassuming Dr. A man thoroughly scientific, yet unpretentious, he does just what he agrees, and promises nothing that he cannot perform. It is only necessary to say that each exhibition has been an improvement upon its predecessor, to ensure a crowd."

I make it a rule to administer the laughing gas only to gentlemen of the first respectability. To an intellectual person, the sensations produced by it are delightful beyond the power of language to express.—A person will dance, sing, laugh, &c., not because he is compelled to do it by the gas, but because he feels so light, airy, happy, and independent that he chooses to do it.—He is entirely unconscious that he is acting under the exhilarating influence. He will neither do nor say anything improper, for he is conscious that he is before an audience of ladies and gentlemen.

The gas is perfectly harmless in its effects. I have breathed it myself at every exhibition I have ever given since 1844.—I have administered it certainly to 10,000 persons, ladies and gentlemen, and never had one who did not desire to breathe it again, as often as opportunity offered. The gas is not a stimulant, as there is no reaction or depression following its inhalation. It is composed of the same elements as the air we breathe, only instead of one fifth oxygen and four-fifths nitrogen, it contains one-third oxygen and two-thirds nitrogen. The exhilarating effects are due to the extra quantity of oxygen. Robert Southey said he could compare the sensation excited by it to nothing, but he supposed it to be "the happiness of the seventh heaven." Sir Humphrey Davy says of it, "he lives a year in a minute, and that minute is the seventh heaven." These exquisite sensations, however, are experienced by those having a high moral and intellectual organization.

I write this note merely to assure the citizens that on Monday evening I will do my best to deserve the commendation of the clergymen, published in my programme.—I send my advertisement with this.

Yours, truly, G. Q. COLTON.

☞ Of course nobody expects the "truly rural" editor of the Exeter Bawl at to do anything but growl, especially at this Chronicle, and at all celebrations or exhibitions held in Portsmouth. But when he says that we helped give the idea that the late Fair here was an official State affair, he tells as big a lie, as we should to say that he is a decent fellow, or that we expected better of him. As to "humbugging the public," of which he charges the Journal and Chronicle, we guess no editor ever did so much of that in this community, as one with 'em, for whose connection with the craft, the respectable members of the editorial fraternity have long had to blush.

☞ The Ballot talks about "hard times" with this Chronicle! Well, well! we do have hard work to take care of the always increasing and continually improving business in job printing and advertising, which crowds in upon us, especially in the present scarcity of workmen; but to judge from the Ballot's whinings about receipts, &c., "times" at the Chronicle office have probably been fully as "good" as with the Ballot: not to mention the consistence or "hard"ness of the editor of that paper.

☞ William Wells Brown, who is to speak at the Temple on Sunday evening was once a slave, but has been for several years last past a free man—and therefore can speak from experience on Emancipation. He was to speak last Sunday evening,—but the letter from this place, which should have reached him at Boston Saturday morning, did not find him till Monday noon.

☞ Not only are men getting scarce, but boys also are not very plenty. A boy is wanted to learn the art of printing, at this office—also, another, no matter if smaller, to do errands out of school hours.

☞ The "Sassacus," at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, will soon be ready for planking—not plating, as the types got it yesterday.

☞ How about drafting by Wards, now? We notice they don't divide the ballots in Boston.

☞ The Concert by the Hutchinson family, at the Temple on Thursday evening, was quite fully attended,—the audience consisting for the most part, of those who appreciate and enjoy their entertainments. That such persons did appreciate and enjoy their Concert was abundantly manifested by that better, if more silent manner, than burst of uproarious applause, which, to one who desires to bear his audience along with him in feeling and sympathy, is far more agreeable and pleasing.—Not that all agreed with them fully in sentiment, or looked forward so eagerly as they, to what they regard as the especially "good time coming." But the concert pleased and the hour passed away most charmingly. Of the different members of the troupe, we need not speak particularly. They are too well known—except perhaps, "Little Dennett" whom the ladies all pronounced cunning, and the gentlemen unanimously voted "a perfect little brick"—if one knows what that means.

☞ The Drafting Commissioner will hold sessions in this city on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday next, for the purpose of revising the enlistment rolls—not to commence the draft.

Residents of this city and of New Castle, who are from any cause exempt, must attend to the matter on one of the days above mentioned, as this will be the last opportunity afforded for proving such exemption.

☞ The Pay Roll at Portsmouth Navy Yard is all made out, but the draft to meet the same has not yet arrived. The Paymaster informs us that on his receipt of the funds, he will give immediate notice of the time of payment, through the Chronicle.

☞ Rev. A. J. Patterson will lecture, to morrow evening, if the weather is favorable, on the advantages of the custom adopted at the Universalist Church, of making the Sunday School the regular service of the afternoon. Lecture to commence at 7 1-2 o'clock.

☞ The funeral sermon on Mr. Bickford L. Rand, late of the 6th N. H. Regiment, will be preached at the Pearl Street Church, in this city, to-morrow afternoon, by Rev. Mr. Reed.

☞ Many thanks to our friend, one of the originals on the Chronicle list,—for that basket of delicious hot-house grapes, sent to "Uncle Toby and his co-editors," Friday afternoon, with a request for no public acknowledgement.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably, and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

Miss A. was among the loveliest of Portsmouth's fair daughters, and was an intimate friend of the young lady of the same age, whose death from the same fell disease, we chronicled but a few days since. United in life, they were not long divided by death; but are gathered 'mid the falling leaves and fading flowers of Autumn—to be transplanted where summer blooms eternal.

McGREGOR'S PATENT

AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING

FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal. No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the room is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above.

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is

THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

We might refer to the following persons who are using the McGregor in this city:

Rev. Chas. Burroughs, D. D.; Messrs. Alfred W. Haven, Mark H. Wentworth, George Wentworth, J. P. Bartlett, Com. John Pope, Wm. L. Dwight, Mrs. Levi Woodbury. Also to Rev. Danl. Austin, Kittery; Capt. Chas. H. Salter, Greenland, and many others.

THE UNITED STATES TAX.

We understand that the assessment of the Excise tax will be completed by the Assistant Assessors of this city within a week. Those who have not made themselves familiar with the law ought to be informed that it is the duty of every person and firm, liable to any tax, to make a list of taxable property, and return it to the Assistant Assessors. This has been done by many of our well informed citizens; and if it is not done the Assistant Assessors will wait upon those persons, and enquire as to the objects liable to pay duty, (such as carriages, silver ware, &c.) Any intent to defeat or evade the valuation of such property is punishable by a fine of five hundred dollars and cost of prosecution. If any list of taxable property is refused to be given, the assessor is required to ascertain upon the best information he can obtain such lists of goods or property, and he is thereupon required to add fifty cent. to the amount of items thereof; and the list so taken by the assessor, is to be the basis of tax from which no appeal exists; and a forfeiture of $100 may also be recovered from the party refusing or neglecting to give any list when required.

It would seem therefore that the better course is for every person owning carriages, silver ware above forty ounces troy, or billiard tables, to at once render a statement to the assistant assessor for his ward, of such taxable property.

There seems to be a desire evinced by Mr. Herling, the Assessor of this District, and his assistants, not to make the tax law by any means odious to our citizens, though they are under oath to faithfully execute its provisions; and we are glad to learn that in this Congressional Dist. and indeed through the entire State, and our neighboring State of Maine, there seems to exist among the people a commendable desire to be taxed; and a feeling that recognizes the necessity of the law prompting men of all kinds of former political opinions to express their readiness to contribute by equal taxation to the wants of our common country at this hour.

LATE MR. SUPPLY HAM.—We cannot without a comment part with one with whom we have so many years been intimately acquainted, and who has stood so well in the community as a good citizen. Mr. Ham was a man of good taste and refined feeling, of that sensitive kind which ever led him to decline any position which might bring him prominently before the public. For many years he was an active director of the Howard Benevolent Society, and cases might be mentioned where he was efficient in discovering and in rendering the necessary aid which has placed some in good circumstances, who were in a state bordering on starvation. No man was more attentive to his regular business or more prompt in fulfilling his engagements. For nearly forty years he might daily be seen in his shop on Congress street, where many besides his customers were pleased to call, and receive his cordial greeting. Yet he found time to gratify his love of the beautiful in nature, in the cultivation of the field and the garden.—The ripening fruit and the opening flowers were his delight. Although for two or three years he had been unable to appear in the business world, yet he could be seen through the summers daily in his garden, taking more delight in witnessing the progress of vegetation, than in the movements of the outer world—deep though his feelings were for the cause of his country. The primitive position of man seemed to be his love, and his garden was to him his Eden. A rare plant which had for 20 years been under his care brought forth its first flower but a few days before his death. Although nearly in the grave, he took much delight in viewing the flower, calling attention of others to it, and in forwarding it for others also to examine. After he passed away, wreaths of beautiful flowers fitly covered his coffin lid. They seemed to strew the way to that better land on which he has entered, "where fairer flowers than Eden's bloom."

HARVARD UNIVERSITY.—Rev. Thomas Hill, LL. D. for many years Minister of the Unitarian Society in Waltham, Mass., but for three years past President of Antioch College in Ohio, has been chosen President of Harvard University, and confirmed by the Overseers. The choice lay between Dr. Hill and Dr. Peabody, we understand. The difficulty of supplying satisfactorily the Professorship of Dr. P. probably determined the selection.

SCHOOL SHIPS.—The sloop-of-war Dale is to be turned into a school ship. The Marion, Savannah, John Adams and Macedonian, all sailing corvettes, are similarly employed, the emergencies of the service requiring that quite a large fleet should be devoted to that purpose. The Dale is one of the old fashioned wooden sloops-of-war, and will not be missed from the active roll of the service.

The Washington, N. C. New Era, of Sept. 25th, states that Capt. William A. Walker, of the 27th Reg't of Mass. Vols. is appointed Provost Marshal of that place. Capt. W. is a native of Portsmouth.

GOLD.—The North Star arrived at New York on Monday, with $800,000 in gold. That is worth a quarter of a million dollars more than it was before the war, and California is something now, which gold sells at 1.25.

Among the list of the drafted in Boston we notice the names of Samuel H. Gookin and Dr. David W. Cheever, formerly of Portsmouth.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1856. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the Rock Rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—it effected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine proved equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintance, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe pleuritic pain, and very much distressed me. A bunch got it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by smoking which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE H. SWETT.

The statement of my wife is correct. SIMON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 15, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's PANACEA, which has effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the best cure remedy in the world for humors. HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all my food. Nothing relief after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1855. Dr. Swett:—Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted with Salt Rheum, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure in my family, and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints. WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CUMMEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humors for many years. The first time visiting our home is the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her nominal rest by day or night. She had supplied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow worse till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CUMMEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may29-y

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 and 9 SANDIGOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting a remedy unknown to medicine that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impotency, Stricture, Strangury, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Pain in the Loins, Blotches, Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by this habit of youth are Weakness of the back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous irritation, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, reflect upon the future consequences, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your case. (Sent by mail or express.) Also the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most of these complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to the cure of the diseases of the Sexual Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cut iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Kaseroir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for lifting the dust and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expence of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Bragdon, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John R. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pindar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon; Charles Simpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the best of others We are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK,

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING AND AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some producing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes of the

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in staying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all druggists.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished, by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. Testimonials below or else prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past have enabled him to secure a late a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All business relative to a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on juste rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

On Thursday morning, when Gen. Hancock advanced his division to Charlestown, Gen. Woodbury's division crossed the Potomac at the Sheppardstown ford. He advanced his cavalry towards Smithfield, six miles from Bunker Hill, where the reconnoissance ended, the object being to ascertain where the main body of the rebel army was. There is said to be no doubt that the rebel Generals intend to give battle at or near their present location.

Advices from New Orleans state that the rebel steamer Blanche was chased ashore some six miles from Moro Castle, her crew setting her on fire and leaving. She was totally destroyed, with her cargo of cotton.

Gen. Schofield, with the advance guard of his army, has left Cassville, Mo., moving southward toward the Arkansas. Bragg, on Tuesday, with 40,000 men, was at Camp Orchard, Ky. He is speedily retreating to Mount Vernon. Kirby Smith was going out of Kentucky on the road to Manchester, Clay county, thence by the road where on Bragg is retreating toward Cumberland Gap. It is reported that the mountaineers are felling trees, and otherwise filling up the road over which the rebels must pass in order to leave the State.

The N. Y. Times dispatch says the impression prevails that the rebels have evacuated Martinsburg and the entire section of the country in that vicinity.

A letter in the N. Y. Herald from Cincinnati, 16th, says, the rebels are preparing to evacuate the Kanawha Valley, as they have supplied themselves with all the salt they could rapidly transport away. They have succeeded in obtaining an immense supply.

On Thursday evening, Gen. Sigel in person headed a reconnoitering party consisting of a portion of his body guard. He passed to some distance beyond Centreville. His headquarters are at Fairfax Court House.

The Louisville Journal has intelligence from Nashville that foraging parties from Nashville have of late been abundantly successful. The Journal also says that Bragg, in retreating from Camp Dick Robinson at Danville, Ky., has forsaken the strongest military position in that portion of the State, and worth, in natural and artificial strength, 30,000 men.

The rebels followed Gen. Humphrey on his return from his reconnoissance, nearly to Shepardstown.

The rebel steamer 290 has burnt seven more whalers and schooners.

By Telegraph, Sunday, to Messrs. Hutchings, Ilsley, and others.

It is rumored at Cairo that the rebels have attacked our troops at Island No. 10. No boat from Memphis has arrived at Cairo for three days, and it is feared there is trouble on the river.

Gen. Lee is at Stephen's depot, 5 miles west of Winchester; Longstreet is 10 miles above Winchester, and Stonewall Jackson at Bunker Hill. Before our forces entered Charleston, the rebels removed their military stores to Winchester Citizens of Charlestown say some one got a good round sum in gold for the surrender of Harper's Ferry.

Republicans, in three close districts in Pennsylvania, will receive certificates of election, though democrats may contest their seats. This will make Congressional delegation, 13 Republicans to 11 Democrats. The Republican majority in the Legislature, in joint ballot, will probably be 5 or 6. The Democratic state ticket is probably elected by a small majority.

☞ A Washington dispatch says it is believed at the Navy Department that several of our gunboats are in pursuit of the rebel steamer Alabama. This vessel has never been in American waters, but only in British waters or upon the high seas. This fact may lead to reclamations by our government upon that of Great Britain for acts of a vessel that has no stamp of nationality other than British.

☞ Boston's quota requires only 386 to complete it, not counting the drafted men. The bounty is $200, to three years' or nine months' men, and the Mayor is authorized to pay a sum not exceeding $100 for each volunteer transferred from the surplus of any other town. Judge Russell has agreed to draw only one a day, in order to give Boston time to fill her quota.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The American states that the Manchester police have arrested Harvey M. Colby, a deserter from Capt. Carr's company, 2d Regt. He deserted about a year ago, enlisted in the 43d Mass., and received a bounty. A few months ago he enlisted in the Navy. He offered the officer $100 to be let off, and said if that was not enough he would give him all the money he had. He had a large amount of money about him. He was delivered to the care of Col. Eastman, who had him put in the State Prison for safe keeping.

—— Lieut. O'Neil R. Twitchell of Milan, of the 5th regiment, was severely wounded at Antietam, and conveyed to a hospital at Chambersburg, Pa. The members of a Lodge there discovered that he was a Mason, and have provided for his wants with scrupulous care.

—— Diptheria is quite prevalent in Manchester, and is creating some alarm.

—— The Nashua Watch Factory, which was recently sold, is to be used as a Card Factory by the purchasers, Messrs. Gage, Murray & Co.

—— Some public spirited individual, with an utter disregard of private rights, poisoned four dogs with stryckninc in Exeter.

NET RESULT OF THE ELECTIONS.—The Democrats apparently gain two Congressmen in Pennsylvania, six in Ohio, and two in Indiana. In Pennsylvania the Republicans have probably elected their State ticket, while the Democrats have succeeded in Ohio and Indiana by heavy majorities. In neither of these States was the Chief Magistrate voted for, the election being for minor executive officers. Sufficient returns have been received from Iowa to indicate that all six of the Republican Congressmen are elected. The Republican State ticket is also elected by about 10,000 majority.—While many of the Democrats elected are submissionists, the majority are for the war, and some of them, particularly in Pennsylvania, were elected by the help of Republican votes.

GEN. CHARLES T. JAMES has died from the wounds received at the experiments which were making at Sagharbor, with the projectiles invented by him. The accident is said to have been caused by the carelessness of the gunner. Gen. James, in his early career, attained much distinction as a manufacturer and civil engineer, in Rhode Island. He soon removed to Newburyport, where the fine steam cotton mills in that city were constructed under his supervision, and one of them, the largest, bears his name. After that the well known Numkeag mill at Salem, and several in New Jersey, were designed and completed by him. Subsequently he returned to Rhode Island, having a handsome fortune, and was elected to the U. S. Senate. Some difference of opinion has prevailed among military men relative to the efficiency of his projectiles. At the bombardment at Fort Pickens they were pronounced a failure, but at Fort Pulaski a great success, surpassing all others. Recently Gen. James is said to have made improvements in them, which have removed all objections against their use.

☞ Some anxiety was felt on board the Saxon, which arrived at New York on Friday, for the safety of the steamer Matanzas, which sailed from New Orleans some days prior to the Saxon, in company with a Spanish steamer. The latter returned disabled, and nothing has been heard of the Matanzas. She had a number of passengers and a large amount of specie for New York.

THE GOLD SPECULATION.—It is current rumor on the street that one, at least, if not more of the large banks are participating in the speculation in Gold, not alone for the profit upon it direct, but by way of stimulating the price of United States custom house notes to importers (who are all compelled to have them) which they hold in large amounts for a rise. Other banks continue the pernicious practice of receiving gold on deposit, counting the same as if they owned it in their weekly returns, while lending in currency from par to 120 per cent. to the real owners and speculators on the gold at low rates of interest.—N. Y. Commercial Adv.

☞ A Mrs. Knowlton, of Knox, Me., drowned her child a few days ago, on the second attempt. The child was about two years old. She confessed the murder, but said she was compelled by an unseen power. She was discharged on the ground of insanity, but subsequently it was thought to be deliberate and wilful murder.

☞ Down about Fredericktos, N. B., the people are wild with excitement over the discovery of a bed of gold. The Bridgetown Reporter gives an account of the discovery on Friday last of an immense nugget of gold, valued at about $1000, at what are called the Ovens Gold Digging.

☞ The cargo of the ship Brilliant, destroyed by the rebel steamer 290, was British property. It was valued at $30,000 or $40,000.

GEN. CASS ON EMANCIPATION.—In Saturday's Morning Chronicle, we published the following item from an exchange:

The Detroit Advertiser says it is authorized by Gen. Cass to say that he does not endorse the president's emancipation proclamation, nor believe he has authority to issue it.

A loyal democrat complains of this as doing injustice to Gen. Cass, as we perceive it does, on looking at an extract from the Detroit Free Press, inserted at Gen. Cass' request. It says:

"In the few remarks he made upon the proclamation, Gen. Cass expressed himself favorably as to the views and intentions of the President, but observed that, in his opinion, there was no power in the Executive, under the Constitution, to decree the emancipation of slaves, — tho' as a war measure, when it became necessary, in the operation of our forces against the rebels, to free the slaves, it was competent for the President to direct it to be done."

The reader will see at once, that the omission of this latter clause, changed the whole meaning of what Gen. Cass said.—and made him appear to say what he did not say.

Really, Gen. Cass takes the ground of most loyal men, that the power of emancipation is a war power,—not derived from our Constitution, nor from any constitution, but from the necessities of war, and especially a war of rebellion where slavery is the main spring and great aid of the rebel operations.

☞ Edward Oaksmith, brother of Appleton Oaksmith, the escaped slave trader convict, has been arrested in Boston as a witness. The Journal states that he admits having had communication with his brother in reference to his effects there since his escape from the jail, but makes no further revelations.

☞ Governor Washburn, of Maine, has made the following nominations for Judges: John Appleton of Bangor, Chief Justice; Edward Fox of Portland, and J. G. Dickerson of Belfast, Associate Justices of Supreme Judicial Court.

☞ The Agricultultural Department has received gratifying intelligence from various sections of the country of the success attending the culture of cotton. Those from Southern Illinois are especially encouraging.

☞ Mrs. Real, who shot a man whom she claimed to be her husband in a store in New York, has been found guilty of manslaughter in the third degree, and sentenced to the State Prison for two years and six months.

☞ Gov. Curtin, of Pennsylvania, upon application to the War Department, has been authorized to permit drafted militia to become volunteers by changing their term of service from nine months to three years.

☞ Secretary Chase, who had been detained at home for a week past by physical infirmity, on Friday attended a meeting of the Cabinet, and also resumed the transaction of business at the Treasury Department.

☞ Col. Joseph D. Webster, Chief of Staff to Gen. Grant, has leave of absence for twenty days, to enable him to report on the subject of a ship canal from the Mississippi river to Lake Michigan.

ARREST FOR ISSUING SHINPLASTERS.—Mr. Edgar Holmes, of the firm of Holmes & Brother, bankers, of Lockport, N. Y., has been arrested by U. S. Commissioner Storrs, and held to bail to answer a charge of issuing shinplasters.

☞ In the Roxbury, (Mass.,) Police Court, Mary Webster of Boston, and Elizabeth Logan, with several aliases, implicated in numerous burglaries, have both been held for trial.

☞ Gen. Corcoran has declined the nomination for Congress. He will accept of no office until the rebellion is put down.

It is also said that Gen. Sickles has declined the Congressional nomination.

☞ Archbishop Hughes has lately received anonymous letters from Baltimore, threatening him with assassination for his Union sentiments.

☞ One of the New Bedford whalers destroyed by the Alabama was insured Thursday noon for $11,500—just in time to save her bacon.

☞ The fact that to send a dollar to Europe costs a dollar and a half, is beginning to excite attention.

☞ The result of the battle of Antietam, it is declared, has exerted a great influence in Europe in favor of the North.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—The house No. 10 Woodbury street, in this city, with the land attached, was sold at auction on Thursday last, by Joseph B. Adams, Esq., for $480. Jonathan Dearborn, Esq., was the purchaser.

H. F. Wendell, Esq., sold at auction on Saturday, house No. 65 Pleasant street, for $675, John Walker, Esq., being the purchaser.

Mr. Wendell also sold at auction about two weeks since, the cottage house No. 58 Middle street, with about an acre of land, for $2030 to R. K. Oxford, Esq.

WOULDN'T READ THE PAPERS.—A few days since, one of the hardshell persuasion, from the rural districts, was in this city, trading. One of his purchases amounted to about half-a-dozen dollars; and after he had roundly denounced "this abolition war," and stated, with emphasis in action and language, that he "wouldn't read any of the blasted war papers," he pulled from his pocket a twenty dollar gold piece, and paid his bill, passing the coin at par! As it was worth fully thirty per cent. premium that minute, the loyal dealer who gave him shinplasters in change, got doubly paid for his goods, and greeny had to suffer as all men must for wilful ignorance. Served the blower right, too, for his secesh sympathies, and the trader can well enlarge his contribution to the volunteer fund.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

Local.

GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN appeared at the Temple in this city, Friday evening, before a fair audience—a large audience, the price of tickets considered. We were most agreeably disappointed in him, our opinion having been formed mostly from the statements of the partisan Boston press, concerning him. For two hours and more, Mr Train held his hearers, every one of them, attentively in their seats—and all were sorry when he closed. We shall not attempt any report of his remarks,—but it was the most amusing and entertaining address we ever heard, and full of instruction and information also.

Mr. Train is the best orator we ever listened to—speaking entirely extempore and impromptu; one of the finest specimens of the physical man, and the best dressed gentleman, and most consummate actor we ever saw walk the boards. His address was an unique performance—there is nothing else like him, nothing to judge him by, or compare him with, hardly. As to manner, John B. Gough resembles him much—but Train far excels him in the humorous, and is a much more fluent speaker, while Gough perhaps is more pathetic and touching—though Train is an adept here also, and rendered several passages of poetry beautifully. Mr. T. has the great advantages of a finer personel and "presence," and we think is the easiest speaker we ever heard. During his long, earnest, and very rapid harangue, he touched no drop of water, did not so much as clear his throat, nor did he hoarse his voice a bit. Not to mention his talking politics, at the Rockingham, with new-found friends whom he delighted at his lecture, till the small hours.

He is addressing large houses nightly, and we hope to hear him again—though the fact that Mr. Guild (of the Boston Commercial Bulletin, who is conductor of the Train on this tour,) has declined upward of two hundred invitations already, renders it doubtful. His lectures on personal incident and observation, in his travels round the world, must be intensely interesting—and we predict the Temple would not hold all who would want to hear such an one.

Mr. Train we regard as the best possible personification of Young America, without the blase habits usually expected and found in that character. A self-made man, of the best habits and great attainments—we consider him a far better representative of the practical, available, reasonable American people, to-day, than many a one-idea speaker, in whose favor he is denounced.

If Mr. Train did not stop to prove all his statements and charges concerning "the rottenness of England," it may have been because it is hard for any train to run on several tracks at once; but he did tell a deal of wholesome truths, and denounced in good round terms, our countrymen's too-universal toadying to Old England. One or two items we must mention. As to "intervention," we, as well as he, are sick of that talk. Who ever heard of Uncle Sam poking his nose in England's outrageous wars? We never believed John Bull ever entertained the slightest idea of coming here; and if he does, let him "come on!" And then as to the great regard of the English factory lords for the negro slaves of our South—why don't they shell out, for the benefit of their starving white slaves, some of the fat dividends which those greater slaves have been all their lives putting into their coffers?

But, as we said at first, we couldn't and wouldn't attempt any synopsis, even, of such a speech. Those who heard it were lucky, and those who didn't, don't know what they lost.

Mr. Train, at the outset, invited the comments or questions of any Englishman or other person present, as to his statements. And in the course of his denouncing and ridicule of "the mother country," and praise and pity for Irishmen, he was several times interrupted by excited sons of Albion—by groans, and laughter, and more than once with, "that's a lie;" and quite an excited discussion at one time arose;—but was also most rapturously applauded by the audience generally.

But we have given all the editorial time and room we can spare to-day for that training, and must give our old correspondent Uncle Toby a chance, on another occasion, and leave, for now, George Francis Train and his especial scorn, "the aristocracy."

"BLACK" ENOUGH.—Tuesday evening, at the Temple, the Nigger Minstrels; Thursday, the Hutchinsons, always "black" enough for the blackest; Friday, George Francis Train, not very "black" himself, but thinking a "white man is as good as a nigger, if he behaves as well," he improved the occasion to say so; and Sunday night, "the nigga heself," Wm. Wells Brown.

☞ The Maine 23d regiment passed through this city, on Saturday forenoon, on its way to the seat of war.

LAUGHING GAS.—Dr. Colton will give his novel and exciting exhibition of the laughing gas this evening, at the Temple.

☞ All who didn't hear Mr. Train "train," will of course want to "fall in" with Dr. Colton's crowd to-night, at the Temple; and all who did get "illumined and exhilarated" by Train's "gas," will desire to finish up with Dr. Colton's laughing gas. Tickets only 15 cents, two for a quarter. See advertisement.

☞ Capts. Hagar, late of ship Brilliant, S. R. Tilton, of the barque Virginia, and David R. Gifford, of the E. Dunbar—which vessels were destroyed by the rebel steamer 290,—have published a card, in which they express their thanks to Capt. N. Parker Simes, of this city, of the ship Emily Farnum, "for the kind and generous treatment received by them while on board his vessel."

☞ Francis Bacon, Esq., is Acting Naval Storekeeper at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, during the absence of Lt. Col. Wentworth. Mr. Bacon is a member of the York County Bar, and was for many years Register of Probate for the county of York—Mr. Geo. W. Butler, for several years chief clerk in the Storekeeper's office, remains at his post.

☞ Mr. Henry L. Richards, of this city, of the U. S. Sharpshooters, is at present at Ascension Hospital, Washington, having received a flesh wound in the thigh.

☞ The following communication was made to the North Church by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Gage, at the close of the service on Sunday morning;—

"The past week closes the second year of my ministry with you,—two eventful, chequered years. I began them with that strong hopefulness, which the possession of perfect health gives: I end them with that despondency which an impaired constitution always brings. It is now just half a year since, after months of illness, I resumed my labors here. During that time I have earnestly devoted what energies were left me, to this field of labor; and yet, although I have been absent from this pulpit only three Sabbaths during these 6 months, and have made over four hundred pastoral calls, still it is but just to say that I have not accomplished what I hoped at first to do. This parish needs the service of an able-bodied man,—a man of unbroken physical health; and although too intense labor may have been the cause of my chronic infirmity, yet that forms no valid reason why I should try to sustain a burden, as an invalid, which no one but a man in the fullness of physical vigor is able to sustain. I feel that I am doing in a partial, halting way, what two years ago I was able to do fully and without fatigue, and it is my matured conviction that my duty and your interest require that I should withdraw from this field of labor, so soon as Providence opens to me some smaller field, where my physical infirmity, which I cannot now expect to wholly outgrow or outlive, may not stand between me and the full discharge of duty.

It is a painfully embarrassing position, to be placed where it is impossible to do in a thorough manner what the strict demands of that position require; and there is where I find myself to-day. Six months ago I supposed that I should some day be a well man: I have abandoned that expectation, and I take occasion to-day to state this, lest my resignation, — on which, ere many months, you will be called upon to act,—take you by surprise.

No one, of course, but myself can know the struggle which it has cost me to say this to you: but it lies in the way of my duty and of your needs, and must be said. I shall take a future occasion to express to you my grateful appreciation of your kindness and your esteem, for not a word has ever caused me to think that I have an enemy in this parish. Meanwhile may God bless you and take you into His holy care and keeping, and pour out his Good Spirit upon you, to enrich you, and strengthen you, and purify you, and make you worthy of His grace."

The ship at Marcy & Pettigrew's yard at the South End, commenced last year for R. D. Shepherd of New Orleans, it is said, has been sold to Messrs. Jenness, Daniel Marcy and others, and will be completed during the coming winter.—Ballot.

McGREGOR'S PATENT

AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING

FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above.

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

We might refer to the following persons who are using the McGregor in this city:

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Eder, a well-known merchant of Orford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never got one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Neh. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to the great number of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had so afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Dunreith, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known firm of Gage, Morrill & Co., manufacturers of cassimeres, resident in Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my face, and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form underneath the scurf, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I cheerfully recommend it to all without doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purity the Blood.

From Dr. Bohl, Schein, Houston St., New York.

"DR. AYER: I seldom fail to remove Erysipelas and Scrofulous Swellings by your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. K. Johnston, Esq., Wabenna, Ohio.

"For twelve years I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicine. The sleeve were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles and saved my arm. Two bottles more have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and is called the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Munro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for years, with the best effect. Nothing else has been with very benefit to results, and full confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Seeley, Esq., the able editor of the "Pathfinder" in Jersey City, N. J.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread, till they formed a complete mass of virulent sores, which covered his face and actually blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and burning wounds, which covered his face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the lotion as potent to us, as your direct. The sores began to heal, when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had fallen out, grew again, and his hair came healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that he would not live."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Hewan Stevenson, of Louisville, Kentucky.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic diseases than any other we prescribe. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an enlight physician of Lawrence, Mass., and late President of the Senate of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER: My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA all combined strongly the alterative basis of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I have no hesitation in saying it is my best dependence of success, when a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had suffered from a tumor on his neck, the effect of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy to which it was applied, until he finally purchased one of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and dangerous than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness,

are peculiarly produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this Sarsaparilla. Some cases, however, in all of the SARSAPARILLA, the skilful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. John Mason Good, of London.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of irregularity, leucorrhœa, suppressed menstruation, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when the disease is not of too long continuance."

A large pamphlet to follow the publication of her cure.

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very obstinate cough by your CHERRY PECTORAL. Hearing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this KEY SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they ever have done.

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of their wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every lover of good Wine, and those who use Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these!

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE!

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the cooking being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and set iron heater combined, by which the other of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water, also a large the warming closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, so as not can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

The Magee Cook Stove is not to be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Bragdon, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John R. Holbrook, Geo. W. Priest, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pinder, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon, Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas Jr Turton, Newcastle; and the list of others who are using them.

We invite all, first in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, mild and agreeable; and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former models, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The complicated cases being tighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney, without being consumed. This objection, so common in other furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes of the

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE,

with and without oven, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years, so bad as to be unable to go to school or her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended in vain for advice of the physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some four or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's for removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, intended with severe piercing pains, and about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the summer of 1845 to 1847 I had the good fortune to use Dr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and I swallowed two or three bottles of it, which I prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife's correct.

SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the Doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, with only a few medical cures, as I have had no use of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.

HANNAH HOWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1861.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. TOWLE.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1852. Dr Swett—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are affected as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me, and would add, that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. RAVITT.

From ELDER J. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to certify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with severe humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may29

Local.

For the Chronicle.

☞ Not for many years, says Uncle Toby, have we enjoyed such a feast of fat laughter as fell to our lot on Friday evening, at the lecture of Mr George Francis Train. The lecture was announced to be "on the Rottenness of England," and the orator made some strong statements on that subject; but the great burden of the discourse was the very curious and interesting autobiography of Mr. George Francis Train, who kept himself before the people for two hours, amusing them all the while, and enjoying the thing very much himself.

Mr. Train lost his father and mother at the time he was four years old; and was brought up by a pious grandmother, who lived in Massachusetts. His grandfather, a minister of the gospel, born at the south and inheriting slaves, freed them all, and came north to live on a salary of $300 a year. The grandmother taught the little boy that he must not drink wine nor brandy, rum nor gin,—must not chew nor smoke tobacco, nor use profane oaths; for, if he did, he would never be a great man. He wished to be great, and obeyed the injunctions to the letter. When about 18 years of age he went to Washington, and there found Webster, Clay, and other great men, doing exactly the same things he was told not to do. Nevertheless, he wisely followed the precepts of his grandmother, rather than the example of the great men; and the result was admirable: he became a merchant, ran a prosperous line of packets, and became very rich; went round the world for pleasure, in one of his own ships: then went to England and staid 18 months, in which time he established horse railroads in spite of great opposition, and had many odd adventures: and now he stood before us, a fine specimen of the physical man in middle life, appearing well able to "run through a troop and leap over a wall."

Of the lecture on England we need say but little, as it is the same in substance as his lectures elsewhere, which have been reported in many papers. In gesture, elocution, mimicry and sarcasm, he is at home and at ease: his rhetoric often good; logic entirely wanting.

In 18 months' residence in England "I discovered (says he) that England is all a sham;" her government, religion, army, navy, finance—all shams.—A pauper aristocracy, a pauper church, and institutions all pauperized.

He represented himself as feasting the aristocracy—and afterwards going down among the common people,—among whom he professes to have sown the seeds of revolt, so that the common people of England and Ireland will by and by rise and destroy the aristocracy or oligarchy which now governs them.

He told the working men of England—You build the cities, raise the food and do all the work, you pay the taxes,—but you never vote,—you hold no property—but the nobles and the oligarchy have it all, and they call you the people, the mob, and say you are nobody. He advised them to assert and maintain their rights to be somebody.

[It occurred to Uncle Toby, that this advice and these thoughts, addressed to slaves, either black or white, might possibly lead to a servile insurrection.]

Among the curious items, he gave a specimen, as he said, of English preaching,—which seemed mere caricature,—told us the English were not a military people and would not fight,—that one American would whip three Englishmen,—that Irishmen and Scotchmen did all the fighting, &c., &c.

He indulged in the expectation that he should go from this country with 10,000 Irishmen to liberate Ireland: denounced humility as hypocrisy; and praised self-esteem, self-confidence, and gas, as among the best qualities of human kind, claiming these all for himself.

He characterized the American people as the most modest in the world—and the English as the most superficial and arrogant,—but qualified the latter statement by saying he did not mean the common people, but only the aristocracy.

He was justly indignant at the building and equipment in England of the rebel craft which is now burning our whalers,—and almost in favor of a war on this account.

The audience was not very large, pretty fair for this year; but those present enjoyed the sport, and laughter and applause were freely indulged all round the house.

☞ The Bawl at fellow has two Tuesdays "within a week," sometimes. Guess there must have been a "blue Monday" preceding them. By the way, he'll be completely "stove up" this morning, won't he?

LECTURE AND EXHIBITION.—Dr. Colton announced last evening, that he would give a lecture at the Temple this afternoon on "How to Preserve Health," to be followed by an exhibition of the laughing gas. Ten ladies are to inhale the gas. Dr. C. stated that he was 49 years of age, and never saw a sick day—that he was the youngest of a family of nine children, all living—that his father reached the age of 98; and he proposed to state in his lecture to-day, how they had lived so at to attain such longevity. Such a lecture must prove well worth hearing. The admission is but six cents, to cover expenses. To commence at half past 2 o'clock. See the advertisement.

☞ The alarm of fire about half past 9 o'clock on Monday evening, was false.

☞ If the Manchester American can't find better selections, than copying the lies of the Exeter Ballot about this Chronicle and the late Fair here, it must be rather hard up for paragraphs, and we recommend it to use the scissors still more freely on our sheet. The American editor ought to know the statement was utterly false, that we ever endorsed the Fair as a State concern; and the Ballot man does know it—for both have our Daily paper in exchange.

☞ We advise all our readers to take a good view of the luminous stove advertisement on our "outside," to-day, for they'll never look upon the like again in that position. Messrs. Jones & Bolles have all faith in the Magee Stoves, (and so have lots of other people, as to that,) and they also believe there is no medium like the Chronicle for letting the public know their good qualities. But we do not like such huge advertisements well enough to repeat them, "pay" they ever so well. So read and ponder this well, as it is your last chance.

NO CHANCE FOR MARTYR-MAKING.—It is rather a good thing that the War Department transmitted to New Hampshire some twelve days ago an order for the liberation of Doctor Batchelder from his seaside dwelling—Fort Constitution. The place is a very pleasant one in clear and balmy weather, as all know who have visited it.

We repeat, however: the liberation of Dr. Batchelder, even from so agreeable a sea-side resort, is a good thing. If he had been incarcerated much longer, the Patriot would have gone into the martyr-making business, and the prisoner converted into a sort of Man in the Iron Mask, by whom to get democratic votes as the subject of Republican oppression. But that project is nipped. Batchelder was in limbo just long enough to make manifest the consequences of uttering sedition, and not long enough for democratic papers to get up a hue and cry over a very inconsequential citizen.—Concord Statesman.

McGREGOR'S PATENT
AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING
FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above.

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

the grate are far superior to those of any other stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up the ashes is entirely dispensed with. We venture to assert that no new stove ever introduced to the public has given such universal and unbounded satisfaction as the MAGEE COOK.

THE MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This Stove having been before the public for the last three or four years, and so extensively used in this city and vicinity, is too well known to need any recommendation. They have been somewhat improved and are made with and without ovens. Every Stove warranted, or no sale.

The above cut represents the MAGEE COOKING STOVE with the Extension top, Hot Water Reservoir and Warming Closet attached. This Stove possesses many advantages over every other yet invented, being heavier, having a larger oven, bakes quicker and requires "one-third less coal" than any other stove in the market. The fire may be kept day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense and trouble of re-kindling every day. For economy, convenience and perfection in baking it cannot be excelled.

Who has Used them?

We would refer to some families who are using the Magee Cook, in this city:

J. Woodman Moses,	John R. Holbrook,
Geo. L. Treadwell,	Henry L. Richards,
Frank Jones,	Geo. B. French,
George Bilbrook,	James H. Pindar,
James Shaw,	Joseph B. Upham,
John Teague,	Wm. R. Martin,
Wm. Cartledge,	Benj. F. Martin,
Mrs. John Lake,	James Bowles,
Tobias Ham,	Ira Dixon,
Wm. H. Laws,	Thomas Hones,
Chas. A. Hodgdon,	Wm. Critchley,
Samuel Gookin,	Oren Bragdon,
Marcellus Eldredge,	Martin L. Twombley,
John H. Piper,	John W. White.

Also to Isaac Joy, South Berwick; Benj. G. Parker and Chas. W. Parker, Kittery; Solomon Brooks and Alonzo Lane, York; Thomas J. Tarlton, Howard Curtis and Thos. E. O. Marvin, Newcastle; and many others.

These Stoves operate on the same principle as the Parlor Stove—are made either high or low, and are made expressly for Stores or Halls. We recommend them as the most economical Stove in use. They can be so regulated as to give any amount of heat required.

THE MAGEE FURNACE,

Which, for economy, purity of air, and ease of management, has no equal, producing a current of warm air moist and agreeable, and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache, so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated. The Furnaces consume all the coal and gas, making no clinkers. The sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 60 per cent. of fuel over common furnaces.

The above, and many other kinds of Stoves, and a general assortment of House Furnishing Goods, are offered at the lowest possible prices, at No. 61 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Successful cavalry reconnoissances have been made to Chantilly, Aldie, Middlebury, Uppersville, Thoroughfare Gap, Gainesville and Warrenton by Gen. Stahl, and two hundred prisoners have been captured.—Our loss was one killed and six wounded.

150 of Stuart's cavalry have been captured. They wore our uniforms.

Quantrell, with about 200 men, made a raid on Shawneetown, Kansas, on Friday night, burning the greater portion of the town, killing nine citizens, and carrying off all the horses he could find.

The guerrilla Morgan made a dash into Lexington, Ky., on Saturday morning, with 1500 men. Our loss is 6 killed and 125 prisoners, who were immediately paroled. 250 of our cavalry succeeded in escaping. Morgan soon afterward left Lexington, taking the Versailles turnpike, and on Sunday he was met by about 2500 of Gen. Dumont's cavalry, who, after a short fight, routed him, scattering his forces.

A Federal force on the Tennessee shore, opposite Island No. 10, was attacked by 400 rebels, under Faulkner, but owing to the darkness, the rebels fired into each other, throwing them into confusion, when they retired followed by our cavalry. Eighteen rebels were killed. Faulkner, 3 captains, and 13 privates were taken prisoners. Our loss was 2 killed and three wounded.

The Charleston Mercury Sept. 14, asserts that the rebels captured in the Cumberland river, opposite Canton, Ky., four steamboats laden with munitions of war and supplies for Gen. Buell's army. The cargoes were secured and the boats burned.

Gen. Negley's official report, dated 9th, states that Maj. Gen. S. R. Anderson, Brig. Gen. Forrest and Gov. Harris have been rapidly concentrating a large rebel force at Lavergne, 15 miles east, with the avowed intention of assaulting Nashville. A movement was therefore made against them on the night of the 6th inst. The rebels held their ground for 38 minutes, then fled in the wildest disorder, leaving 175 prisoners in our hands, among whom were two Lieut. Colonels and a number of line officers.—Their loss in killed and wounded is about 80. Our loss was 5 killed, 9 wounded and 4 missing.

☞ The N. H. Baptist Anniversaries were held in Milford last week, the Pastoral Association leading the way, and the Convention following. The latter body has had an organized existence thirty-six years. The next session of these bodies is to be held in this city.

BUSINESS LIKE.—The draft in Cincinnati was carried on quietly from first to last; no opposition was made to it, and no dissatisfaction expressed. Some of the Wards were exempt, having filled their quota by volunteer enlistments, and those which were not exempt have made liberal contributions to the fund for the benefit of those drafted.

☞ It is stated that the Charleston Mercury of the 6th inst. republishes with sincere commendation, and under its editorial head, the speeches of Hon. James Brooks of New York, and Mr. Schnabell of Pennsylvania, made at the late Seymour ratification meeting. It also announces with pleasure that at the next Seymour meeting Richard O'Gorman will speak.

☞ It is stated that Gen. Wadsworth, the Republican candidate for Governor of New York, during the Irish famine of 1847, loaded a ship with breadstuffs, from his private means, and sent her across the ocean.

☞ It is openly charged in Washington that army surgeons are constantly bribed to allow men to go, on the ground of physical disability, and that the army is rapidly growing less through the dishonest operation.

☞ Officers present at the battle of Antietam, state that not less than 15,000 of our soldiers dropped out of the ranks and fell to the rear while the columns were advancing on the enemy.

☞ Gen. Hooker, it is now reported, has recovered from his wound so that he is able to take the field. It is expected he will be assigned to an important command.

☞ The War Department consents that drafted men may have twenty days in which to obtain substitutes.

☞ Gen. Fremont passed through Indianapolis on Saturday evening, en route for St. Louis.

THE ELECTIONS.—Each day's dispatches give a new face to the result of the elections held last week. It is now stated that in Pennsylvania 15 Union Congressmen, including Bailey in the Sixteenth District, are no doubt elected. The State ticket is still doubtful, with the chances in favor of the Democrats. The House will, in all probability, stand 46 Union to 54 Democrats.—The Senate is 20 Union to 13 Democrats. It is generally conceded that there is a Democratic majority on joint ballot,—thus securing the election of a Democratic Senator.

In Indiana, the Democratic State ticket is elected by from 5000 to 8000 majority.—The Democrats have elected 5 Congressmen and the Unionists 4. The 10th and 11th districts are claimed by both parties. The democrats have elected a majority of both branches of the Legislature, which secures the election of a Democratic Senator for the vacancy occasioned by the expulsion of Bright.

Returns from 66 counties in Ohio give a Democratic majority of 18,000, being a Democratic gain of 50,000. The Democratic majority in the State will be about 12,000. The Congressional delegation stands about 14 Democrats and 5 Union.

☞ James Callender is now in jail at Lenox, Mass. under arrest for murdering a woman and two children, at Otis, several weeks ago. He is suspected from general bad character and residence in the neighborhood, rather than from any direct evidence. He is not the first person accused, however. When the crime was first described in the papers, it was added, that suspicion was fastened on four negroes, who were arrested; but on examination it was proved they were elsewhere, and they were discharged. In a few days an item went round through the papers, saying that one of them had confessed the crime, and that the four were re-arrested. In a week or two more it appeared this was utterly false; and now we record thearrest of a fellow, as likely as any one to invent or spread the false accusations.

☞ A Washington dispatch says the copy of the letter written by Gen. Scott to the Secretary of State on the day before the inauguration in 1861, published by John Van Buren, must have been derived from some source other than the State Department, since neither the President nor the Secretary of State have any knowledge of the way in which any communication to either of them from Gen. Scott could have got into the hands of John Van Buren.

☞ As it is impossible in foggy weather, or when the heavy swell following an easterly gale sets in, for the newsboat to board the English steamers off Cape Race, it is proposed, says the Halifax Sun, to anchor a light-ship in about forty fathoms water on the edge of the Grand Bank, about 60 miles from Placentia Bay, the light-ship to be provided with a steam-whistle and powerful gong, and to be connected with Placentia by a submarine telegraph cable.

SINGULAR FANATICISM.—A man belonging to Medford, Me., but at work near Moosehead Lake, recently cut off his hand. He had been intently reading the passage of scripture which says:—"If thy right hand offend thee cut it off." Placing his hand upon a log he cut it off just below the thumb, but not being satisfied, he struck with his ax again, and cut off at the wrist. This did not satisfy him, and he cut it off a little higher up.—Portland Advertiser.

☞ Portland is a fast city. A lady engaged a hack there the other day to take her to the depot on the departure of a regiment, she wishing to bid good by to her husband who had enlisted. The hackman was late, the lady was disappointed—the crowd got excited—and there was strong talk of mobbing the driver.

☞ U. S. steamship Release, from Cadiz for Boston arrived at Fayal Sept. 15th and by request of Mr. Dabney, our Consul at that port, sailed on the same evening for Cadiz to inform the Tuscarora and Kearsarge of the depredation of the pirate Alabama or "290."

☞ Gen. John A. Dix has been nominated for Governor of New York, by an organization called the Federal Union. A convention at the Cooper Institute in New York City is called for the 28th inst., to ratify the nomination.

☞ A Cincinnati dispatch states that Maj. Gen. John A. McClernand has been assigned to an important command of a special expeditionary character, and will take the field in less than twenty days.

☞ The N. Y. Times' dispatch says the Government is preparing a remonstrance addressed to the rebel authorities on the subject of their infamous treatment of our prisoners of war.

☞ Capt. William L. Hudson died at Brooklyn, N. Y., on Monday night, of apoplexy. He was about 70 years of age.—Capt. Hudson commanded the Niagara when she was employed in laying the Atlantic cable.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The rebel flag which the 5th N. H. regiment captured at Antietam, on the 17th of September, is a magnificent, large, dark-blue silk flag, with handsome centre, painted representing two females, one holding a pod of unripe cotton, and the other a staff and liberty cap in her left hand, and a scroll, on which is inscribed, "The Constitution of North Carolina," in her right hand; below, "4th Regiment North Carolina Volunteers." Color Corporal George Nettleson seized the colors and brought them off, although badly wounded. The same regiment shot down the color-bearers of battle-flags of other regiments opposed to them.

—— The Manchester Union says it is probable that a draft will be made in some 35 towns in this State.

—— One night last week, the house of Dr. Hatch, in Hillsborough, was entered by a burglar, who passed through six doors, three of which were closed, to his bedroom, took his coat, pants and vest from a chair by his bedside, and passed out the back door. Then having rifled the pockets of about $40 and some papers, he left the pocket book and departed, without disturbing any one about the premises. The same operator probably perpetrated a similar crime on the premises of Dow Wyman, and secured a considerable sum.

—— The Claremont Eagle mentioning the death of a soldier from that town in one of the hospitals, says that he is the 27th soldier from Claremont that has died since the commencement of the war.

—— Gen. Solomon McNeil, aged eighty-five, died at Hillsborough on the 9th inst. He was connected with every grade of the militia of the State, and was a brother of the late Gen. John McNeil, who married a sister of Ex-President Pierce.

—— The Manchester American says one of the strongest, healthiest, and most stalwart mechanics in that city was exempted last week on the ground of "general debility." His fellow-workmen, being desirous to present some evidence of their appreciation of his courage and patriotism, have provided him with a splendid wooden sword, and a pair of tin shoulder-straps.

—— Mr. Henry White, of Wilmot, owns a cow which is well worth owning. She gave forty-one and one-half pounds of milk at two successive milkings, and made fifteen pounds of butter the first week in July.

—— Mr. James Leonard, of Upper Gilmanton, who wrote a letter expressing his indignation at being rejected by the mustering officer of the 12th Regiment, has enlisted once more, and passed muster. He attributes his success on the second trial to an old coat and hat. The first time he wore broadcloth.

—— The Statesman says it is understood that it is the intention of Gov. Berry that hereafter no regiment shall leave Concord for the seat of war on Monday morning.

—— A little girl, while at play in Manchester a day or two since, tipped over a harrow, which was standing upon its edge; it struck her left arm, breaking both bones; And on Friday, a little boy about 9 years old, also at play, fell out of a wagon and broke both bones of the left arm.

—— The 14th Regiment left Concord for the seat of war, on Saturday.

—— On the arrival of the 12th regiment at Washington, the French rifles with which they were armed, were inspected and condemned, and Springfield rifles furnished instead.

——Dr. Towle of Newmarket has been appointed Assistant Surgeon of the 15th.

THE BOOK OF DAYS, parts 7 and 8, we have received from J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. These numbers include the days from March 17 to April 14, and give a vast amount of curious and interesting matter concerning them. For sale by J. H. Foster. Price 20 cents per number.—A rare book.

THE REBELLION RECORD, No. 23, is finely illustrated with portraits of Generals Kearney and Stonewall Jackson. The diary is brought down to April 8, 1862, accompanied with a vast number of valuable documents, etc. The value of this publication can scarcely be over-estimated.

THE CONTINENTAL MONTHLY, for November, has been received. It is now published in New York, and has a strong corps of editors. The political department is controlled by Hon. Robert J. Walker and Hon. Frederic P. Stanton, of Washington: Chas. G. Leland and Edmund Kirke are the literary editors. The latter is the author of "Among the Pines."

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY, for November, contains a story by the author of the "Queen of the Red Chessmen," which was published in one of the early numbers of the magazine. "The Conversational opinions of the leaders of secession," and "How to choose a rifle," are articles of much interest at the present time.

THE LADY'S ALMANAC, for 1863, has been published by George Coolidge, Boston. This beautiful and convenient little annual is now well-known and highly appreciated. For sale by Joseph H. Foster. Price 25 cents.

☞ The United States Marshal of Connecticut has instituted an opposition to the issue of shinplasters in that State.

☞ Gen. Neal Dow has been assigned to the command of Pensacola and the adjoining district.

☞ The Grenada Appeal of the 13th ascribes the rebel defeat at Corinth to the drunkenness of Van Dorn.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

☞ We always take it as a favor, if subscribers will inform us immediately, when their papers are missed, or if delivered by others than our regular authorized carriers, or not strictly in accordance with our patrons' orders or desires.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper.

ADVERTISING ABROAD.—For the accommodation of merchants and others of the citizens of Portsmouth, we are ready at all times to forward Advertisements for insertion in any papers in New Hampshire, Boston, Maine, or elsewhere,—at the publishers' lowest rates. Apply at the Chronicle Counting Room.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

"Care to our coffin adds a nail, no doubt,
While every grin so merrily draws one out."

Dr. Colton,

Who gave the NITROUS OXIDE Exhibitions in the COOPER INSTITUTE, New York, and TREMONT TEMPLE, Boston, which were attended by overflowing audiences of Ladies and Gentlemen, will give

of the
NITROUS OXIDE
—or—
LAUGHING GAS!

Sixty gallons of Gas will be made and administered. A strong railing will be erected around the Stage to prevent those who inhale the Gas from coming in contact with the audience.

Twelve stout men will occupy the Stage to protect those under the influence of the Gas from injuring themselves or others.

The effect of the Gas is to develope the most prominent traits of character. Some will LAUGH, SING, DANCE, DECLAIM, Etc., Etc.

The Gas will be administered only to gentlemen of the highest respectability. To an intellectual person, the sensations produced by it are delightful beyond all power of language to express.

TWELVE GENTLEMEN will inhale the Gas to commence the entertainment.

Dr. C. has administered the Nitrous Oxide since 1844, to probably 10,000 persons, and by exercising great care in the selections has not had the slightest thing said or done which could offend the most fastidious lady. He will exercise the same caution on this occasion.

Dr. C will be the first to inhale the Gas. Previous to its exhibition, Dr. C will deliver a brief lecture, explaining its properties and effects. Dr. C. will endeavour to conduct the exhibition in such a manner as to deserve the patronage (as in New York and Boston) of an intelligent audience of ladies and gentlemen.

VOL. 21. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. WEDNESDAY, OCT. 22, 1862. NO. 69.

The Chronicle.

A star for every State: a State for every star.

They are telling a good story in Troy, as follows: It was rumored that a gentleman, known to be a loyal citizen, had a secession flag flying from his house. Of course a tremendous hue and cry was raised, and an excited party started for the premises. On reaching the house, it was found to be a lady's balmoral, that had been washed and hung from a back window to dry. The husband avowed his determination to stand by that flag as long as he lived, and the effervescent crowd exploded and disappeared.

☞ On Saturday, Mr. John A. True, employed in the steam mill at the ship yard of Mr. John Currier, Newburyport, had his thigh badly broken. They were hauling a stick of timber with oxen, when the chain slipped and struck his leg, breaking the bone and severely bruising the flesh.

☞ An officer expressed the wish to Mr. Stanton to be appointed to command the body-guard of some General. The Secretary replied: "Sir, General Halleck tells me that the only body-guard he ever had was a terrier pup."

☞ A Mrs. Burns, 96 years of age, living in Augusta, Me., one day last week, gathered and put into a cellar, 150 squashes, and received a dollar for her day's work.

☞ A letter from Jacksonville, Fla., 12th, states that the rebel steamer Gov. Milton was captured by an expedition up the river.

☞ Prize money amounting to nearly $400,000 has been recently ordered to be distributed.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

It was rumored on Monday that the rebels were evacuating Winchester.

The Times' correspondent at Aldie, writing from headquarters of Gen. Stahl, 17th inst., says reinforcements have arrived and an advance will be made from this point as soon as men and horses have a short rest.

The burning of a schooner on the lower Potomac, lately announced, with the destruction, as it was supposed, of all on board, proves to be an act of rebel piracy. She was seized by them in the night while at anchor in the stream, and the crew made prisoners and the vessel fired.

The Richmond Dispatch of Oct. 16, say: "We infer that the Federals will soon make a desperate effort to force their iron-clads past Drury's Bluff. Forewarned—let us be forearmed."

Gen. Schofield has established his headquarters at Elkhorn Tavern, Ark., and telegraphic communication is completed from Gen. Curtis' headquarters at St. Louis to that place. Gen. Schofield reports that the enemy are making for the Boston Mountains.

All of the rebel bands in Missouri seem to be endeavoring to make their way out of the State in the shortest time possible.

2000 rebels are reported to be threatening Caseyville, Ky., the presence of two of our gunboats alone preventing them from taking possession of the town.

Mr. Train is a very strong protectionist,—and in his lecture here, he contrasted the well-paid factory hands in New England, with the poorly paid hands in England. In his lecture at Portland, as reported in the Press, he repudiated the idea of free trade, and went in strongly for such a protective tariff as would exclude all British manufactures from this country. He stated that the South introduced the first protective tariff, under the auspices of Mr. Calhoun, in 1816, and favored the doctrine of protection until 1832, while the North, up to that time, was opposed to it. In 1832 the aristocrats of England, he said, sent George Thompson over to this country to introduce a bone of contention that would divide the North and South. Up to that time the North had favored England and the South had opposed her. Here Mr. Train said he was, perhaps, encroaching, and he would say nothing upon the African question unless the audience wished him.—The audience told him to go on. He then alluded to the mission of Thompson to this country and the effects of it, and wound up by telling what he was going to do, viz: 1st, "Knock the bottom out of old England." 2d, "Smash the abolition party."—He declared that at the next election in Massachusetts he would route the whole abolition party in that State.

☞ The Times' dispatch has the following: A gentleman who left Culpepper county, Va., last Wednesday, says rebel conscripts are pouring constantly into Winchester. Seventeen negroes were hung there on the 11th inst., charged with organizing an insurrection against the whites. The conspiracy, our informant says, is supposed to extend throughout several counties, and the greatest excitement and fear of an outbreak among the negroes prevail. Two thirds of the slaves in Virginia have already heard of the President's Proclamation. Copies of it were found among those who were executed.

☞ Gen. Scott has furnished to the press a copy of a letter, written early in 1861, when that to Sec. Seward, already made public, was also written. This letter establishes his patriotic anxiety to prepare for the coming storm, and his earnest and repeated efforts to prevail on the government to garrison and secure the Southern forts against every possible attack. He failed, through the indecision of President Buchanan.

☞ Passenger statistics show that within nine months 17,000 persons have arrived by sea at San Francisco in excess of departures. These, in addition to a large number of overland immigrants, make the increase of population more this year than since 1852. The overland immigration to Oregon and Washoe this year will amount to about 5,000.

☞ U. S. steamer Marblehead, at Port Royal, reports seeing on the 12th inst., U. S. steamer Quaker City on the shoals at North Edisto. A storm prevailed at the time, and the general opinion was that she would break up.

☞ In the U. S. Court at Albany, N. Y., on Tuesday, the law against the issue of shinplasters in the States, was declared unconstitutional.

☞ A half dozen ships are loading at San Francisco with wheat for Liverpool. Others are doing the same for China. California is becoming a great corn country.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer of the 17th has the following items:—

"The good people of Charleston, S. C., have had a celebration in their city,—baptised a marine ram, or ladies' gunboat, built there.

"As Congress has failed to make any enactments in regard to martial law, it follows that it has no longer any existence in this Confederacy, and any attempts to continue martial law in any form or disguise, is in derogation of the law-making power of the Government, and in defiance of the Constitution.

"Our Southern Confederacy is sadly afflicted with the dishonest postmasters, especially in North Carolina, as the non-receipt of subscription forwarded by mail to newspapers, testifies."

Gen. Prentiss, who has recently come back to Washington, from being a prisoner to the rebels, has been complimented by a serenade. In response, he graphically described the scene through which he and his fellow soldiers (taken prisoners at Shiloh) passed in the land of Dixie. He said he had cause to use harsh language when speaking of the demons of the South, whose conduct towards our troops was characterized by murder and barbarity.

Large Robbery.—Charles Sutter, a Swiss watchmaker in the employ of William Kirkham, jeweler, of Springfield, on Friday night drugged the clerk who slept in the store, by giving him morphine in cider, and afterwards chloroform, and then robbed the store of $7000 worth of goods, with which he made off. Officers, on Saturday night, caught the thief at a hotel in North Blandford. The stolen property was all recovered.

☞ On the 8th of July last, a party of nine men started from the Palo Alto mines, in Arizona, for California. When they arrived within two miles of Apache Pass, 13 miles from the mines, they were attacked by Apache Indians and all murdered. When the bodies were found by Gen. Carleton's command, there were evidences to satisfy them that one of the victims had been burned at the stake.

☞ Vera Cruz letters give a different account of the state of affairs in Mexico from what the French papers have published. Juarez is far from giving up the contest, and is preparing a desperate resistance to the French. The city of Mexico is strongly fortified, and the road from Orizaba will be defended by inches.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says Vallandigham was defeated for Congress by 1000 votes, but he carried his old district by 700 majority, while the tables were turned against him by a county strongly republican that had been added in the new districting.

☞ Senators are this year to be chosen in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, and the Legislatures are democratic in each. The loss of Ben. Wade, in Ohio, will be seriously felt by the Republicans, but that would not be so bad as the election of Bright in Indiana.

☞ The New York papers state that "the residence of Dr. S. P. Townsend, corner Fifth avenue and Thirty-fourth street, was sold at auction to Mr. A. T. Stewart, for $126,611."

☞ Mr. Dabney, U. S. Consul at Fayal, has chartered the Portuguese brig Acasco to proceed to Flores and convey to Boston the prisoners captured by the rebel steamer "290."

☞ The Germans of San Francisco have subscribed $1000, and ordered a golden laurel-wreathed eagle, set with diamonds, as a testimonial to the prowess of Sigel.

☞ Yellow fever has made its appearance in several towns of Texas. At Sabine Pass, at the latest news, there had been 25 deaths from it. Most of the people had fled from the place.

☞ According to the belief of experts, the rebel guns at Wilmington, N. C., which were fired at the Maratanza, were of the Armstrong make. They threw shells over the vessel after it was more than four miles off.

☞ Commissioner Boutwell says, in respect to the tax on coaches, that it was clearly the intention to tax each carriage of a livery stable keeper separately, and irrespective of his license.

☞ Gen. Fremont arrived at St. Louis on Sunday. He is there as a witness in the McKinstry case and may be detained several days.

☞ Acting Admiral Porter being requested on Sunday to co-operate with Gen. Curtis in certain matters down the Mississippi, replied from Cairo in twenty minutes that his movement had commenced.

☞ Some one broke into a Canadian bank lately, and carried off a big keg of —coppers. It would be a prize in this country.

☞ The Clyde steamer Iona, said to have been purchased by the rebel agents in England, has been wrecked by collision with another steamer in the Clyde.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Harlem Terrace, Oct. 14.

Dear Chronicle:—During the last Mayoralty canvass in New York, I gave you a letter of incidents in the private and political life of Fernando Wood, alluding among others to the ship-swindle in which he was interested. A late newspaper item announcing the court decision in this case, the wide-spread celebrity of Wood, and the probability that this notable will soon again be in the political arena as a candidate for our congressional halls, has prompted me to collate some of the most prominent features in the above mentioned affair, for the interest of your readers.

Wood's partner in this transaction was a gentleman named Marvine, a man of good business capacity and reputation. It was in 1848, or the commencement of '49, that the proposal to unite in some commercial enterprise was first made by Wood. Marvine was prevailed upon to enter into the copartnership by forged letters purporting to come from a resident of California, setting forth the great advantages that were to result from the enterprise, and Wood furnished the vessel—one which he had purchased the year before for $4300. He presented to his dupe a bill of sale, in which the price of the vessel was set at $12,000, and on these representations he paid for his half-share a cool $6000.

A week after the bark sailed, Wood sent in invoices of the cargo, footing up a total of about $30,000, and on these figures a settlement was effected.

But "murder will out," and ere long, on examination, it was discovered that the bills had been changed—the figures erased and altered, as for instance, from $130 to $430, $75 to $375, $500 to $568. Marvine commenced suit and an indictment was found, but not till three years and some hours after the act. The limit of the law is three years, and so Wood succeeded in getting the indictment quashed, not that it was not a true bill, but because it was found twelve hours too late. On the failure of the criminal, a civil suit was brought, and this finally given to three referees, in Nov. 1851. One hundred and sixty days were consumed in taking testimony. Witnesses were brought from California and China, and in 1855, more than four years after, the referees reported against Wood. From this he appealed—was beaten—appealed again, and again was beaten, and still the case was carried up, till now, nearly fifteen years after the original fraud, the highest tribunal has fully and finally sustained the former decisions; and during all this time, no man in the country has been so successful as Fernando Wood, in all his political efforts and intrigues; indeed, so continuous has been this success, that many regard it as utter futility to attempt his defeat or the frustration of his plans.

There is but little doubt that he will secure the nomination, and in that case still less, that he will be elected one of our Congressional Representatives.

I was an interested spectator of a beautiful panorama during my trip up the river homeward, one day last week.

A large fleet of vessels were gliding swiftly up the river on a fair wind and tide, one craft following the other, so closely that steamboat navigation was seriously obstructed. I counted on the river, between the city pier and Hell Gate, the entrance to the Sound, ten ships, over one hundred and twenty schooners, and ninety sloops, besides a host of yachts and small sailing craft; and if you add to these the three beautiful palaces,—the Sound boats, a hundred little tugs, puffing and splashing, the multitudes of ferry boats which ply from shore to shore in a dozen different lines every few minutes, and the steamers which run regularly to various points on the river, bay, and sound, you can then form some idea what an intricate network navigation presents on a river but a trifle wider than the Piscataqua opposite your city.

It was one of the most beautiful scenes I have ever witnessed. The splendid Sound steamers, on their Eastern transit, crowded with many passengers, the ships, schooners, and diminutive pleasure craft, their sails filled by the evening breeze, rocking from wave to wavelet, and the swiftly setting sun gilding all with its molten gold. Yours

Newington.

Out of the Frying Pan into the Fire.—Several young men from neighboring towns, in order to escape the much dreaded draft, shipped on board the barques Virginia and Elisha Dunbar. They are now on board the rebel steamer Alabama!—New Bedford Mercury.

Different sorts of patriotism: Some esteem it sweet to die for one's country; others regard it sweeter to live for one's country, and yet others hold it sweeter to live on one's country.

An exchange paper speaks of Governor Sprague as the only Democratic Governor of New England. Gov. S. never was a Democrat.—Boston Post.

Men are born with two eyes, but with one tongue, in order that they should see twice as much as they say. The same is also applicable to boys and women.

Rank and fashion may be all very fine in time of peace, but rank and file must have precedence of them in time of war.

☞ The following decision has been made by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue:—

"The phrase 'kept for use,' employed in reference to silver plate, is constructed to except silver which is in the possession of families, or its members, as souvenirs or keepsakes. The plate properly taxable is that which has been purchased for the use of the family, or has been presented to the family as part of the household furniture, and as such is kept for use, whether for ornament or actual service."

A Request.—Each and every person who is indebted to The Chronicle or The Gazette office, for newspapers, advertising or job printing, is hereby desired to settle the same as soon as convenient. And all having claims, to present them.

GRACE'S CELEBRATED SALVE!

A Sure Relief for the Sufferer!

This Salve is a vegetable preparation, invented in the 15th century by Dr. WM. GRACE, surgeon in King James' army. Through its agency he cured thousands of most serious sores and wounds that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians of his day; and was regarded by all who knew him as a great benefactor. The Salve is used for the following diseases:—Burns, Bruises, Felons, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Boils, Scurvy, Sore Lips, Sore Ears, Swelled Neck, Ulcers, Lame Joints, Chilblains, Chapped Hands, Ringworms, Sprains, Fresh Wounds, Erysipelas, Scalds, Stings of Venomous Insects, Piles, Bunions, Frozen Limbs, Nettle Rash, Sore Breast, Weak Eruptions, Festers, Shingles, Cancers, Whitlows, Itch, Sties, Lame Wrist, and Sores and Wounds of the most serious nature, without leaving a scar. It will also cure pimples on the face, and beautify the skin.

There are thousands who are suffering for months and even years in consequence of Sores and wounds that might be cured in a short time by the use of this great external Salve. It has never failed to effect a speedy cure when properly applied. This Salve has none of the irritating heating properties of other remedies, but cools, cleanses and heals the most serious sores and Wounds. SCIENTIFIC AMUSEMENT.

AT THE TEMPLE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, Oct. 22d.

"Care to our coffin adds a nail, no doubt,
While every grin so merrily draws one out."

Dr. Colton,

Who gave the NITROUS OXIDE Exhibitions in the Cooper Institute, New York, and Tremont Temple, Boston, which were attended by overflowing audiences of Ladies and Gentlemen, will give

A GRAND EXHIBITION

of the

NITROUS OXIDE

—or—

LAUGHING GAS!

Sixty gallons of Gas will be made and administered. A strong railing will be erected around the Stage to prevent those who inhale the Gas from coming in contact with the audience.

Twelve stout men will occupy the Stage to protect those under the influence of the Gas from injuring themselves or others.

The effect of the Gas is to develope the most prominent traits of character. Some will LAUGH, SING, DANCE, DECLAIM, Etc., Etc.

The Gas will be administered only to gentlemen of the highest respectability. To an intellectual person, the sensations produced by it are delightful beyond all power of language to express.

TWELVE GENTLEMEN will inhale the Gas to commence the entertainment.

Dr. C. has administered the Nitrous Oxide since 1844, to probably 10,000 persons, and by exercising great care in the selections has not had the slightest thing said or done which could offend the most fastidious lady. He will exercise the same caution on this occasion.

Dr. C. will be the first to inhale the Gas. Previous to its exhibition, Dr. C. will deliver a brief lecture, explaining its properties and effects. Dr. C. will endeavour to conduct the exhibition in such a manner as to deserve the patronage he has in New York and Boston, of an intelligent audience of ladies and gentlemen.

Dr. C. has the pleasure to announce that on this occasion have consented to inhale the Gas, after the gentlemen.

SIX LADIES

DR. COLTON'S EXHIBITION.—The laughing exhibition of Dr. Colton drew the largest audience of the season to the Temple on Monday evening. Before the hour of commencing every available seat and standing place was occupied, and hundreds had to leave, unable to get even a sight of the stage. Dr. Colton gave a brief lecture in which he explained the properties and effects of the Nitrous Oxide Gas, rendering the subject intelligible to all. During its delivery, he and the audience were much annoyed by persons who had evidently not taken too much Oxygen, but rather too much Holland gin. Those females crunching peanuts in the back seats were a nuisance to their neighbors, also. The Doctor invited citizens to fill the circle of seats on the stage, which was partially done after some hesitation. Then commenced the inhalation of the Gas, Dr. C. leading off himself. Quite a number of subjects followed, the exhibition affording a rich fund of amusement. Dr. C. informs us, that although the audience laughed heartily, and seemed well pleased, yet the exhibition as a whole was far below, in interest, the majority of his entertainments. He believes there will be a great improvement this evening, when he gives the second exhibition. On this occasion Six ladies are to inhale the Gas after the gentlemen, and Dr. C. says there will be no failure. The exhibition Monday evening was managed with great care and propriety, and rendered every way worthy of the attendance of the large audience of ladies and gentlemen present. Those who desire, can obtain tickets for this evening, of Dr. Colton at the Rockingham House.

☞ The Democratic Congressional Convention for District No. 1, was held at the City Hotel, in this city, on Tuesday. Dr. Nathaniel Batchelder, of Epping, was chosen President; Daniel Philbrick, Esq., of Greenland, and Enoch F. Coleman, Esq., of Newington, Vice Presidents; and Henry F. Wendell, Esq., of this city, Secretary. Hon. DANIEL MARCY, of this city, was unanimously nominated as candidate for Representative to Congress, from this District. From a misunderstanding in regard to the time of holding the Convention, several towns in the district were not represented in the Convention, and the nomination was, therefore, referred for ratification, to a second Convention, to be held in this city on the 25th day of November next. We shall give the Secretary's report in Thursday morning's Chronicle.

☞ The October trial term of the S. J. Court commenced in this city on Tuesday morning, Judge Bellows presiding. The case of Palmer vs. City of Portsmouth was commenced. This suit for damages to plf., for injuries incurred about six years since by obstructions in a public street, has been tried at a previous term and a verdict rendered for the plf., which was set aside at the last law term of the Court.

☞ The riggers at the Portsmouth Navy Yard struck for higher wages on Tuesday morning. A new rate of wages, in which the pay of the riggers was not changed, had been established and sent to Washington for approval. They learned the fact and concluded not to answer to the roll-call until their request for an increase was granted. Their present rate of wages is $1.75 per day,—for first class; they ask for $2. By the rates proposed, the wages in most of the other departments, we understand, is increased.

☞ Dr. Colton requests us to state that he will be pleased to meet any gentlemen, who may like to breathe the Nitrous Oxide —"the atmosphere of Heaven,"—at the Temple, this afternoon at three o'clock.—None will be admitted except those who desire to breathe the gas.

☞ Capt. Thacher's Company of nine months' volunteers will leave this city for the camp at Concord, this morning by the early train. They are to join the 16th regiment. Capt. Jenness' Company, we learn, will also leave in a few days.

The rebel cavalry while on their way to Gettysburg from Chambersburg met a large funeral procession and stole forty-three horses from the carriages and the horses attached to the hearse! The mourners, however, were treated very politely.—Boston Post.

☞ Ten per cent of the ministerial members of the Methodist Episcopal Conference of Cincinnati are now engaged in the war, as chaplains, captains, lieutenants, or privates.

☞ The Empress Eugenie is determined to introduce bull fighting in Paris; and El Tato, the celebrated Matador, has been engaged for the sport at the Hippodrome.

☞ It is affirmed, says the Austrian Gazette, that the manufacture of gun cotton is abolished in Austria.

☞ A stamp will be required upon every certificate which has or may have a legal value in any Court of law or equity.

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

BUY CALIFORNIA WINES

They are the Purest!
The Best!
The Cheapest!

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine.

The Port has a fine flavor and body; and The Port is excellent because it is pure.

McGREGOR'S PATENT
AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING
FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above.

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is

THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling-houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

We might refer to the following persons who are using the McGregor in this city:

Rev. Chas. Burroughs, D. D., Messrs. Alfred W. Haven, Mark H. Wentworth, George Wentworth, J. P. Bartlett, Com. John Pope, Wm. H. Dwight, Mrs. Levi Woodbury. Also to Rev. Danl. Austin, Kittery; Capt. Chas. H. Salter, Greenland, and many others.

The peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the god of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass.

Sold by all druggists every where.

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to Independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Brad den, F. H. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John R. Holbrook, Geo. S. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pindar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon; Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Iaziton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 25 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 25 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes of the

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE,

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and at more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN rejections, and all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

An expedition from Gen. Slocum's command, on Tuesday morning, to intercept a rebel cavalry company under Capt. Day, who were foraging in Loudon County, Va., was entirely successful. We took 32 prisoners, including Capt. Day himself, and killed 10 of the enemy. Our loss was one killed and three wounded.

It is said Price has been reinforced by 15,000 Texans.

The Richmond papers claim that the recent fight near Perryville, Ky., resulted in a great victory for the rebels. The Enquirer says Bragg was successful each day, capturing many guns and over 10,000 prisoners, besides killing and wounding many.

The Herald's Harper's Ferry dispatch contains the following: Our infantry now hold Halltown, and cavalry regiments extend beyond there. The Potomac continues very low and fordable at almost any point. The line of the river is well guarded to prevent the repetition of the recent cavalry raid. It is reported by deserters that Stonewall Jackson is still with a large force in the vicinity of Bunker Hill.

At Richmond the negroes are being called in for the purpose of constructing fortifications.

HARBOR DEFENCE. — Brig. Gen. Benham, Gov. Berry, Coussellor Wyatt, accompanied by Ex-Gov. Goodwin, Capt. George F. Pearson, Hon. Thomas L. Tullock, Navy Agent, Senator Hackett, Representatives Albert L. Jones and John H. Bailey, Mayor Simes, and others, visited several prominent points in Portsmouth harbor, on Wednesday,—including Forts Constitution and Sullivan, and Jerry's Point.—They also visited Portsmouth Navy Yard, and were received with the regulation salute of nineteen guns.

S. J. COURT, Wednesday Oct. 22.—The case of Palmer vs. City of Portsmouth is still on trial. The Grand Jury came in having found four indictments; and were disc[illegible]

☞ The Richmond Enquirer says:—

"Our exchanges speak with great anxiety of the prospect of an attack upon Mobile by the enemy, which attack might involve important consequences, as the capture of this point would give the enemy immediate possession of the Alabama and Tombigbee rivers. A march of the enemy into the interior of Alabama would succeed in cutting the confederacy more completely in two than the enemy would hope to do by the possession of the Mississipi river throughout its entire length, as it would destroy the line of communication now passing through Montgomery, which has been of incalculable benefit to the people of the entire South."

☞ Capt. George A. Gerrish, of the N. H. Battery, who was taken prisoner at the time of Gen. Pope's disastrous attempt to "feed on the enemy," was exchanged, came to Portsmouth sick, and has recovered, went to Concord on Tuesday, and expected to leave on Wednesday to take charge of the Battery.

☞ The N. Y. money writers say people generally have no longer the confidence they had in gold as a speculation a few days since. Many persons continue to believe that it will advance higher. But it is becoming dangerous to operate in it.

☞ Official returns from 17 counties in Pennsylvania, comprising more than half the voting population of the State, give Stenker, Dem., for Auditor General, 1862 majority.

☞ The estate of the late David P. Broderick has been sold at auction in San Francisco. The total amount realized upon the landed property was upwards of $170,000.

☞ The schooner B. L. Berry from Boston for Philadelphia, was capsized on Monday, by a squall, off Handkerchief Shoal, and the captain and steward were drowned. The others of the crew were saved.

☞ The Washington Star says: "We have information from Culpepper up to Wednesday last, and feel perfectly satisfied that there is no truth in the story of negro insurrections there."

☞ The price of substitutes in Boston, as indicated by what is paid, is $225, that sum having been given for two obtained in a seaport town by drafted men in that city.

☞ Gen. Jeff. C. Davis, who killed Gen. Nelson has been released from arrest and ordered to report for duty at Cincinnati.

☞ Capt. John P. Gillis, has been ordered to the command of the screw sloop Ossipee, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

☞ Schooner Admiral Blake, reported to have been captured by the privateer Alabama, has arrived at Sippican. Capt. Hathaway has not seen the Alabama.—Capt. D. R. Gifford, late of the bark ElishaDunbar, reports that he was told by some of the crew of the Confederate steamer Alabama that the Ocean Rover, of Mattapoisett, had 900 barrels of sperm and 200 barrels whale oil on board at the time of her capture. They scuttled her at first, but as she would not sink, they then set her on fire. She was so low in the water that nothing below the upper deck was burned, and a Portuguese wrecking brig coming alongside, was allowed by Capt. Semmes to take whatever could be got, and about 500 barrels of the oil was rescued by them. Capt. Gifford is firmly of the opinion that the Alabama and 290 are not the same vessel, as he frequently heard the crew of the Alabama speaking of the 290 and of the Ovieto. Some of the newspapers taken from the Emily Farnum contained an account of the 290 running the blockade into Mobile, and on hearing it the crew of the Alabama gave three cheers for the 290.

EXTRA "TRAIN'S."—We have received a copy of Train's Extras, Nos. 1 and 2, in newspaper form—the first being George Francis Train's plea for free speech, and his account of his arrest in Faneuil Hall for attempting to reply to Charles Sumner at the emancipation meeting there. We think Mr. Train must have been a little "out of order" on that occasion, but we can't see the necessity for his arrest, even if he was, for he is one of the most loyal of citizens, and his talk can do no harm, at least, to any true American. At any rate, Train and his admirers will "make the most of" his being assaulted, arrested and locked up, as Sumner and his friends did of Brooks' assault on him.

The second, or Train's Extra No. 2, is entitled, "Dissection of Charles Sumner, abolitionist, by George Francis Train, Unionist, at Boston Music Hall, Oct. 16." For sale by the newsmen at three cents each. Of course, the followers of each of these representative men, think their man has the best of the scrimmage—and it is not for this independent sheet to express any opinion or choice if it has any, only to wish, "May the best man and the best cause win." Mr. Train spoke in Portland, Saturday, to a large audience, and the people insisted on his remaining, notwithstanding other positive engagements, and speaking again Monday, in aid of the Sanitary Commission. On both occasions, his remarks were received with the greatest enthusiasm, as they are everywhere.

☞ In Portland harbor, Tuesday forenoon a boat was upset and Charles H. Preston, a private in the 17th U. S. Infantry, his wife, Barbara B. Cobb, aged 12 years, Julia A. Derald, aged about 12, and Joseph Cobb, aged 10 were drowned.—One boy was saved though in an exhausted condition. Mrs. Preston, Joseph Cobb and Barbara E. Cobb were children of Morris B. Cobb of Cape Elizabeth, and Julia A. Derald was a grand-daughter. Thus three children, a grand-daughter and a son-in-law were taken suddenly away.

THE NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA.—The 15th volume (43d, 44th and 45th Numbers) of this invaluable work has just been received by Jos. H. Foster, the Portsmouth agent. As the character of this publication is fully established, we do not deem it necessary to review the volume before us at any length. The work will soon be completed, and will be the most valuable, popular Cyclopedia extant. All the volumes can be had of Mr. Foster, or of E. C. Eastman, Concord, general agent for this State.

JAPAN "TOMMY."—The Hon. Townsend Harris, who has just returned from his mission to Japan, says that the last person he parted with was "Tommy," who was in fine health and spirits. "Tommy" was attached to the American Embassy before he visited this country, and resumed his position on his return.

☞ A curious instance of what the French call "game laws," is mentioned in a French journal. A young man about 20 was amusing himself by shooting sparrows with a pea-shooter, in the open space before the Invalides. A policeman hauled him off to jail, and he has since been tried, convicted and sentenced to pay a fine (trifling amount) for an infraction of the laws of la chasse!

☞ One day last week a New York house sold to another firm $500,000 of tea, and took the buyers' notes for the goods.—This is said to be the largest transaction of the kind on record in New York.

☞ Gen. McDowell is at Washington preparing a statement of his case. A contemporary thinks Centreville was the place where he should have prepared his case for the nation's verdict.

☞ A Cherokee Indian has been admitted as a delegate to the rebel House of Representatives, from the Cherokee Nation.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The 15th regiment (first of the 9 months' men,) is full, and most of the companies are uniformed.

—— Some 600 or 700 men of the Sixteenth regiment are now in camp, and the balance are expected this week.

—— The Democratic State Convention is to be held in Concord on the 20th of November.

—— In Manchester, on Monday, the thermometer went down to 28 degrees in the evening, and was no higher than that half an hour after sunrise on Tuesday morning. Water skimmed over in tubs in the city to the depth of three-eighths of an inch.

—— A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror, with malice aforethought, states that a gentleman while dining at a hotel in East Canaan recently, stuck a three-pronged dining fork into his mouth with considerable violence. He was not materially injured, however, there being quite a piece of meat upon the end of the weapon at the time!

The Democratic Republican Congressional Convention for District No. 1, in accordance with previous notice, met at the City Hotel, in this city, on the 21st instant, Charles W. Marden, Esq., Secretary of the last Convention, called the meeting to order. On motion, Dr. Nathaniel Batchelder, of Epping, was chosen President. Messrs. Daniel Philbrick, of Greenland, and Enoch F. Coleman, of Newington, were elected Vice Presidents; and Henry F. Wendell, of this city, Secretary. Mr. Hayes, from the committee on credentials, made a report which was accepted and adopted. In consequence of some misapprehension, portions of the district were not represented, and the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That when this Convention adjourn, it be to meet again at this place, on the 25th day of November next, at 11 o'clock, A. M., and that the Secretary give notice of the same in all the Democratic papers printed in the District.

Mr. Philbrick offered the subjoined resolution, which was cordially received and adopted.

Resolved, That having the fullest confidence in the intelligence, integrity and patriotism of Hon. DANIEL MARCY, we unanimously nominate him as a candidate for the office of Representative to Congress, from this District, subject to the ratification of this Convention at its adjournment meeting.

On motion, voted that the proceedings of this Convention be signed by the President and Secretary, and that the Secretary cause the same to be published in the several Democratic newspapers in the District, also in the N. H. Patriot. Voted, that the Convention do now adjourn.

NATH'L BATCHELDER, President.
H. F. WENDELL, Secretary.
Portsmouth, Oct. 21, 1862.

☞ Capt. Thacher's Company of Nine Months' Volunteers, about 70 men, left Portsmouth for the camp of the 16th N. H. Regiment, at Concord, on Wednesday morning. The train leaves before daylight, so that there was not opportunity for much "escort" parade; but Capt. Deering's "Granite State Ex-I's," who are always up and dressed for any good cause, did the honors of the occasion in their usual good style, each man carrying a good-sized "star-spangled," instead of a musket.

☞ Our friend of the Manchester American, thinks the editor of this Chronicle "needs looking after," and "ought to have a guardian appointed over him" by the Mayor or County Solicitor, because we like Mr. Train, and endorse a part of his ideas. Well, we always did have a way of thinking for ourselves, and we are entirely willing the "American"—every American, white as well as black, should have the same privilege. As to a "guardian," there are certainly many advantages (however many disadvantages there may be also,) in being saved the trouble of "taking care of yourself." But we shouldn't let him do our thinking for us, even if we had a guardian; and we don't believe we should allow him to do our talking. Neither do we propose to swap ideas with the American, nor adopt its opinions, nor those of any other man, unless where they agree with our own. "Independence" is the word.

☞ Mr. Avery has bought the newspaper stock and business of Mr. Ambrose, and will combine the two establishments on Monday next. Meantime Mr. Ambrose is closing out at very low prices. Portsmouth seems to require but one Daily paper, and one Periodical Depot. Friend Avery is fully competent to sell the newspapers; and we shall try and print the Chronicle a little longer, with the kind oversight of our friends of the Exeter Ballot and Manchester American.

☞ The drafting of negroes for military service is strongly recommended by the Richmond papers.

A REQUEST.—Each and every person who is indebted to The Chronicle or The Gazette office, for newspapers, advertising or job printing, is hereby desired to settle the same as soon as convenient. And all having claims, to present them.

A FAMILY PICTURE.—The following letter from Dr. Colton, "the laughing gas man," which is going the rounds of the papers, contains such a good moral lesson, and is interspersed with so much wit and humor, that we take pleasure in transferring it to our columns. It contains food for reflection:—

Mr. Editor:—I propose to draw a picture of our family for your readers, and I promise it shall be as truthful as the majority of biographical portraitures drawn by interested parties.

Our family is only remarkable for numbers, there being ten sons and two daughters. We were raised among the Green Hills of Vermont. By the aid of coarse fare and the absence of doctors, all the children lived till the youngest had reached the age of thirty six. Only two have since died, as also our sainted father and mother. The limited means of our father only enabled him to furnish us a common school education; but we were trained to habits of industry and the most rigid integrity.—With these endowments—the best that could be given—we were thrown upon our own resources for success in life. After the age of fifteen or sixteen, each was consulted as to the choice of business, or profession he desired to adopt. With a father's blessing and a mother's prayers, we went forth to seek our fortune. Let us see the result.

I have one brother, a Justice of the Peace "with fair round belly and good capon lined," though he never read Blackstone.

I had another brother, a clergyman and chaplain in the U. S. Navy, who, having travelled through all parts of the world, has lost his sectarianism, and because he has transferred his religion from his head to his heart, is thought by some to have lost it.—He was appointed the Historiographer of the South Sea Exploring Expedition, was for three years the Governor of California and filled several other important offices under the Government. He had the honor of publishing the first newspaper in California, building the first school house, instituting the first trial by jury, and making the first public announcement of the discovery of the California gold. He died ten years since. His poems and literary productions are his best memorials.

I have another brother, a farmer, who thinks his duties performed when he reads the Tribune and votes for liberty and the Maine law.

I have another brother, a slave holder, (and I fear a rebel) who regards slavery an evil, and liberty a blessing, but holds his slaves for their best good.

I have another brother, a tanner, currier and shoemaker, who has been so long tinkering the understandings of other people, that he has become quite a philosopher himself. Is this the reason why shoemakers are such "proverbial" philosophers?

I have another brother, a cloth dresser, who, if not a gentleman himself, has been mainly instrumental in making gentlemen of others.

I have another brother, a clergyman, who is a theological book-worm, who points out to others the way to heaven with mathematical accuracy, but stays behind himself to pick up the stragglers? I doubt whether he would consider heaven a boon, unless the way there ran with his logic.

I had another brother, a book-binder, whose art had been consulted in the selection of many a library. He died 12 years since.

I have a sister, who has around her nine representatives of her obedience to one of the divine commands; and another sister, who, not having any children of her own to provide for, has assumed the care of a whole brood ready provided.

And then there is your humble correspondent,—the titman, as he was for a time called,—though now a laughing gas philosopher, who was once a doctor, in embryo, but having thrown "physic to the dogs," is living by his wits. In a throw of the dice of fortune, he once came down a Judge in California, and after dispensing justice for a time, (perhaps having dispensed with it, as Mrs. Partington said of the gospel in a certain church,) came home with his pockets filled with the dust, and salted it down in Syracuse, believing that salt would save him—from poverty. He is now managing, by hook and crook, and in an honorable way to add to his pile.

Our venerable father died only 5 months since, aged ninety-eight. We all remember him with the highest reverence and filial affection. He could repeat from memory nearly one-half the bible, also whole sermons, and more than seven hundred stanzas of Watts Psalms and Hymns. We believe that to the bright example and early religious training we received from him, aided by the strong common sense of our mother, (who died at the age of seventy) united to habits of industry and economy which they inculcated, we owe whatever success we have attained in life. We are all "well to do" in the world, and some have become wealthy. We are all temperance men, if not teetotalers. We are all professers of religion, if not christians, though we take widely different roads on the heavenly way. I am reminded of a good Methodist preacher, when addressing a congregation of different denominations: "Brethren, it is true we don't hitch horses very well here, but we are comforted with the reflection that we shall be able to do so, when we arrive in the stables of eternal salvation."

There is one lesson to be drawn from the above, viz: that money acquired by gift is seldom a blessing, and often a curse. The best legacy that parents can leave their children, is, habits of industry, a sound intellectual and religious education, and self-reliance. He who cannot acquire money, will not keep it if given to him. If our father had given each of us ten thousand dollars to start in life, some of us would have grown up in idleness and dissipation, and ended in poverty or crime. It would have weakened personal responsibility and ambition, and led to extravagance and its consequences. The wise man well said: "Give me neither poverty nor riches."

"Honor and shame from no condition rise;
Act well your part, there all the honor lies."

AMESBURY, Oct. 13th, 1862.

Mr. Grace, Dear Sir:—Having been afflicted grievously for several weeks with an abscess upon my side, I used various remedies for its eradication, without receiving any relief, until I applied to your Celebrated Salve, which has effected a speedy and permanent cure. I therefore feel happy to certify my confidence in its virtues.

JAMES BEAN.

I certify to the truthfulness of the above statement. DR. H. S. DEARBORN.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotal Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Blotches, Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of this complaint, caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

McGREGOR'S PATENT

AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING

FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above.

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is

THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling-houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

We might refer to the following persons who are using the McGregor in this city:

Rev. Chas. Burroughs, D. D.; Messrs. Alfred W. Haven, Mark H. Wentworth, George Wentworth, J. P. Bartlett, Com. John Pope, Wm. L. Dwight, Mrs. Levi Woodbury. Also to Rev. Dani. Austin, Kittery; Capt. Chas. H. Salter, Greenland, and many others.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Edes, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never put one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that vast pile which tells of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure, until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Dorchester, Cape May Co., N.J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief, until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known Gage, Morrow & Co. manufacturing & counselling house, New York City.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became so intolerable affliction. I tried almost every thing a man could get both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might, for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I have had. I cheerfully recommend, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Sawin, Houston St., New York.

"DR. AYER: I seldom fail to remove Erysipelas and General Debility by the use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured an attack of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alternative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA. I have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wilmington, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The sleeve worn on that arm covered a perfect pitcher, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and none of your PILLS. Neither they nor I cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Rev. Henry Moore, N. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial effect, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Stetler, Esq., the able editor of the Tuskaloosa Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and totally blinded his eyes for some days. A skilful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For three days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal, and we had gone the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Hiram Sleet, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA an efficacious remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., and a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER: My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary forms. Some partial in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty and success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Tine, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until by persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally predisposed by internal Scrofulous Humors, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some external remedy, however, in aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skillful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Lowell, Mass.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of irregularity, leucorrhœa, menstrual disorders, and local debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when the effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have done heretofore.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Brag-don, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John R. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Tinder, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon; Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.
Aaron H. Hull, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes of the

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her going out of doors for months. She has been very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Swett's Panacea, and several bottles of his Humor Drops, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Drops, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of Dr. SWETT'S MEDICINES.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a cancer, the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea, in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of his medicine, my disease was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since.

CAROLINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.

SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors the Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And never but one of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.

HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1852.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which full cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health.

M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1856. Dr Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a Humor, which prevented my sleep night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHENEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, and continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named."

ISRAEL CHENEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20o

MATHEWS' ARNICA HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of Dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

BUY CALIFORNIA WINES

They are the Purest!
The Best!
The Cheapest!

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wines.

The Port has a fine flavor and body, and The Port is excellent because it is pure.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but the majority of inventors have advantage for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to secure late a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twenty rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

A star for every State: a State for every star.

NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"The Union as it was—the Constitution as it is."

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every law fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1862.

ALWAYS POLITICS: always party. When are we to hear the last of factious contention? Above the roar of battle its discords jangle. The ears of true men' souls are afflicted with it. The blood of the brave cries to Heaven against party fuglemen, party organs, party selfishness. They have prolonged the war, and will prolong it indefinitely, unless overwhelmed and silenced by the determined action of the people. Well might the prophetic voice and pen of Washington warn us against this growing evil. In his day it was a cloud no bigger than a man's hand, as compared with the dark shadow that is now stretching across the land.—New York Ledger.

ONE PARTY—That of the Constitution. There should be at this time of peril, but one party in our country, and a year ago there was but one. The whole North was a unit in favor of the old Constitution and the old Union under which we had so prospered, and in putting forth all our energy till our flag waved again over every part of the land. If there was any division, the opposition was too insignificant to be regarded. Had this one object been kept in view, there would have continued to be but one party.

But a large class would not have it so—their support of the government was conditional, dependent on the adoption of their theories; they denounced the old order of things, and declared it should never be restored; they abused the President, because he would not adopt their measures. * * It became evident that the radical portion of the North were cutting loose from every landmark of the past, and resolved to rule or ruin the country. When that appeared, it was as certain as any earthly thing could be, that two parties must exist again—the one intensely radical, caring for nothing but emancipation, and demanding that at every hazard; the other still looking to the old Union and the Constitution, and determined to resist all opposition to them, whether at home or abroad.

We hoped for one party, we labored for one party, and we are grieved to think we can hope for it no longer. The recent elections have demonstrated one thing as clearly as any mathematical demonstration could make it—that there is a determination at the North to put down radicalism, and the power to do it. We wish, even now, that reason might resume its sway; and every one still use but one watchword—the Constitution. If that could be, there would be but one party; if not, there will be two, and many will find they have prepared for themselves a fearful retribution at the hands of a patriotic and aroused people. We say there will be two, but it will be for a time only. In the end—we know not when, but sooner or later—we know not after what conflicts—there will be again one party, that of the old Constitution and the old Union. These are over all and above all; and one day every enemy of them will be overthrown, north and south. Newburyport Herald.

☞ A riot occurred in the Hyde Park' London, Sunday, the 5th inst., which lasted two hours. There were 100,000 people present, and at least 2000 were engaged in the melee, including several hundred soldiers off duty. The Irish were at last overpowered by the English.

☞ The Richmond papers quote gold at 160 to 170, and silver at 125 to 130. In Boston, Thursday, gold sold at 133. In Buffalo a sale of $2000 in gold was made, Thursday, deliverable in 6 months, at 45 per cent. premium.

☞ New Orleans advices say the U. S. transport steamer Ceres has been destroyed, and twelve lives lost, by the explosion of her boiler.

☞ Governor Evans of Colorado, in an interview with Gen. Eustis, stated that the alarm which was felt in Colorado in relation to Indian depredations, is passing away.

☞ Orders have been issued directing the occupancy for Government purposes, of property in Washington of persons known to be in the service of the rebels.

COUNTERFEITS.—Look out for 5's on the Trader's Bank, Bangor, altered from 1's. A slight examination is sufficient to detect the alteration.

☞ Harper's Magazine for November is a rich number, full of choice reading matter and handsomely illustrated. For sale by J. H. Foster.

☞ During the war of 1812, gold was sold at a premium of 35 per cent.

THE REBELLION.

A Washington dispatch says the Potomac flotilla has been doing an extensive business in the capture of contraband goods and men in the rebel service.

A Wall street rumor on Wednesday had it that at a Cabinet meeting on Tuesday, it was unanimously resolved to remove Gen. McClellan and place Gen. Hooker in command of the army of the Potomac, but a Washington dispatch says "there is no apparent reason to occasion any serious consideration of the rumor."

It is reported that the rebel force in Virginia is very much scattered, and that there is none at all in the central part of the State.

Gen. Burnside is assigned to the general charge of the defences of Harper's Ferry.

The force at the extreme right of our line in the vicinity of Hancock, has been greatly strengthened within the past two days. It is reported that the army is prevented from making an immediate advance by want of clothing.

Gen. Sigel, on Tuesday moved his command to the neighborhood of Centreville, and established his headquarters there. He has recently been reinforced.

All the machinists at Portsmouth, Va., 30 in number, have suddenly disappeared with their tools. It is understood they have skedaddled to rebeldom.

A band of rebels, about two hundred strong, supposed to be aiming for Arkansas, was routed in Missouri on Monday night, by a Federal force of inferior numbers.—The Union troops are reported to be in pursuit.

A dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette says that Gens. Bragg and Kirby Smith have succeeded in withdrawing their entire armies with all their trains from Kentucky, by way of Powell's Gap. Prentice says when he hears of rebel troops being completely "hemmed in," he can hardly help responding—"ahem!"

The Richmond Whig says "the Kentucky movement in the hands of Bragg has turned out to be simply a fizzle."

Gen. Jeff. C. Davis is placed temporarily in command of the forces at Covington, Ky.

On Monday, a rebel force which had crossed the Cumberland river to move on Nashville, was repulsed and driven in great confusion across the river.

Rebel reports say our troops have evacuated Corinth and Bolivar, Tenn.

Galveston papers say our gunboats have made several attacks on Corpus Christi. The rebel batteries caused our boats to haul off.

☞ Rev. T. Starr King, in a speech lately made in San Francisco, thus sharply exposes the meanness and baseness of Northern sympathizers with treason:—

Can any creature be so despicable, now, on the globe as a secessionist in a loyal State? Yet what a forlorn creature he is! Ought we not rather to pity him? He has no country. He can't open a book of American biography or history, and feel pride in it. Every bright page in it condemns him. He has cut himself off from the heritage of his country's memories, from his dividend of honor in the fame of Washington and his supporting staff of patriots, who saved their country by their valor, and built a grander polity in it by their genius and the help of God. He isn't an Englishman, nor a German, nor an Italian, nor yet an American. Even a Mexican stands off from him—more noble than he; for a Mexican runs to the support of his flag, forgetting old sectional animosities, and feels his blood stir as the banner of France rightcously goes down before it. A secessionist in a Northern State is an orphan, forlorn and pitiable.

No, he is despicable, rather; he has not the manliness to go to fight for the flag he hopes will triumph. He stays and nourishes his wretched breath where it is safe.—He stays under the flag he hates, which generously protects him, to plot against it by undermining patriotism. He is a perpetual spy, cunning and cowardly. He measures accurately the pressure and fervor of public sentiment, and talks against the Government that blesses him just to the limit of serious peril. His face is just prudently radiant when news of disaster comes. He taps the public men, as a woodpecker does a tree for decay and worms, and finds who have the tainted spot in their hearts that makes them fit for him to vote for. And he lives on this, month after month, loading his table and perhaps filling his coffers with the bounty that flows to him under a flag whose halyards he would like to cut, whose power he would like to hamstring—a traitor without one gleam of nobleness which the open conspirators show, who set their "life upon the cast," and "stand the hazard of the die."

☞ Twenty Seesh families have been banished from Memphis, as a punishment for the guerrilla outrages on the river.

☞ Mr. Boutwell writes to Phelan that public billiard tables for public use will be taxed $5. Private tables $10.

☞ The law for the abolition of slavery in the Dutch West Indies in July next, passed the States General of Holland by a vote of 45 to 7.

☞ In Vienna a company has been formed for the purpose of washing the windows by machines. The charge is one cent per window.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Gen. John H. Gage of Nashua, Commissary General of this State, while hunting at Franklin, on Tuesday, was severely if not mortally wounded. He put one gun into his wagon and was pulling another one in with the muzzle toward him. The hammer striking the other gun, it went off, and carried away part off his face and the bones of his ear.

—— The town of Raymond has sent twenty more men to the war than her full quota—all enlisted more than two months ago, and all for three years. She voted unanimously to pay a bounty of $200 to each man.

—— John H. Goodale, Esq., of Sanbornton Bridge, has received from a wealthy gentleman of Boston, a very liberal offer for the purchase of one half his collection of Indian stone relics, to be presented to Prof. Agassiz's Museum, at Cambridge. Mr. G. has the matter under consideration, but will probably decline the offer, that his cabinet may continue for the present, what it now is, the most valuable and extensive collection in New England.

—— The Dover Post Office was broken into on Friday night last, an entrance being effected by breaking the large plate of glass in one of the outer doors. It is supposed they got frightened before accomplishing their object, as nothing was taken from the office.

—— Our Second Regiment is in camp near Washington; the 3d and 4th at Port Royal, S. C.; 5th at Frederick, Md.; the 6th in that vicinity; the 7th in Florida; the 8th at Camp Parapet, near New Orleans; the 9th at South Antietam, Md.; the 10th on Maryland Heights, about 3-4 of a mile from Harper's Ferry, expecting to be removed to Pleasant Valley, to join Burnside; the 11th at Camp Chase; the 12th at Arlington Heights; the 13th at Camp Chase; the 14th en route for Washington; the 15th in camp at Concord.

—— The Adjutant General states that ten days from the 17th instant will be given for volunteering in Coos county for the ninth months' regiments, before proceeding to draft.

—— The Mirror states that a bag containing a live coon fell from a wagon in Manchester, a few evenings since; and an Irishman coming along soon after, picked it up, and was astonished to find something alive in it. His first thought being that it might be a baby, he carefully opened the bag, when out bristled Mr. Coon and ran for dear life one way, while the scared Irishman put with as much velocity the other, not stopping till the walls of his house protected him.

From the N. H. Patriot.

THE POLITICAL PRISONER RELEASED.—Dr. Nat Batchelder of Epping, after an imprisonment of forty days' duration in Fort Constitution, for the utterance of opinions on the situation of the country and the proceedings of those who govern it, and after taking an oath imposed by the powers that be, and giving bond that he would not exercise any unconstitutional freedom of speech, was, as our readers are aware, recently liberated.

"He that an oath imposes makes it;
Nor he that for convenience takes it."
—Butler.

On Saturday last he was accompanied to his home in a carriage and four by several of his friends. He was met at the house of his friend, Daniel Ladd, Esq., by a large cavalcade of his townsmen and neighbors, including several cars of ladies, and, preceded by a band of music and the flag of his country, was escorted by them to "Epping Four Corners," where his carriage stopped and he was greeted with the joyful acclamations of the multitude there assembled.

The Doctor was sensibly affected by this warm and hearty reception, and feelingly responded. In the course of his remarks the reverend agent who had laid the accusations against him at the footstool of power at Concord—now no longer the seat of government of a sovereign State, but the post of a satrap of the federal agency—came in for a pointed notice, while the few of his enemies who signed them were treated with a denouncing shout when the doctor asserted his belief that in an hour's time he could procure a hundred signatures from those who knew them best, to have them hung.

Speeches were also made by Col. Gardner Towle, Hon. Uri Lamprey and others, in the course of which the illegal suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, the repeated violations of the rights of citizens, by seizures and arrests without due warrant of law or probable cause—imprisonments and discharges upon extorted and extra-constitutional oaths, and without the accused being confronted with their accusers, were freely criticised and animadverted upon.

The company were then invited to the doctor's residence, where they entered (beneath an arch of evergreen and flowers) upon a hand-in-hand welcome all round, refreshing themselves, amidst their congratulations, with free libations of currant wine.

TAX LAW DECISION.—The following letter from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to Maj. Hackett, Assistant Assessor, of this city, will prove of interest to persons in this State, doing business in the Probate Court, as such persons are required to be licensed as lawyers.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Office of Internal Revenue,
Washington, Oct. 20, 1862.

SIR:—Your letter of the 16th has been received, submitting several questions to the decision of this Office.

In answer I would state that silver plate, owned by Churches and kept for communion service, is exempt from tax.

Persons who attend Courts, prepare papers, or give advice relative to settlements of estates, as stated by you, bring the case, in my opinion, within the meaning of sec. 64, item 31. Very respectfully,

Geo. S. BOUTWELL, Com'r.

William H. Hackett, Esq., Assistant Assessor, 1st Dist. Portsmouth, N. H.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION for this district, which met at Portsmouth on Tuesday, adjourned for one month, without making a nomination. The members, probably, were not quite ready or did not think it prudent at this time, to endorse Dr. Nat Batchelder, late of Fort Constitution, who, we understand, is the most prominent candidate.—Dover Enquirer.

The Enquirer has doubtless learned its mistakes, as above, ere this. Hon. DANIEL MARCY was nominated unanimously, and will no doubt call out the full vote of his party, if not more than that. He is one of our self-made men, and would well "represent" the commercial and industrial interests of the District, the State and the country; and it would be for the advantage of the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity especially, if we had in Congress, a practical merchant, ship-builder and business man who would look after Portsmouth Navy Yard as assiduously and intelligently as would Capt. Marcy.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—Doubtless many of your readers residing within the limits of the city, have never visited the Portsmouth Navy Yard; and to such we would suggest the propriety of rising early, and after eating a hearty breakfast, proceed to the wharf, secure a passage in any of the boats which leave the wharves about 7 o'clock, and cross the river. Then repair to the roll-office, where half the men are mustered, or to the Naval Store Building, where the rest answer to their names,—and listen to the rapid, yet distinct manner in which the roll is called. Mr. Edward S. Marshall, son of N. G. Marshall, Esq., of York, Me., "calls" at the new muster-office, and Mr. Daniel A. Hill, at the Naval Store. This is a task which requires a quick and attentive ear, and a clear and distinct enunciation, both of which rare faculties the above named gentlemen will be found to possess.

Having "mustered," visit the different departments of labor, the uncompleted, yet noble and beautiful ship Franklin, the various ships in process of construction, the Ordnance Building, &c., &c.; and having spent the early part of the day in making inquiries and examinations, return by the dinner boat and you will consider it a morning well occupied. COM.

☞ We are glad to learn that swords and equipments are to be presented to Capt. Thacher and Lieuts. Wildes and Haven, of this city, by their numerous friends here. They are all gentlemen of high respectability and worth as citizens, and without doubt will prove worthy to fight for their flag, if opportunity is given them.

☞ We shall be pleased to give our friend "C.'s" report of Wm. Wells Brown's lecture, to-morrow. It is such "hard times" with the Chronicle, now-a-days, that we Chroniclers all have to work hard to get all our advertisements and reading matter into the paper.

☞ We can't say whether Mr. Head's advertisement of Furs brought the cold weather, or the weather brought the advertisement. But no doubt both are "seasonable," if improved together.

☞ Lieut. J. A. Howell and Acting Master S. P. Lathrop have been ordered to the steam sloop of-war Ossipee, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard. Ensign S. W. Perry's order to the Ossipee has been revoked.

LINES INSCRIBED TO THE MEMORY OF CHARLOTTE A. GOODRICH.

Again the golden gate of Heaven hath open swung,
Another soul been welcomed to its rest.
Another harp been softly, sweetly strung,
A brow of its undying wreath possessed.

Eyes that on earth have hailed the golden sun,
Now dazzled are with "God's effulgent light,"
Lips that have pressed with love those long since gone
Now meet again where nought that love can blight.

Friend of my heart, thou hast fallen asleep,
Memories joyous, yet sad, o'er me creep,
Again thy warm hand in mine own I enfold,
Kiss thy soft cheek now in death lying cold.

Slowly, yet sure, the arrow sought its way,
And soft and low the angel call did sound,
But just as Summer's dying shadows play,
Thy weary feet the far off shore have found.

How sweet to pass from earth with flowers away,
Beautiful types of thine own nature too,—
Throw off this brief life of an hour, a day,
To sleep 'till winter's dreary night is through.

We have not met since the last farewell kiss,
And from our hearts the parting word was given,
Now mingled with my prayer the wish shall be,
That we may meet and love again in Heaven.

Dear friends, with yours, my heart is sorrowing too,
Though distant, yet our tears together flow,
I ask of you, upon her narrow bed,
One bud for me, with care and love bestow.

Oh, cast one flower as sweet remembrancer
Of love, that in my heart with years grows strong;
Of fragrance sweet, that wafted up to her
Shall breathe, her memory shall be treasured long.

God stay you, in your lonely hour of grief,
And touch your hearts with his all healing power.
The journey to the grave is short and brief,
Oh may she welcome us when ours' is o'er.

Beloit, Wis., Oct. 15th, 1862.

☞ Hon. Joseph B. Adams, of this city, has been appointed Major of the 17th N. H. Regiment—nine months. We feel assured that Maj. Adams, whose energy and efficiency are highly appreciated in this city, where he is best known, will make a capable and popular officer. The Colonel is Henry O. Kent, of Lancaster; and the Lieut. Colonel, Chas. H. Long, late a captain in the 5th regiment.

The Concord Democrat, in speaking of the organization of the regiment, says of the officers:—

The officers of this Regiment are young and energetic men, and will infuse a spirit of energy into the regiment, which is necessary to its successful organization and discipline. Col. Kent graduated from the Military School at Norwich, Vt., in 1854, and has a thorough and practical knowledge of military tactics. With his military knowledge and energy, he will easily organize the regiment, and put it under thorough discipline. Lieut. Col. Long has seen service in the "fighting 5th," and his practical knowledge of military tactics will be of service to the regiment. Maj. Adams is High Sheriff of Rockingham County, and is an energetic man, and, in all respects, well qualified for his new position.

☞ Dr. Colton gave his last exhibition of Laughing Gas, at the Temple, Wednesday evening, to a large attendance. Several gentlemen and a few ladies inhaled the Gas with the usual funny effects—among the gentlemen Mr. H. M. Carter, the projector of the late Fair, and we are told he denounced the Ballot. We did not hear him, but if he said anything good of that sheet, it must have been false, and he could hardly say a bad thing concerning it which might not be true.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

McGREGOR'S PATENT

AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING

FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal. No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above.

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling-houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

We might refer to the following persons who are using the McGregor in this city:

Rev. Chas. Burroughs, D. D.; Messrs. Alfred W Haven, Mark H. Wentworth, George Wentworth, J. P. Bartlett, Com. John Pope, Wm. L. Dwight, Mrs. Levi Woodbury. Also to Rev. Danl. Austin, Kittery; Capt. Chas. H. Salter, Greenland, and many others.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

Prior Emery Eaton, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Robt. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Dunkirk, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely-known Gage, Murray & Co., manufacturers of enamelled papers in Nashua, N. H.

"I, for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost everything, and could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it might for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Swain, Houston St., New York.

"DR. AYER. I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the persevering use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have just now cured a block of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Wilkesburg, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicines. The cleres were so bad that the cords became visible, and the Doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well as ever, and as active. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Moore, N. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tuckahannock Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on his forehead. They rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face and nearly blinded his eyes for some days. A skillful physician applied nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well when we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The noble neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Hiram Stout, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more effectual remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. J. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER. My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary type, and effectual in some cases that were too obstinate to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Van Liew, of New Brunswick, N. J., had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of your AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases can be found more inveterate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness, are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Ulceration, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skillful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of Irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local debility, original from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia, when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Bragdon, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John E. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pindar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon; Charles Simpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Chevres, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Shea, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes of the

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE,

without doubt, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N. H., Feb. 28, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her walking or using her hands. Sores double very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since.

CAROLINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.

SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors the Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And across the ties of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.

HANNAH LOWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with Distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give my relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health.

M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1838. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1836, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to numbers of the best physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named."

ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

GOLD IS FALLING.—Why has it gone down six per cent? Some say the speculators in gold have been defeated by the operations of the banks. Not so; the speculators in politics have been defeated; the radicals who would give us a war of forty years, which in the end would leave the country a thousand times worse than it is now, have heard the voice of the people—the voice of condemnation. The men who have voted are not traitors to the country; none have done more and better than they to carry on the war, but they will have the war for the Constitution and the Union—to suppress rebellion, and not to subjugate States and overthrow the Government thereby; and in rising against the mad radicalism that proposes such schemes, they show in the distance disbanded armies, the gathering of a national convention, the re-union of the States, and the peace and prosperity of a united country. Let it be decided that fanaticism shall rule the country, and gold will go up steadily fifty per cent. higher than it has yet touched. Let it be seen that we are returning to reason, and gold will fall, and flour will cheapen, and government stocks will go up.—Newburyport Herald.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, Dec. 2, 1861. R. H. EDDY. aw

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The Baltimore American's correspondent at Harper's Ferry says that the frequent rumors that the rebels are leaving Winchester are known there to be unfounded. On the contrary, they are receiving fresh troops, and the strength of their army is being massed in the Shenandoah valley.—They have destroyed the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for a distance of ten miles from Harper's Ferry. The rebels feel safe so long as the Potomac is so easily fordable anywhere, as it is now.

A newspaper correspondent says that more than half of the Army of the Potomac is now under the command of Gen. Burnside. The three remaining corps to the North and West of him, commanded respectively by Gen. Fitz John Porter, Reynolds and Franklin, continue to report directly to Gen. McClellan.

Gen. Devens with his brigade crossed the Potomac on the morning of the 21st, at Cherry Run ford, and leads the advance to Virginia from this direction.

A large Union meeting was held at Beaufort, N. C., recently, at which resolutions endorsing the President's emancipation proclamation, were adopted.

As 2000 rebels were advancing to attack our forces on the Tennessee shore, opposite Island No. 10, they were transferred on Wednesday night to the island. All the property was removed in safety.

The Grenada Appeal of the 17th says that an island in Galveston Bay had been captured and occupied by the Federals.—Nothing was said of our forces having reached the main land. A fight was anticipated should they make the attempt.

☞ There is a serious riot in Schuylkill county, Pa. Most of the coal operations have been stopped. The difficulty is supposed to be in consequence of attempts to proceed with the draft.

Later reports say over 5000 rioters armed themselves to resist the draft. They threatened to offer the State Government the alternative of not drafting, or remaining unsupplied with coal from that region.

Other accounts say the difficulty has been adjusted, and that the men generally have resumed work, which had been suspended for two days.

☞ One of the arrows discharged by the Indians in the recent massacre at Madelia, was taken from the body of one of the victims on the day after the fatal occurrence. The arrow penetrated through the heart to the depth of twelve inches.—The Indians discharge these instruments with wonderful accuracy and terrible effect. Instances were seen of their having gone entirely through the body.

☞ Gov. Andrew, of Massachusetts has written a letter in relation to the recent meeting of Governors at Altoona, in which he says:—

"I did not, either formally or informally, directly or indirectly, at any time, move or suggest that the Governors should interfere with the position of Maj. Gen. McClellan, or of any other officer of the army or navy. Nor do I believe that any such motion was proposed by any one else. I heard none whatever concerning that or any other General."

☞ English advices state that a passage in a speech by Mr. Gladstone, at Newcastle, that Jeff. Davis had made the South a nation, and that he considered separation certain, attracts great attention and causes a flatness in cotton. The papers generally approve of Gladstone's remarks, and some think a recognition of the South will follow.

☞ A Chicago dispatch, of Thursday, states that sufficient returns from the Iowa election are received to make it probable that the Republican State ticket is elected by from 8000 to 10,000 majority. The Republicans elect all their members to Congress.

☞ The first severe frost of the season was on Tuesday morning, Oct. 21, when the mercury for the first time descended below the freezing point, to 31. On Friday morning, Oct. 24th, it descended to 27.

☞ Gen. Buell has telegraphed to Surgeon General Hammond at Washington, that the whole number of wounded in the late battle at Perryville, was about 2300.

☞ Gov. Randall of Wisconsin has been appointed Postmaster General to supply the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of John A. Kasson, member of Congress elect from Iowa.

☞ Four men at Fort Independence, Boston, attempted to desert on Wednesday, by swimming to the shore, and two of them were drowned.

☞ The Galena, Capt. Rodgers, and other strong boats are waiting the appearance of the new rebel iron-clad at Richmond.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By Uncle Toby.

Rev. Joshua Moodey—Baptisms—Charles II.—Randolph—Cranfield.

For about thirteen years after this formal organization of the church, in Portsmouth, it was undoubtedly in a prosperous state; and Mr. Alden, in his account of the religious societies in Portsmouth, only speaks the simple truth, when he says of Joshua Moodey: "This part of the country owed much to the talents, the Christian example, and the pastoral fidelity and zeal, of this distinguished character." A single remark by Mr. Alden, in the same account, is calculated to mislead the reader, and to give him a diminished idea of Mr. Moodey's ministry here, though the remark itself is entirely correct. Mr. Alden says, "The list of Mr. Moodey's baptisms amount to one hundred and ten only." This is literally true; the list does only contain that number; but the list begins in 1693, after his return from Boston; and Mr. Moodey lived only four years afterwards, so that this list covers only that limited space of time. Moreover, in this 110 are included the names of more than forty children, of parents who joined the church during these four years. It is highly probable, therefore, that the list of Mr. Moodey's baptisms during the 13 years between 1671 and 1684, amounted to three or four hundred. That list, however, has not come down to us, being lost or destroyed; and its loss is here mentioned only to show, that in this particular, as in all others, Mr. Moodey's ministry was fully up to the mark of his day and his position. It may not be amiss to mention here, out of its place as to chronology, that Mr. Moodey's list of baptisms in Portsmouth as recorded in his own hand writing, closes with the names of Miriam and William Pepperell, who were baptized on the 9th day of March, 1697. These were doubtless the children of Wm. Pepperell of Kittery Point, who was admitted to the church in Portsmouth, Nov. 5, 1696; and this son William was the Sir William Pepperell who was afterwards made famous by the capture of Louisburg, and who was knighted by the British crown for his share in that exploit.

From 1650 to 1684, a period of 26 years, the people and church in Portsmouth enjoyed without interruption the ministerial and pastoral labors of Joshua Moodey, to whose talents, example, fidelity and zeal, all that part of New England is greatly indebted. This was pretty long ministry, and must be, as to its results, pronounced successful. But it must not be supposed that it was such a time of peace and quiet as left Christians at leisure, to serve the Lord by prayers and psalms and preaching, and do nothing else. Far from it. They were more like the days of Nehemiah, when Jerusalem was rebuilt by men who wrought with one hand, while they held a weapon with the other. A glance at the times will show this in the clearest light possible. In this glance we shall have no leisure to look at the Indian wars of Moodey's day, though they would form a good subject for an article by themselves. But during these 26 years, in England, the mother country, Cromwell died, the Commonwealth crumbled, the throne was restored, the second Charles took his seat thereon, and ruled after his fashion, surrounded with plots and counterplots, conspiracies, arrests and executions. His reign, and Mr. Moodey's first term of ministry in Portsmouth, ended about the same time.

At home, in Portsmouth, the political state was quite unsettled. In 1658, when Mr. Moodey began his ministry there, New Hampshire was united with Massachusetts, and governed by her laws, agreeably to a compact made a few years before. But in 1672, Edward Randolph, as the agent of Mason, came out to New Hampshire with a letter from the king enquiring into this union, with the purpose to break it up. This was followed by the royal charter of New Hampshire, sent out from England in 1679. Under this charter, John Cutt took his seat as President, in January, 1680, and New Hampshire thus became a Crown's Province. In the latter end of the same year, Robert Mason, grandson and heir of the old patentee, arrived with a royal mandamus calling on the Council at Portsmouth to admit him as a member. And last, but not least, in 1682, came out from England, Edward Cranfield, Esquire, Lieut. Governor and Commander-in-Chief of New Hampshire. He was armed with a commission from King Charles and with a mortgage of the whole province from Robert Mason. Cranfield's powers as Governor were large; yet large as they were, he went beyond them, and in this way brought himself into collision with the people. He came to New Hampshire and assumed its government, relinquishing a profitable office in Old England, in the vain hope to make his fortune in the New. He did, indeed, govern with a high hand; but though he grasped much power, he realized very little money. His arbitrary and high-handed acts were particularly offensive to Mr. Moodey, and called out his powerful opposition.

S. J. COURT.—Portsmouth.

Friday.—The trial of Arther Rutledge and John F. Horrocks, for breaking and entering house of Wm. Critchley, in this city, and stealing therefrom, was commenced, the boys severally pleading not guilty. The jury brought in a verdict that Rutledge was guilty, and Horrocks not guilty.

The jury in the case of Palmer v. Portsmouth, brought in a verdict of $675 against the city.

The Court adjourned to Monday.

☞ Mr. John Fisher of Portsmouth, a second-class rigger, employed on the Portsmouth Navy Yard, on Thursday evening last, was seized, upon his arrival at Union Wharf, by the gang of striking riggers; a rope was thrown over his head, and drawn tightly around his waist and he was threatened with suspension from the yard-arm of a schooner hard by, unless he would promise to suspend his labors at the Yard until the gang resumed work. After a length of time this promise was extorted from him and he was allowed to depart. It is reported that the strikers charge him with agreeing not to work, and then violating his contract. Rep.

In Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening, report was made that a sidewalk five feet wide, in Mulberry street, be granted. Leave was granted to place a portrait of Washington in the Aldermen's Rooms. On a motion to fit up Jefferson Hall for the Home Guards, a quorum vote was not obtained.

☞ Corporal Frank L. Gookin, from the Journal Office, who was connected with the 10th N. H. Regiment, Co. G, after being confined to the hospital at Alexandria for several weeks, with a rheumatic fever, has been discharged in consequence of his health, and has returned home.

☞ Hon. Edward Everett declines being sent to Congress by the new Anti-Sumner party in Massachusetts.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

BUY CALIFORNIA WINES

They are the Purest!

The Best!

The Cheapest!

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine.

The Port has a fine flavor and body; and The Port is excellent because it is pure.

For the Chronicle.

WM. WELLS BROWN'S LECTURE.—A large audience attended Mr. Brown's lecture at the Temple, on Sunday evening last. His theme was the President's Proclamation and its effects on the Blacks of the South and the laborers of the North.—He produced ample evidence to show that the slaves of the South were as well able to take care of themselves as the working classes of Great Britain, or those who have sought a home in our country from abroad. There are 300,000 free blacks in the South, all of whom were once slaves, or are the descendants of such. Many of them purchased their own liberty, and that of their wives and children, and are now in good circumstances. Much ill-feeling existed against these people by the slaveholders, owing to their industry, sobriety, and wealth, which seen by the slaves, make them dissatisfied with their condition, and cause them to long more ardently for freedom.

In the Southern Rights Convention, which assembled at Baltimore on the 8th of June, 1860, it was resolved that the free negroes should be driven from the States so as to make their slave property more secure. Judge Mason, in a forcible speech said, "It is the wealthy, well-educated, free blacks, dressed in broadcloth, and riding in their own carriages, who make our servants discontented. They must be sent out of the State."

The Legislature took the matter in hand, but the bill was opposed and defeated, upon the ground that these people were among the best mechanics and laborers in Maryland. A similar move was made in the Legislatures of Tennessee, South Carolina, and Louisiana, but in each State they refused to drive the free negroes out.

The strongest argument urged against the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia, said Mr. Brown, was, that a large number of whites were dependant upon their slaves for support, and to set the latter free would be to turn the former out to beggary. Another reason brought forward was, that the negroes were so well treated by their owners that they would not accept their liberty. And many persons in the North believed it. Why should you have supposed for a moment that because a man's color differs a little from yours, he is better contented to remain a slave than you would be, or that he has no inclination, no wish, to escape from the thraldom that holds him so tight? What is it that does not wish to be free?

"Go, let a cage with grates of gold,
And pearly roof, the eagle hold;
Let dainty viands be his fare,
And give the captive tenderest care;
But say, in luxury's limits pent,
Find you the king of birds content?
No, oft he'll sound the startling shriek,
And dash the cage with angry beak:
Precarious freedom's far more dear,
Than all the prison's pampering cheer."

As with the eagle, so with man. He loves to look upon the bright day and the stormy night: to gaze upon the broad free ocean, its eternal surging tides, its mountain billows and its foam crested waves; to tread the steep mountain side; to sail upon the placid river; to wander along the gurgling stream; to trace the sunny slope, the beautiful landscape, the majestic forest, the flowery meadow; to listen to the howling of the winds, and the music of the birds. These are the aspirations of men, without regard to country, clime, or color.

To say that the address was an able one gives but a faint idea of its merit. We venture the assertion that no public speaker has ever left a better impression in Portsmouth, in behalf of the cause presented, than was manifested by those who heard the truly eloquent speech of Wm. Wells Brown, on Sunday evening. We learn that he is soon to return, and will then give our citizens an account of his own experience at the South, which will no doubt be interesting. C.

The assessment of the U. S. Excise tax, is about completed in this city. The amount of silver plate in Portsmouth will not prove as great as was anticipated. Indeed, if every one is to be credited, much of the material that has glittered in parlies and shone at the festive boards, is bogus, and now claimed by its owners to be plated ware!

It is stated that in one instance, where at a wedding some time ago the array of silver presents was the admiration of the guests, it is discovered that the happy couple own no silver ware, and the astonished assessor was somewhat taken aback with the information that the massive presents which had been described to him, were "borrowed for the occasion!" Doubtless the duties of assistant assessor will well qualify a man to judge who is who and what is what.—Corr. of Ballot.

☞ Paymaster Edward Foster has been ordered to the screw steamer Ossipee, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

The U. S. screw frigate Minnesota, 48, Com'r Augustus L. Case, having been aground, has been ordered to Portsmouth Navy Yard, and will go into the dry dock for repairs. The Minnesota went to sea from Fortress Monroe on Monday afternoon.

THE ALLEGHANIANS.—This well-known company, which has gone the circuit of the world, purposes to give entertainments at the Temple next week.

☞ The Bawl-at man evidently thinks "a lie well stuck to, is as good as the truth," for he reiterates his statement that the Chronicle helped give the idea that the late Fair was an official State concern, which he knows is a wilful, malicious falsehood.

He also charges us with "low and scurrilous personal blackguardism"—when everybody knows that he never did anything but abuse and misrepresent this Chronicle and its editor, (as in this very item of his) and that he is the best abuser the assailant,—we, never. Wonder "how much he has made out of it?" Better mind your own business, tom-ass; for if our readers and subscribers can't take care of themselves, they'll want somebody more efficient than the "truly rural" to look out for them.

☞ The early train from Portsmouth for Concord, met with a singular accident on Friday morning, only a few rods west of the starting point. Just after crossing the Eastern Railroad, the hinder freight car, loaded with coal, ran off the track, followed by the passenger car, which not only ran off but upset, turning completely on its beam ends, as a seaman would say The windows are broken and the car somewhat damaged, but very little for such a fall, for the train was moving moderately.

The truck frame and wheels did not upset, but only the body of the car, which drew out the bolts and fell over. We do not learn that any passenger was seriously hurt.

☞ Rev. Dr. Burroughs, of this city, will preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow morning.

McGREGOR'S PATENT

AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING

FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a south Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above.

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling-houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

We might refer to the following persons who are using the McGregor in this city:

Rev. Chas. Burroughs, D. D.; Messrs. Alfred W Haven, Mark H. Wentworth, George Wentworth, J. P. Bartlett, Com. John Pope, Wm. L. Dwight, Mrs. Levi Woodbury. Also to Rev. Danl. Austin, Kittery; Capt. Chas. H. Salter, Greenland, and many others.

THE peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made where all other remedies failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL,
The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Bragdon, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John R. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pindar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon; Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes —of the—

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

RYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Drops, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Drops, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it; since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENKINS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a fistula, of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Dr. Swett's Panacea, in the above named case, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prescribed, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE L. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.
Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called the Salt Rheum and Salt Rheum and Ulcers, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH JONES.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give me relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our town in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had spended a number of physicians, but she kept growing weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicine shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.
The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are marvellous and permanent.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

A star for every State: a State for every star.

NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"The Union as it was — the Constitution as it is."

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every sim fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In governments of the popular form it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Buell has been relieved from the command of the Union Army in Kentucky, and Gen. Rosecrans ordered to the position.

A special dispatch from Louisville states: "Those that have heretofore styled the battle of Perryville a Union success are sadly mistaken. It was a terrible and wholly fruitless waste of life and property. The enemy captured 11 guns during the battle. The rebel loss does not exceed two-thirds of ours. We took no prisoners during the engagement.

The Richmond Enquirer of the 21st says Bragg's army was at London, Ky., falling back in order toward Cumberland Gap. Buell's attempt to flank Bragg, while at Camp Dick Robinson was prevented by this retreat. Buell is still endeavoring to flank him, and there may be a battle any day.

It is reported that a fight was in progress at Island No. 10, on Friday.

Gen. Curtis reports that Gen. Blunt attacked on the 22d, a force of the enemy at Mayaville, estimated at from 5000 to 7000 strong. The engagement lasted about an hour, and resulted in the total rout of the enemy, with the loss of all his artillery—a battery of six-pounders, and a large number of horses. Our cavalry, with light howitzers, were still in pursuit of their scattered forces when the messenger left. Our loss was small. Gen. Schofield pursued Gen. Hindman beyond Huntsville, coming close upon him, when his forces precipitately fled beyond Boston Mountains. All the organized forces of the rebels have thus been driven back to the valley of the Arkansas river.

A dispatch from Washington to the Philadelphia Ledger, says:

"The fears expressed by the Richmond journals of an attack on Mobile are well grounded. That the Mobilians have made every effort to render it unsuccessful is well known, and from the accounts received here I am inclined to believe that if we are successful it will be only after a most sanguinary struggle."

FOREIGN.—It is asserted that the British and French Governments have lost no time in announcing their resolution to persist in the policy of perfect neutrality; and there is no likelihood of an immediate recognition. The Lord Mayor of London declines to let the Garibaldian meeting be held at Guildhall, and the police have prohibited further Garibaldian meetings in Hyde Park. The monthly returns of the Bank of France show a decrease in cash of nearly thirty million francs. The steamer Cleopatra, with the August mails, was wrecked off Sherbro river, and is a total loss. Several lives were lost.

☞ The N. Y. Tribune's correspondent asserts that the allegations that the Army of the Potomac is not in a condition to move forward, in consequence of the want of shoes or other supplies, are unfounded. Every requisition has been promptly responded to by the government; all that has been asked for has been granted without hesitation or demur; whatever is wanted, if anything, has not been demanded.

☞ The Herald Washington dispatch says that Mr. Corcoran, the Washington banker, before leaving for Europe, purchased $1,600,0000 in gold. Mr. C. made all of this money out of our country, and then left it disgusted with the institutions under which all his prosperity was attained.

☞ The steamer Columbia, condemned as a prize in the U. S. Court at Florida turns out an exceedingly rich one. A field battery complete, of eight heavy rifled guns, with shot and shell, two thousand Enfield rifles, and large quantities of lead, blankets, army cloth, soap, candles and spices, have already been found.

☞ Hon. Edward Everett having declined a nomination for Congress from the Republicans of the Massachusetts 5th District, Hon. Alexander H. Rice has been re-nominated and has accepted, although he had previously declined to have his name used.

☞ It is reported at Washington that Thurlow Weed has purchased the National Intelligencer, with a view of converting it into an organ bearing semi-official relations to the government.

☞ It is stated that the Governor of Ohio has suspend the writ of habeas corpus in regard to drafted aliens in the camps of that State.

☞ Two dollar Treasury Notes, raised to Fifties, are in circulation. The work is rather neatly done.

☞ New Orleans advices report the arrival on the 14th of the steamer Matanzas. It has been reported she was missing.

☞ Some of the soldiers in Washington sell their bellets for rum.

A LECTURE,

Delivered in the Universalist Church, Sunday evening, Oct. 19th, by the Pastor.

A little more than a year ago, it was ordered by this congregation, that as a means of relief and rest to the sick minister, there should be no sermon,—for the time being,—in the afternoon, but that this part of the Christian Sabbath should be devoted to the interests of the Sunday School.

Under this arrangement, we have conducted our services through the year. The minister has regained his health—the Sunday School has greatly profited—the Parish, it is believed, has not suffered. On the contrary,—notwithstanding the troubles of the times,—the average attendance has been greater than ever before, as has been, I am told, the income of the Society.

So satisfactory has been this arrangement that at a recent meeting called for final action on the subject, it was voted, almost unanimously, that it be continued; and that the Sunday School hereafter hold its sessions in the church, that all may enjoy the privilege of participating in its delightful exercises.

In this action, brethren, I believe you are pioneers in a noble reform. I believe the great mistake of the church has been in devoting all its energies to the instruction and conversion of men, instead of bringing up the children "in the nurture and admonitions of the Lord." I believe it our duty, not only to care for the "sheep," but to feed the "lambs" of Christ. I believe it better, far, to lead a child through successive stages, up to a christian manhood, than to leave him in early life to wander away into paths of wickedness, and then lead him back again with pain and tears. I believe the plan of devoting one half the day to the instruction of the adult minds, and the other more especially to the instruction of the children, is philosophical and christian. I believe if we accept it heartily and work together, as we may and will, it will contribute largely to the permanent well-being of this community, and prosperity of this society.

Heretofore, I have said but little to you in advocacy of this change, preferring that time and experience should convince you of its utility, rather than any words of mine. But now that you have confirmed it by an almost united voice, after a faithful trial, and nothing I may say, can be construed into personal pleading, I propose to offer freely and frankly, some of the reasons in its favor, which exist in my mind, hoping that if a single individual in the Parish disapproves it, he may be convinced that it is wise and needful, and hoping also that my feeble word may have some influence in bringing about a similar change in other congregations in this city and throughout the country.

We will consider the subject in its relations to the ministry, to the Church, and to the rising generation.

The Christian ministry is a divinely appointed means of human salvation. "It pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe."

Any thing that tends to cripple the physical, intellectual, or spiritual energies of the christian minister, must correspondingly retard the cause in which he is engaged. The custom of a sermon in the morning, and a sermon in the afternoon, is enervating to the preacher in each of these particulars.—It subjects him to an amount of intellectual labor beyond the endurance of any common mind.

The people do not generally understand the amount of thought and effort requisite in the preparation of a sermon. They have an idea that the preacher speaks by a kind of inspiration; that thoughts and words bubble up from his soul like water from an artesian well. I have had some acquaintance with the members of this profession. I think I understand their habits and experiences; and in ninety-nine case sout of every hundred, those flashes of inspiration are the result of exhaustive labor; they are jewels dug from the mine of thought; they are drops of sweat that started from the heart and brain at the anvil of endeavor; they are draughts upon his vital energies, which frequently repeated, will sink him into the grave.

In order to write two sermons per week, a man must turn himself into a sermon factory, and literally devote himself, body and soul, time and thought, study and labor, to this one purpose.

Voltaire was a voluminous writer. He performed an amount of labor that elicited the wonder of all literary men. It is said he was the author of seventy volumes. And yet the computation has been made, that he averaged but three pages daily. Three pages per day, will only produce one sermon in a week. So that the preacher, who prepares one sermon weekly, must perform as much labor with the pen as did this remarkable mind—one of the most voluminous authors of his age, or any age.

The statesman considers that he serves his constituents faithfully if he make one or two speeches during a session of Congress. How long could he retain his position, if he had to make a hundred speeches in a year? Is it said that there are times when he goes through the country speaking every night for weeks together? This is indeed true. But do you not know that he delivers substantially the same address each time? Let him deliver two or three addresses every week to the same congregation, and he shall find it quite another undertaking.

The preacher is expected to do this. It is enough to break a man of iron. It keeps him on the rack continually for new themes, new expressions, and new presentations. Through all the days and nights of the weary week, in his waking hours, and in his troubled dreams, he is haunted with the shadowy skeletons of sermons that must take form and feature before another Sunday. Subject to constant interruption, he never has more time to devote to both than should be given to one. Sunday morning finds him weary, often exhausted, ere its labors are begun. He performs them as best he may, conscious often that he has neither done justice to his subjects nor his people. A feeling of relief comes over him when his task is ended. His mind has not been free before for days, and now he thinks he will throw aside all care to-night and sleep. But before his tired brain finds rest in slumber, it is searching again among the shadows for profitable subjects for next Sunday's sermons. And so week after week he labors on, scarcely knowing the meaning of rest, until he breaks down beneath the burden, and a "long vacation," or "tour to Europe," or "change of situation," is essential to restore his wasted energies, or standing at his post he dies.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Maj. Scott, of the 6th Regt., has resigned his commission and returned to his home in Peterborough. In consequence of severe service, and the sad affliction in the death of his wife, who was drowned on returning from a visit to her husband, he has felt obliged to return home.

—— Gen. John H. Gage, of Nashua, who was wounded on Tuesday by the accidental discharge of a gun, died at Franklin on Thursday. His family were with him at the time of his death. A post mortem examination showed that four shots penetrated the brain and also quite a large piece of bone. He was a genial, kind-hearted man, of excellent business talents, and one of the most enterprizing men in Nashua. He had accumulated handsome property. He leaves a wife and three children, and was about 50 years of age.

—— The American states that the manufactures produced in Manchester add largely to the Revenue, there being many individuals in that city who pay each over $100 per month tax on manufactured goods, while the corporations which are doing even a moderate business, pay by the thousands of dollars. The amount of the assessors returns for that city for the month of September was over $7000, a sum as large as in some entire counties, and nearly as much as the large and prosperous county of Merrimack.

—— Capt. Henry B. Atherton, of Cavendish, Vt., late of the 4th regiment of that State, but disabled, through wounds received at Lee's Mills, from doing military duty, is to assume editorial charge of the Nashua Telegraph.

—— The correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from Perrysville, Ky., Oct. 9, pays high compliment to Brig. Gen. Eben Gay. He says, "The conduct of Gen. Gay and his staff is spoken of with much praise by all who witnessed the battle." He is son of Ziba Gay, Esq, of Nashua.

—— The clock on the Baptist Church in Nashua had the face to go on a strike Thursday night. The machinery got out of order, and after striking ten it continued to strke, something over a thousand times, until it finally run down.

—— The Manchester Mirror in an article on the prospects of our State election, says that "4000 of the 6000 volunteers gone to the war, voted the Republican ticket."

☞ John G. Whittier, the "Quaker poet," of Amesbury, Mass., is a republican candidate for State Senator.

Local.

Our Portsmouth cotemporary, the Chronicle, is again in error. The question raised by us as to that paper in puffing Train, was not as to its taste or good sense. We are so uncharitable as to think the motive pecuniary; therefore the more reprehensible. From necessity, oftentimes, the readers of any journal find them selves sold, but the selling should never be the intentional act of the editor. Any body but a printer can be penurious.—Manchester American.

We were about to write that we were surprised at this outrageous violation, on the part of the American, of the courtesy and decency which should obtain among all men, and especially among editors. But this is not the first instance of the sort which we have noticed in that paper—the editor of which, like many others,—in his bitter partizanship, is apt to forget the more important fact, that he should be a gentleman rather than a politician.

Notwithstanding the American's gratuitous insult, and false as well as "uncharitable" inference, we believe that this same Chronicle is the sole and only newspaper in the State, which never has, directly or indirectly, received one farthing from any party or partisan, sect, clan, clique or individual, for advocating or opposing any principles, opinions, or what not. It has always stood, as to day it stands, on its own "independent" ground; asking no party's favors, and fearing no party's frowns; and never yet knew what it was to feed on government pap or official spoils. Can the American say as much? We hurl back the mean accusation of bribery, in the teeth of the writer—and will close by simply saying that we were not requested to write or publish, nor in any way required or rewarded for what we wrote and published, editorially, concerning Mr. Train. And neither did we ever, nor would we for Mr. Train, or any other man, (nor would we accuse any other decent editor of doing it,) publish and endorse editorially, any "puff" whatsoever, for pay, which we did not believe ourselves. And a man rarely suspects another of doing what he would not do himself in like circumstances. Put that in your pipe, Mr. American, and smoke it.

☞ The company of nine months' volunteers, raised in this city by Messrs. Thacher, Wildes, and Haven, were mustered into the U. S. service, at Concord, on Saturday morning,—two men being rejected by the examining surgeon. Volunteers from Stratham and Hampton are included in the same company. Previous to being mustered in, the company elected the following officers,—Joseph H. Thacher, Captain; George T. Wildes, 1st Lieutenant; William A. Haven, 2d Lieutenant;—all of this city.

The Portsmouth members of the company returned to this city on Saturday evening, and will remain until Thursday morning next. They form Company K, of the 16th regiment, Col. Mason W. Tappan.

JUBILATE!—The Alleghaneans, singers no less than ringers, are coming! By referring to the advertisement, it will be seen that they will give two concerts here, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings. They have circumnavigated the globe, winning fame and fortune; and the people gladly crowd to hear them, for they have returned with renewed attractions. Everywhere they are greeted with full houses and rapturous applause, and it would be easy to fill a column with the enthusiastic notices of the public press

☞ An item copied from a Manchester paper, a few days since, relative to the wounding of the late lamented Gen. Gage—stated that he was Commissary General of this State. This is a mistake, of course, for Gen. Daniel L. Randall, of this city, is the present worthy incumbent of the office of Commissary General of New Hampshire. Gen. Gage was Quartermaster General.

There was a peculiar "fitness of things" in the position of Dr Nat. Batchelder, of Fort Constitution notoriety, while presiding over a convention of the N. H. Democracy, on Tuesday at Portsmouth. The natural alliance existing between the friends of Jeff. Davis at the South and Franklin Pierce at the North, was very properly illustrated in this instance, and no man who acts with that party has reason to complain. Some Democrats think it an impolite act and are bold in denunciation of it.—Manchester American.

☞ The fishing schooner George D. Loring, of Gloucester, Mass., Daniel F. Tyler, master, arrived at Portland a few days since, and reported herself as from the British Provinces, and in distress, with sails split, &c., and without cargo. The second day after her arrival she was found abandoned by skipper and crew. The bedding, clothing, and everything belonging to the crew, had been removed. From papers on board it was evident that she had been into Halifax, and there probably had sold cargo of cod-fish and mackerel.—The skipper it is supposed run off with the proceeds.

☞ The 28th Maine regiment, Colonel Woodman, from Augusta for the seat of war, passed through this city on Sunday.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

BUY CALIFORNIA WINES

They are the Purest!
The Best!
The Cheapest!

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine

The Port has a fine flavor and body; and The Port is excellent because it is pure.

AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING

FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above.

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

The peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuious distribution, where may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. Those cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this sanative will restore the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and there remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL,

The World's Great Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

This has been so long used and so universally known, that we need do no more than assure the public that its quality is kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do all it has ever done.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would specially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Bragdon, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John R. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stickell, James H. Pindar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon; Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Portsmouth, Feb. 1, 1862.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

EYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—sometimes so bad as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pains, which soon grew as large as a hen's egg; it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence of the good effects of Dr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble since.
CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SELEON SWETT.
Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1851.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH EOWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add, that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved: therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. F. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humors, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of an unlimited extent, Dr. Dow is now the greatest medical resource in the treatment of those maladies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Weakness of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest siblings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Also, the Genuine Medicines of the Capotins, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

So invariably certain is the new and improved treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the care of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continuing to conduct Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, Copies of Papers or Drawings Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished by mailing One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that success is the result of ability in THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for equal service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal, and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

At his own request, a Court of Inquiry, consisting of Gens. Hunter, Cadwallader and Garfield, met in Washington on Monday, to investigate the military conduct of Maj. Gen. McDowell.

There has been some doubt expressed whether the pirate "Alabama" is the so-called "290," but it is now pretty well established that it is the same vessel.

Dispatches to the New York papers assert that the rebels are retreating southward. It is reported that they evacuated Martinsburg, after destroying all the railroad property, and that they are rapidly leaving Winchester.

Citizens from Winchester, who came into our lines on Sunday, confirm the reports that the rebels have evacuated that place and fallen back toward Staunton.

The Times' Washington dispatch says that the rebels have really determined to arm the negroes. A recent North Carolina newspaper states that about 8000 blacks, officered by white men, have been sent from camps of instruction to garrison fortifications and important towns.

It is reported that Wise with 20,000 rebels is advancing on Yorktown, having reached New Kent Court House.

The rebels occupy the Tennessee shore opposite Island No. 10.

The guerilla John Morgan is said to have received orders from Gen. Bragg to report to him at Nashville. There is information, aside from this, that indicates Nashville as a point of danger. Morgan was again repulsed, on Friday, at Morgantown, Ky., and 16 of his men taken prisoners.

A Houston (Texas) letter to the Grenada Appeal gives the particulars of the capture of Sabine City. The rebels spiked their guns and evacuated, when our force landed and took possession of fort and town. A rebel dispatch reports the capture of Capt. Kittredge, commander of the Federal fleet which bombarded Corpus Christi, who came ashore with eight men.

Galveston, Texas, on the 5th was occupied by our forces.

Beauregard claims a victory over "the Abolitionists" near Savannah, on the 24th. The Federals attacked in force, having come in 13 gunboats and transports. The Federal troops were repulsed to their gunboats, leaving their dead and wounded on the field. The rebel "cavalry," he says, "were in hot pursuit"—of the gunboats?

A Charleston dispatch, 23d, says "the Federal gunboats are anchored below Coosawatchie. The enemy have been driven to their boats."

☞ The U. S. debt on the first day of the present month, was only $520,000,000, and it is now less than $560,000,000. This amount includes the entire circulation and every species of notes, and between seventy and eighty million debt of the late Administration—but excepts claims for which no requisitions have yet been made, but which, adjusted and unadjusted, cannot exceed $20,000,000.

WISE ACTION.—A decree has been issued in Nicaragua that all persons coming into the Republic must have passports, and all free negroes and other "degraded" races are excluded.—Newburyport Herald.

Whether this regulation be wise or foolish, says Uncle Toby, it is very queer, as to the "degraded races," coming as it does, from Nicaragua, where there are 30,000 whites, 18,000 negroes, 26,000 indians, and 150,000 mixed, in all 200,000. When half the people are mongrels, two thirds of the remainder are indians, and only ten per cent. of the whole pretend to be white, the talk of degraded races becomes ludicrous.

☞ A "stock" item, a few days ago, said that "it was extremely unsafe to speculate in gold," now a days, at the present high rates. We wonder what kind of gambling (or "speculation") is safe? "Nothing risk, nothing have," to be sure—but on the other hand, nothing lose, too. The City Board of Brokers have "struck gold and durable demand notes from their lists" of articles of traffic. Yes, no doubt, from their public lists.

WHAT SALT COSTS.—A cargo of salt was entered at the Boston Custom House, Thursday, the cost of which at the port of shipment was $750, and to defray the duty on it the importer paid $840 premium on the notes, making the premium alone $90 more than the original cost of the whole cargo. The entire duty was $3000 gold or its equivalent. The duty on salt is 18c per 100 lbs.

OHIO ELECTION.—The official returns give a Democratic majority for Supreme Judge of 8749. The Democratic vote has increased 35,000 since last year, and the Union vote has decreased 28,000. The total vote of the State shows a falling off of 78,000 since the Presidential election.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— John Edwin Mason, of Manchester, who went out with the Ninth regiment, under Col. Fellows, has been promoted to Assistant Adj. General of the First Brigade, 2d Division, 9th Army Corps, on account of bravery at the battle of Antietam. When the Ninth was in danger of being captured or annihilated, Col. Fellows asked him if he dared take a message to Gen. Nagle or Gen. Sturgis for reinforcements across a hill that the rebels were shelling with terrific effects. Mason replied: "I will do it or die in the attempt." He carried the message and returned over the same hill. The next day he received the appointment.

—— Daniel C. Finkham, Esq., assumes the management of the Coos Republican during the absence of the editor as Colonel of the 17th regiment.

—— Sergeant J. K. Piper, of the 1st N. H. Battery has come home to obtain recruits for the battery, 27 men being wanted.

—— Mr. Wm. Floyd of Claremont, died very suddenly on the 17th inst. He was found the night previous lying insensible in his field where he had been at work.

—— Rev. A. W. Stevens, of Barre, Ms., recently of the Divinity School, Cambridge, has accepted a call from the Unitarian Church and Society in Manchester. He will be ordained on Tuesday evening, November 4.

—— Two citizens of Amherst have killed eleven coons within a few weeks. On Saturday night they made a visit to Squog Mountain, and took three from one tree, and killed another.

THE COUNTRY.—Every man owes allegiance to the Government, but no more than the Government owes protection to him. Let the Government show its will and power to protect him in his rights, and if then he resists he is a traitor; but not till then. We have never proved—and God grant that we never may—that there are no Union men in the South. Let our army be pressed forward to the breaking of the rebel power and then we shall see.

Then we turn to the North, and we have not proved—and God grant we never may—that there is not equal love of country and equal loyalty to the Government in all parties. That men differ in opinions and in policy is true; that always was and always will be; but our individual or party platforms or measures of policy are not the government. It does not show a man to be true or false, because he does or does not approve the President's proclamation, more than does his opinion that Gen. McClellan is or is not a commander equal to Napoleon. There is no difference in parties in their desire to see the Union restored and the Constitution maintained. Republicans, Democrats and Bell-Everetts enlist in the same armies, die on the same battle fields, or give their substance to support the war; Ohio and Indiana are not behind Massachusetts and Vermont in their patriotism.

That there are some of the Opposition foolish or wicked enough to desire the government to succeed only so far as it will aid their party, we can believe; because we see that there are some of the abolition school who do not wish the country saved unless the negro can be the equal of the white man; but this only shows that virtue and patriotism are not confined to one party, no more are weakness and wickedness.—But we may thank God that in all parties the men who place themselves and their factions before and above the country, are the few—the very few, while the masses of the people are sound, and true and loyal.

On our own part we regret to see any party spirit; we regret that there should be two or more parties in time of war.—We all have one duty, which is always and everywhere to support the Government, and in time of war not to be captious and exacting but to allow for the difficulties that surround the country under circumstances that were not foreseen and could not be provided against. All acknowledge that we have a President honest and patriotic, and each and every man is bound to support him—not simply to countenance, but to aid him in every measure that has for its object the suppression of rebellion; and in every other measure he can conscientiously endorse; and we are bound also to elect those men and only those men to public positions who will be true, and not use their power to defeat the Government. This is alike the duty of Republicans and Democrat.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Wednesday evening, J. L. Hunter, Esq., of Gardner, Me., and Asa Turner, of Brooklyn, Me., were released from custody at Fort Preble. Attention to the case was urged upon the department, and Simeon Draper, Esq., Provost Marshal of the U. S. came to Portland to investigate the matter. Upon an interview with the gentlemen, in which his interrogations were in the form of a catechism, he ordered their release at once. Of Mr. Hunter's case, he simply remarked that he might have been imprudent.

LATEST FROM ETHIOPIA.—"Say, Pomp, a liable darkey tell me just now dat Jeff. Davis 'gwine to 'taliate 'bout the President's proclamation—he 'gwine to declare all the niggers in the Nort States slaves arter the fust of Janwery next."

Pomp—"Bress us all!"—Vanity Fair.

☞ Gen. Apathy now has command of the department which includes Virginia and Maryland; therefore nothing is done on either side. We do not know but that McClellan and Lee will take it into their heads to make peace, independent of Lincoln and Davis, or either Congress. They have already suspended hostilities.

BY THE PASTOR.

Continued.

Were is not for this over exertion, long vacations would not be needed by the profession. Ministers may just as well retain their health, and buoyancy of spirits, as any other class of men. All that is necessary, is to conform their lives and labors to the laws of nature, and the evident design of Heaven.

A reform in this particular, will also tend to the permanency of the pastoral relation. Here is the great secret of so many ministerial changes. May be the pastor loves his people, as a brother, as a father. It would be his joy and pride to live and die with them. He just begins to learn their necessities, and be prepared to accomplish for them the greatest amount of good. But he finds his strength is failing. He must either have rest immediately or lose his health entirely. Rest he cannot have at home. The demands of his pulpit require continual labor. By changing his situation he can lean for a time upon past labor. So with mutual pain and tears, the pastoral tie is broken. He enters a new and untried field, to leave it in a little while just as he left the other; and so to the end. It is this, more than any other one thing, that has almost destroyed the very idea of pastoral relations, and has rendered ministers a migratory class of men.

One of the most eminent Medical Professors in this country says:—"No clergyman should ever think of preaching more than once on the Sabbath. That is as much as between one Sabbath and another, he can prepare himself to do. That is as much as his people can digest, and appropriate, and be benefitted by. That is as much as his health can endure, unless he stimulate himself to extraordinary conditions of vital strength; and if he do, he may make up his mind to break down early, die and be forgotten. The two-fold life which the clergyman is compelled to live, justifies his view. He is not only a teacher, but a private advisor and counsellor. There are many difficulties, trials, troubles, hardships, struggles, sorrows, sins, which congregate themselves within the boundary of the private lives of his parishioners. These he has to look after. Almost daily visitations are indispensable. While performing these duties, he must be all eyes and ears. To suppose that he may answer the needs of those who thus consult him, without having large draughts made upon the sum total of the life force by which his health is maintained is to suppose him so unfit for his office as to leave no question of his duty to vacate it. To suppose him to be thus taxed, and yet well qualified to preach twice, not to say thrice, on Sunday, is to suppose an utter impossibility. God never made a man of frame large enough, intellect profound enough, and heart of sufficient spiritual force, to do to the best advantage, such a round of duties for any length of time." This, remember, is the language, not of a clergyman, but of a physician.

But this is not all. A man can never give what he does not possess. "He can never transcend himself." If he pour out, he must pour in—otherwise the fountain will be exhausted. If he prepare two sermons a week, they will occupy all the time which he can spare from Parish and other duties, leaving almost no time at all for reading and study. In a little while al his freshness and elasticity of thought are gone. His pulpit ministrations are only feeble repitions. What his people gain in quantity they lose in quality. A man can put all the valuable thought of one week into one sermon. If he spread it out over two or three, it must be painfully diluted. Giles said of a man who had written three thousand sermons, that "it would have been better for the world and for himself, if he had written three hundred."

It is strange that congregations never think of the matter in this light. There is a limit to the preacher's power to labor.—There is a point beyond which he cannot pass. He may bestow it upon one sermon, or two. But the time and labor which are ordinarily devoted to two sermons, if given to one, would render it by far more satisfying and instructive than the two. Mental philosophers tell us that "we cannot pursue two trains of thought at the same time." If but one sermon is to be prepared, the preacher can give it undivided attention.—If his thoughts are vibrating between two, he can scarcely think successfully on either.—He cannot put his best thought into either. They will both be feeble, dwarfed, imperfect children of his heart and brain.

Beecher says, "The man who is so vain as to assume that he can prepare two sermons in a week that are worth preaching, should never preach at all." His very vanity unfits him for the duties of this profession. And our own Chapin told me, the last time I saw him, that if he had continued to preach in the afternoon, he would have broken down years ago; and added he, "there is no consideration that would induce me to resume that custom, as I believe it hurtful alike to minister and people." This is the testimony of the two leading preachers of this country; men who in physical and intellectual power stand head and shoulders above all common men.

But this is not all. It has been truly said that "every man who is really a minister of the gospel—called by God to preach, should, every Sabbath day, and in fact, every day of his life, be so vitalized at the heart, so spiritualized in his affectional nature, that when he comes, on the Sabbath or any other public occasion, to proclaim the truth to the people, he may be in a condition himself to feel it, and so make them feel it. God sanctifies one soul thro' the medium of another soul that has been previously sanctified. The very idea of a preacher presupposes this. He stands between God and the people, to teach them what God has taught him. So much of his knowledge as is purely intellectual, has to make its way from his own brain to theirs. So much of his knowledge as is of the heart, must pass from his heart to their hearts.—If he be so taxed by his labors that his higher vitalities can make but poor expression of themselves, and his affectional nature can exhibit itself only in feeble measure, then it is utterly absurd to suppose that his public ministrations can be productive of other than feeble results.

S. J. COURT.—PORTSMOUTH.

MONDAY.—The case of State v. Edmund O. Bean, for an assault upon Oliver G. W. Brown, at Newington, in November 1861, was commenced on Monday morning, and is still on trial. Solicitor for State, Hatch for Respondent.

☞ Acting Ensign Charles C. Ricker, of this city, has been ordered to the iron-clad steamer Nahant, 2, at South Boston.

Acting Master C. C. Bunker, and Master's Mates Wm. W. Grigg, Wm. Knapp jr., (of Boston, and formerly attached to steam sloop Adonirack) William Wingood and Charles Putnam (son of Rev. Dr. Putnam of Roxbury,) have been ordered to screw sloop Ossipee, 9, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

☞ No troupe now travelling has received more flattering encouragement from the press and the people, than the Alleghanians; and they have appeared in all parts of the world, where concertizers ever go, and even beyond the limits that ordinarily confine them. For the past four years this troupe have travelled in foreign countries, making a tour around the world in the course of that time. They visited the cities in the western part of South America, California, Sandwich Islands, Australia, and they gave five concerts in Otaheite under the patronage of Queen Pomare of the Society Islands. The narrative of these adventures, as written at the time in letters to the New York Musical Review, is very interesting. The Company are now making their first tour at home since their return, and are received everywhere with the same favor that attended them before they left.

☞ Ship Reporter, of Boston, Captain White, from New York for San Francisco, was abandoned off Cape Horn, Sept. 17th and 18th. She had experienced heavy weather, and afterwards filled with water. Of 26 persons on board, only four have been saved, as far as is known. The mate and 17 of the crew left on one raft, and the captain, with the remainder, on another. Of the first raft nothing has been heard. Those on the second were picked up by boats from the ship Enchanter, but not until the captain and all but the second mate and three men had died from the effects of the severe weather. Thomas C. Lawson, of this State, was probably lost.

The Reporter was a fine ship of 1474 tons, built at East Boston in 1853, and was owned by Wm. F. Weld & Co., Boston. The ship was valued at $70,000, on which there is $50,000 insurance. The freight money (about $30,000) was insured for $20,000.

☞ Among others at the Epiphany Hospital in Washington, is Nathaniel Young, Portsmouth, typhoid fever, and not yet fit for hard service (doing duty as nurse.)

☞ The U. S. gunboat Kearsarge, Captain Pickering, sailed from Gibraltar Sept. 30th for Western Islands, leaving the Sumter at Gibraltar.

A BIG LAW CASE.—Hon. Caleb Cushing is now in Washington to argue a case before the Costa Rica Commission involving five hundred thousand dollars, money loaned to that Republic.

☞ Ohio citizens are raising a fund of $100,000 to be devoted to purchasing artificial limbs for such Ohio soldiers as may need them.

☞ The Baltimore Patriot hits it very happily when it characterizes the editorial office as the impersonation of a struggle between time and space.

☞ The Roanoke, the only completely mailed from stem to stern iron-clad man-of-war in the world, is nearly ready for service.

☞ The Hon. George Bancroft has published a letter declining a Congressional nomination in New York.

☞ The Richmond Dispatch of Oct. 15 says: "Gen. Earl Van Dorn has been superseded in the command of the army recently engaged with the enemy at Corinth, and Maj. Gen. J. C. Pemberton assigned to the command of that portion of our forces. We are not advised whether the loss of the battle of Corinth had anything to do with this change of Commanders."

CLERICAL COMPLIMENTS.—The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher pronounced from his pulpit in Brooklyn, that the only thing which saved the Episcopal Convention, recently in session there, from eternal infamy, was the pastoral letter of Bishop McIlvaine.

McGREGOR'S PATENT

AIR-WARMING AND VENTILATING

FURNACES.

The subscriber would invite the attention of any person in want of a Furnace, to this celebrated heating apparatus, the most perfect in use;—simple, powerful and durable.

The advantages which this Furnace possesses over all others, are:

1st. The perfect consumption of coal No clinkers are made, and no ashes need be sifted.

2d. A continuous fire may be kept through the entire season.

3d. No red hot iron comes in contact with the air to be warmed, and ample accommodation is offered for the evaporation of water, so that the atmosphere of the rooms is that of a soft Italian summer, without any of the dry, oppressive air often felt in furnace heated rooms.

4th. No gas can escape from the fire chamber into the rooms above.

5th. More heat is generated from the coal than by any other method of heating; consequently it is THE MOST ECONOMICAL.

The patterns of this Furnace have been very greatly improved recently, and several sizes added, making in all twelve sizes of Brick and Portable Furnaces, adapted for all sizes of buildings.

This Furnace is more used than any other in first class dwelling-houses and public buildings—and volumes of testimonials can be shown in its favor.

We might refer to the following persons who are using the McGregor in this city:

AT THE TEMPLE.

☞ Positively Two Nights Only. ☜

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY EVES, Oct. 29th and 30th.

Lately returned from a four years' tour round the world, and having since their return, given SIXTY-TWO SUCCESSFUL CONCERTS in the city of New York; also visited Washington, Baltimore, and many of the principal cities of the Western States, in all of which their Concerts have been attended by the largest, most fashionable and delighted audiences, their ever greeted musical artists, would now respectfully announce TWO of their highly popular MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENTS, as above.

Their Repertoire embraces a choice collection of Vocal Quartets, arranged in their own peculiar style, also a variety of the sweetest English, Irish, Scotch, German and Swiss Ballads, exultant, Humorous Songs, Duets, &c., Arias, Cavatinas and Scenas, from the works of the most popular Italian and French Masters. In addition to their usual choice selections of Vocal Music, they will play, each evening, several pieces on the celebrated EWTSS BELLS.

They will also introduce the wonderful WOOD AND STRAW PIANO, the most astonishing musical instrument of the age.

Beg leave to state to their numerous friends and patrons of former years, that about four years ago they added to their SWISS BELLS, to their already superior Concerts; and the Press, as well as all competent musical critics, have pronounced their Bell Playing superior to anything of the kind ever heard in this country, not excepting that of the original Swiss Bell Ringers who appeared in the United States about 15 years since.

Admission 25 cts.; Children 15 cts.

Commences at 7½ o'clock.

During their sojourn in foreign lands, the concerts of the ALLEGHANIANS were honored by the attendance of hundreds of thousands of delighted listeners—Kings, Queens, Nobles, and the most distinguished men of the age patronized their entertainments, and lavished upon them the most flattering demonstrations of approval.

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every manwoman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine.

The Port has a fine flavor and body; and The Port is excellent because it is pure.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the!

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Bragdon, J. E. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John E. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pindar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon; Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT" VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable article, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable,—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE ☜

EYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some times so bad as to be quite free from her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to her, celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr Swett's PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of its being cured after Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by exercise, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for humors.
HANNAH KNOX.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of Dr. S. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 26, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CRESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that one has found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CRESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

MATHEWS' ARNICA HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally; it is a spirit, of so to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of nineteen years, Dr. D has met the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Tumors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest siblings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Cupcttes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail, inclose $1 and a red stamp.

April 7—1y Saw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of Diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodation for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, on all but one of those cases of diseases of every name and nature, having by his unvarying attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

N. B.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries: Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and at SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity or a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twenty rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Burnsides' corps crossed the Potomac near Harper's Ferry, on Sunday. Gen. Pleasanton's cavalry lead the advance, and arrived at Purcellville on Monday. The rebels have deserted the line of the Potomac, and it was generally believed that Lee was falling back as fast as possible to Gordonsville.

Gen. McClellan, on Monday, removed his headquarters to the Virginia side of the Potomac.

The small pox has broken out with unusual violence among the people at Winchester, and among the troops, which probably hastened the departure of the rebels. The general health of the Union army is good, and the number of sick is unusually small.

The rebel army in Virginia is divided into two bodies, under Longstreet and Jackson. Jackson is marching directly to Staunton, where, it is asserted, winter quarters for a large force are improvised. Longstreet, it is thought, moves to Gordonsville. Gen. Burnside moved South on Monday, and is on his way to Winchester, which the rebels have evacuated. It is believed he will come up with Longstreet's rear and a fight ensue. Gen. Slocum's corps has been sent forward to support him. The entire army of the Potomac crosses the river, as soon as transportation for supplies can be secured.

Gen. Hooker's furlough has expired and he has reported to the War Department.—His foot is yet seriously inflamed, and it is said his Surgeon objects to his going on the field for a fortnight.

The San Jacinto has arrived at Fortress Monroe, from off Wilmington, for coal.—She is supposed to be in search of the 290.

Gen. Bragg's official report of the battle at Perryville claims a great victory. A rebel dispatch of the 24th inst., says Bragg's army has retired to a safe position. Gen. Bragg, it says, has secured and brought away, 4300 wagon-loads of provisions. He lost 2500 barrels of pork, which he left at Lexington.

The rebels in Oregon county, Mo., were again routed by Col. Brown, on the 25th, and are retreating towards Felville, Ark.

Admiral Farragut was at Pensacola on the 15th, awaiting orders to attack Mobile.

Movements are in progress to remove the obstacles at Vicksburg, to the free navigation of the Mississippi river. Gen. Grant is preparing to look after Price and Van Dorn, and Gen. Curtis and Admiral Porter are fixing things also. To hold Vicksburg, it will be necessary to pursue Van Dorn, Price & Co., below Jackson, and obtain possession of the railroad at the latter place.

☞ State Elections take place next week, in several important States. In our neighbor state of Massachusetts, the parties are called The People's Party, and the Republicans; but the Louisville Journal and the Boston Post agree in saying that the contest is not between republican and democratic parties, but between "conservatives and radicals;" the latter aiming to destroy slavery, while the conservatives aim chiefly to crush abolition and abolitionists.

The republicans nominate Gov. Andrew for re-election, and it is well understood they intend to re-elect Charles Sumner to the Senate of the U. S.—while the people's party, aiming to defeat these men, nominate Gen. Devens for governor, and Chas. Francis Adams for Senator; both republicans. The People's Party have also nominated a full ticket for Congress. In the 7th district they nominated Chs. R. Train, who declines and says,

"The' party ties hang loosely on me——sympathizing entirely with the president and the republican party in his policy of emancipation—I cannot with propriety, accept the honor."

In the 9th district they nominated Eli Thayer; but he declines, goes with the president, and believes we must not only overcome but "regenerate" the rebel states.

Hon. John H. Clifford declines a similar nomination, and "cannot permit" his name to be used in any partisan contest——to divide and distract us." He supports the president fully.

Col. Hinks declines to run for congress against Mr. Alley in the Salem district, and declares his "vote shall be given for none who yield a qualified support to the administration in its war measures, or whose election would give encouragement and comfort to the enemies of the country!"

☞ Madam Anna Bishop, the vocalist, was burned in St. Paul, Minn., on Wednesday, the 15th inst., by her clothes taking fire; from the effects of which she died the Friday following.

☞ The grand jury have indicted Gen. Jeff. C. Davis for manslaughter, in killing Gen. Nelson.

☞ Paul Morphy was at Havana at last dates. He leaves for Cadiz per the Spanish steamer on the 30th inst. Com. Wilkes was there also.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Statesman gives the following account of the present location of each of our regiments:—

The Second is in camp not far from Fairfax Seminary Hospital. It is now granted a season of rest for recruiting.

The Third and Fourth are in the Army of South Carolina, under Gen. Mitchell, and located near Port Royal. The Third is in the Brigade of Gen. Terry.

The Fifth is in the Army of the Potomac and led the recent advance toward Winchester, being deployed as skirmishers. It is in Caldwell's brigade.

The Seventh is in Florida, under the immediate command of Gen. Brannon. It was among the expeditionary forces to retake Jacksonville.

The Eighth is at Carrolton, La., a few miles out of New Orleans.

The Sixth and Ninth are in the Army Corps of Gen. Burnside, Army of the Potomac.

The Tenth and Eleventh are in the brigade of Gen. Briggs, Army of the Potomac.

The Twelfth was recently in camp near Fort De Kalb, on Arlington Heights.

The Thirteenth and Fourteenth are in camp near Washington.

The Fifteenth and Sixteenth are in camp in Concord, and will leave at an early day. The Seventeenth is not yet in camp, and it is presumed that men enough to fill its ranks have not yet enlisted. Any deficiency in this respect will be supplied by drafting.

—— Mr. Charles W. Abbott, 15 years of age, son of Nicholas B. Abbott, of Manchester, was kicked by a horse in the stomach, and so seriously injured that he died a few days afterwards.

—— Rev. Mr. Downs, of Lebanon, has been appointed Chaplain of the 2d Regiment, and has been granted leave of absence for one year.

——H. H. Pearson, of Exeter, has been appointed Major of the 6th Regiment. He was formerly captain of Co. C, and promoted by regular rank.

—— There is at present an unusual amount of sickness in Manchester among children. In some instances nearly one half of the pupils in the public schools are absent from their seats, from sickness or fear of disease. Throat affections are the most prevalent, and have in many cases proved fatal.

—— There is to be a grand two days' trot at Dover on Thursday and Friday of this week. Three trots are announced. The "old Derry Fairs" will be held at the same time and place.

—— A new Woolen Mill is being erected on the stream about one mile below the village of Great Falls. It is to be 110 feet long and 54 feet wide—six stories high on one side and five on the other.

For the Chronicle.

THE EPISCOPALIANS.—Messrs. Editors: A brief article in the Chronicle, yesterday, headed "Clerical Compliments," from the pulpit of H. W. Beecher, Brooklyn, where allusion was made to the Episcopal convention lately in session in New York, demands a passing notice. The Episcopal Church, in New England, has, generally, and I think wisely, since the unhappy war in our country began, abstained in the pulpit from much or any mention of it, confining their sermons to their Divine Master's teaching, "Peace on Earth, good will to men;" but in their prayers, twice on the Sabbath, they pray for the President of the United States and also for the restoration of peace and prosperity to our beloved country. I hope this will save them from the "eternal infamy" the reverend gentleman would pronounce on them, and if he and very many others would preach more of tee doctrines and precepts taught them by the great head of the church, they would themselves profit more by it, and their hearers most certainly would, and would all of them be better men and christians. EPISCOPALIAN.

A SECESSIONIST DISOWNED BY HIS LOYAL MOTHER.—A few days since a secessionist at Wilkesbarre, Pa., was ridden on a rail. He was then conveyed home, but his mother refused to receive him, as he was a traitor and not worthy to enter the house. She told the boys to take him down South and give him to Jeff. Davis. She has two sons in the service of the United States, and regarded this fellow as a disgrace to the family.

AN INDEPENDENT JUDGE.—Hon. D. A. Smalley, U. S. District Judge for Vermont, imposed a fine of one hundred dollars on U. S. Marshal Baldwin, for refusing to surrender a prisoner charged with treason, under a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Smalley held that the orders of the War Department were in violation of the Constitution. The Marshal paid the fine.—N. Y. Argus.

SUNDAY SERVICES,

A LECTURE

Delivered in the Universalist Church, Portsmouth, Sunday evening, Oct. 19th,

BY THE PASTOR.

Continued.

The effect of a sermon, as you all know, depends largely upon the warmth and fervor of its delivery. Now, it is impossible to pronounce two discourses in quick succession with the unction which attends, or may attend, the delivery of one. If the preacher pour his soul into the first, he cannot into the second. He must husband his strength in one or both. This holding back of the inner forces deprives his services of their spiritual power. The uplifting, purifying element, that should be there, is wanting.

Or, if perchance he is self-forgetful, and, possessing an ardent temperament which kindles quickly with his theme, gives vent to the fountain of feeling, it will not be long before the over-taxed soul will escape from its fragile prison, and the church will be filled with wonder and sorrow, that so faithful a shepherd, should have been taken from his flock in the midst of his years and usefulness.

Here is the great evil of this system. The most ardent, devoted, faithful, are soonest sacrificed. The men who might become as shining pillars in the church of Christ, are broken down in the very beginning of their usefulness. I might mention scores in our own denomination, who began their ministry as "morning stars." They were the hope and joy of the fraternity. Multitudes hung enraptured on their eloquence; and we prophesied great things for their meridian years. But they never reached their meridian. Their over-taxed vital energies gave way, and their spirits, rising above these toils and sins, were lost in the radiant glow of Heaven. Others are following in their footsteps,—our most faithful and able men,—and unless their churches come to their relief quite soon, their thrilling inspiration will be lost to the world.

But some one says, the fathers always preached two sermons, why not the sons. It has never yet been shown that the custom of the fathers in this particular was wise or profitable. The fathers had no artificial means of heating their places of worship. We submit to innovation in this particular. We have adopted many changes and improvements upon their customs. Why may we not adopt another.

But it can be easily shown, that though the fathers preached two sermons, they did not labor harder than the sons will be obliged to if they preach but one. There are different demands upon the pulpit now from what there were half a century ago. We have lines of Christian effort, which were unknown to them. I will show that this is true before I finish this discourse. And then it is quite a different thing to preach to a congregation, every man, woman and child of which are educated, and are daily conversant with the best thought of the age, through lectures, books and papers, from what it is to interest a congregation who look to their minister as the only means of instruction. In former times the people accepted the preacher's sayings without note or comment. They were not made nervous by false philosophy, or limping logic, or bad grammar, or imperfect accent, as people are to-day. You demand a more careful style of sermonizing. You must grant the requisite time for careful preparation.

But I am extending this plea in behalf of the ministers beyond what I intended. It is not a personal plea. By the deliberate wisdom and noble generosity of this people, I am placed beyond the need of making it in my own behalf. Had it been needed in self defence, it would never have been offered. I make it not for myself, but for my brothers. I feel that the time has come for change.

And yet I want to say in passing, that I would not relieve the ministry at the expense of truth and righteousness. If it can be made to appear that so many sermons are essential to the upbuilding of the church, that they are really a source of profit to the world, then in the name of humanity, and in God's name, let us preach them, whatever may be the consequence to ourselves. Personally we are of little account. Our business is to benefit the world. Let us spend and be spent in the cause of Christ.

NEWSPAPER PRICES.—The high advance on the cost of white paper, and the tax of 3 per cent. on advertisements, will probably induce the publishers of newspapers in Boston to advance the price of their journals from two to three cents a copy.—White paper, ink, etc., have gone up alarmingly within ten days.—Boston Saturday Gazette.

True, all of it, and more too. Printing stock has advanced 25 per cent., and is still on the rise. As to the price of papers, it never ought to have been so low as 3 cents, which rate never yet "paid" for printing a newspaper, even of the cheapest sort, without the aid of advertisements—which certainly is a state of things that ought not to be. However, it is as impossible to control that matter, as the cost of material and the resulting increase in the price of newspaper.

☞ The Portsmouth Navy Yard presents a lively scene of labor just now. The gang of carpenters under C. W. Stimson, number about 400; carpenters' laborers upwards of 350. There are also employed 135 masons and masons' laborers; 120 machinists, about 100 smiths and upwards of 80 joiners, besides a number of smaller gangs—making a sum total of about 1600 men employed on the Yard.

The Sassacus in the ship-house, is progressing favorably, while work on the Agamenticus is partially suspended for awhile, until a temporary building which is now being erected over the steamer (to protect her from snow and ice) is completed. The machine shop is receiving an addition of fifty feet, which will extend the building to a length of 240 feet. The Minnesota, we learn, is soon expected to arrive at the Yard. REP.

THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT will be no common musical Entertainment, but will be a rare Vocal concert, interspersed by the delicious chiming of silvery bells, and the curious wood and straw piano; with regular piano playing and accompaniment for some of the pieces besides. We never heard the Alleghanians, but they have awakened the echoes almost the wide world round, and heard the music of glad applause wherever they went. The first papers and other good authorities in this land, and in other lands, have warmly commended them, and so do we in advance. If theirs be not one of the best concerts of the kind ever given here, we shall miss our expectations, that's all. The "agent" of the troupe is favorably known here, being a Portsmouth boy. We have no doubt our citizens will give him a full hearing.

☞ Mr. Daniel J. Lear, (well known as for several years clerk in the "No. 1" Market Square Grocery of Mr. Simes, now Moulton & Blaisdell's, where he could hardly fail of gaining a thorough knowledge of the business,) announces a new grocery on Daniel street, and that he will sell as cheap as the same quality of goods can be bought anywhere—and anybody who don't prefer the best articles in that line, would have been a customer for Jeremiah's sour figs, and we wouldn't give a fig for him.—See Mr. Lear's advertisement—and his new and fresh stock.

NEW TELEGRAPH LINE.—Workmen are engaged in erecting a new telegraph line for the Independent Company, between Portland and Boston. We understand that the line will run along the old stage road between this city and Portland.

RESIGNATION.—Jeremiah Prescott, Esq., the gentlemanly and efficient Superintendent of the Eastern Railroad Company, has tendered his resignation but we are informed that as yet the Directors have not consented to Mr. Prescott's withdrawal.—Boston Herald.

THE GUNBOAT MOHICAN left Philadelphia, 22d, for Port Royal. She came to Philadelphia in the early part of July, and since that time has gone out of commission, and her machinery has been much improved and strengthened, and will stand hard weather. The bottom and sides have been repaired, the masts, spars and rigging all taken down and readjusted, and the cabins and upper and lower decks remodelled. She is now a thorough sea-going boat, many per cent. better than when she arrived. During her short anchorage in the stream she was much admired for the beautiful figure and neat appearance she presented in the water. Her battery consists of two 11-inch one hundred rifled Parrott and four long 32's.—Phila. Inquirer

☞ The frigate Minnesota arrived at Boston on Saturday afternoon from Newport News, and awaits orders from the Navy Department. The Post says she requires considerable repairs, on account of the damages received in the action with the Merrimac at Hampton Roads last May.

☞ "All the world," almost, have heard and applauded "The Alleghanians;" and what suits "the rest of mankind," must needs "take" in Portsmouth.

☞ Gov. Vance of North Carolina has issued an appeal for contributions of clothing for the rebel army.

☞ The Richmond Whig says: "The Yankee Commission Wood has notified the Confederate authorities that hereafter persons claiming the protection of foreign governments will not be allowed to proceed North on flag boats."

☞ By a fire at St. Louis, on Monday, five steamers were destroyed with their contents. About 600 bales of hemp, 100 bales of cotton, and large quantities of freight piled on the levee were also consumed. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

☞ Twenty-one of the Indians tried before the military Commissioner in Minnesota, have been found guilty. Others are to be tried. 1057 Indians surrendered themselves. They are employed in digging potatoes, &c.

☞ It is said that the Government has a project in hand to lower the price of coal by sending all the able bodied contrabands, unemployed, to labor in the mines at $1 a day.

☞ It is said that the traitor in the War Department has at last been discovered, in the person of a clerk, who has intimate connections with the Jeff. Davis Government.

☞ The pork and beef packers of Chicago have pledged themselves to work for no firm that employs negroes in their business.

☞ The large brick engine house in course of erection by the Boston & Maine Railroad Company at South Berwick Junction, is nearly completed.

☞ The yellow fever has appeared in several towns in Texas. At Sabine Pass, at latest dates, there had been 25 deaths.

☞ A letter from Wilmington, N. C., reports a falling off in new cases of fever.

☞ It is said Boston's quota is now full.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Fettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Huntress, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Randall, Geo. Rice, Benj. F. Cheney, Benj M. Parker, Charles A. Wiggin, George W. Plumer, Nath'l Dennett, Henry F. Gerrish, John Harratt, Thos Murphy, Capt. W. M. Lambert, Joseph Stiles, John Senter, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Rundall, Isaiah Wilson, Joshua E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cashman Pryor, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Fernald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; R. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. Clement March, Albert Blaisdell, Stephen M. Weeks, Geo. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; Mrs. Reuben P. Jenness, David Jenness, Moses Philbrick, Rye.

VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

THE ALLEGHANIANS VOCALISTS AND SWISS BELL RINGERS

Lately returned from a four years' tour round the world, and having since then received given SIXTY-TWO SUCCESSFUL CONCERTS in the city of New York; also visited Washington, Baltimore, and many of the principal cities of the Western States, in all of which their Concerts have been attended by the largest, most fashionable and delighted audiences that ever greeted musical artists, would now respectfully announce TWO of their highly popular MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENTS, as above.

Their Repertoire embraces a choice collection of Vocal Quartets, arranged in their own peculiar style, also a variety of the sweetest English, Irish, Scotch, German and Spanish ballads extant, Humorous Songs, Duets, &c., Arias, Cavatinas and Scenas, from the works of the most popular Italian and French Masters. In addition to their usual choice selections of Vocal Music, they will play, each evening, several pieces on the celebrated SWISS BELLS.

They will also introduce the wonderful WOOD AND STRAW PIANO, the most astonishing musical instrument of the age.

THE ALLEGHANIANS

Beg leave to state to their numerous friends and patrons of former visits, that about four years ago they added the SWISS BELLS to their already superior Concerts; and the Press, as well as all competent musical critics, have pronounced their Bell-Playing superior to anything of the kind ever heard in this country, not excepting that of the original Swiss Bell Ringers who appeared in the United States about 15 years since.

Admission 25 cts.; Children 15 cts.
Commences at 7½ o'clock.

During their sojourn in foreign lands, the concerts of the ALLEGHANIANS were honored by the attendance of hundreds of thousands of delighted listeners—Kings, Queens, Nobles, and the most distinguished men of the age patronized their instruments, and bestowed upon them the most flattering demonstrations of approval.

BUY CALIFORNIA WINES

They are the Purest!
The Best!
The Cheapest!

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Teneriffe or other rich Wine.

The Port has a fine flavor and body; and The Port is excellent because it is pure.

CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Bragdon, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John E. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pindar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon; Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The line or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the cool, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes —of the—

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE ☜

RYE, N.H., Feb. 26, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even make it affected her health very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of DR. SWEET'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Salve, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by medicine, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since.

SIMEON SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.

SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1851.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called a Scald Head, and Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And even bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.

HANNAH HOWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1839. Dr Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LAVETT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with a scald head, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Strictures, Gleets, Seminal Weakness, Gravel, Pains and Distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Bubones, Fright ful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by Excess and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be deplored; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c. are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Models, Specifications, Deeds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that the fees of the office and the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, or more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN application, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

R. H. EDDY.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Pleasanton encountered the enemy on Monday afternoon, near Snicker's Gap, 17 or 18 miles from the Potomac. A skirmish ensued, in which we lost one man and a few horses. Simultaneous with the movement of Gen. Burnside across the river, the troops at Sharpsburg, composed of General Hooker's old corps, now under command of Gen. Reynolds, and the corps of Fitz John Porter, took up the line of march in the same direction. They would cross at Berlin, on the pontoon bridge recently laid across the Potomac.

The rebels have not evacuated Winchester.

Gen. Banks, having come North for a few days, Gen. Heintzelman is in temporary command of the defences of Washington.

Maj. Gen. Wool has been ordered to appear before a court martial at Washington, to investigate the circumstances connected with the surrender of Harper's Ferry.

Much excitement has been occasioned in Baltimore by the arrest, by order of Gen. Wool, of a loyal committee and seizure of their papers, while in session. They were appointed at a Union meeting recently to take testimony to lay before the President, as to alleged charges against the military authorities. It is said Gov. Bradford has sent an earnest protest to the President.

The U. S. forces in the Gulf have destroyed the salt works of the rebels at St. Andrews and St. Joseph's Bay. Both were capable of making over 400 bushels of salt per day.

Gen. Rosecrans' department of the Cumberland is made up of the State of Tennessee, east of the Tennessee river, and those parts of northern Alabama and Georgia, occupied by our troops. The troops assigned to Gen. Grant will constitute the Thirteenth Army Corps, and those under Gen. Rosecrans the Fourteenth.

Gen. Buell has started on forced marches for Nashville, his army moving without tents or camp equipage. The rebels are massing their forces in Tennessee and Mississippi with Bragg's army, to attack Nashville Gen. Grant's army is also thought to be on the march to defend Nashville.

Gen. G. W. Morgan's Cumberland Gap Army having been refitted and refreshed, has been sent to the Kanawha Valley. The troops passed through Galliopolis on Thursday last. The loyal Tennessee regiments belonging to this command received new clothing and were promised the immediate settlement of several months' arrears of pay.

We have our own accounts of Beauregard's "victory" over "the Abolitionists." The attack was made by our troops on Wednesday upon the Charleston and Savannah railroad, and the commands of Gen. Brennan and Terry were engaged. The main body of our troops landed under cover of the gunboats at Mackey's Point, about fifteen miles from the railroad, and marched 7 miles inland, where the enemy was met in force. A sharp fire of an hour drove him from his position. Making a second stand, two miles beyond, he again was compelled to retreat. The rebels made a third stand at the village of Pocataligo, and destroyed the long bridge over the river, thereby effectually preventing further pursuit. In the meanwhile Col. Barton, with 350 men penetrated to the Railroad at Coosawatchie, took up a few rails and cut the telegraph wire, besides firing upon a train filled with troops, killing several, and capturing a stand of colors. Our loss was 15 killed, 106 wounded, and 2 missing in Gen. Terry's brigade; and in Gen. Brannan's brigade, 31 killed, 178 wounded and 1 missing.

The following are the killed and wounded in N. H. regiments:—

3d Regiment,—wounded, W S Abbott, Co E, G W Flanders, Co F, J W Moore, Co G—all slightly.

☞ Barque Azor, Capt. Jones, from Fayal, Oct. 8, arrived at Boston on Tuesday, bringing the officers and crews of the American whalers captured by the rebel pirate Alabama, off Flores.

☞ One McGregor, editor of the Stark County (Ohio) Democrat, was arrested on the 12th inst., by the Provost Marshal of the county, for disloyal practices.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— When the 9th N. H. regiment marched from Washington to Maryland, before the late battles, they left their camp and garrison equipage behind. The regimental quartermaster requested the Quartermaster General, to take charge of the property, but received a refusal, and an order to hire a store for it where he could find one. He did so; but the Provost Guard discovered the deposit and seized it as stolen government property. A telegraphic dispatch concerning over seventy horse loads of stolen material belonging to the govenment, is knocked in the head by the above explanation.

—— The Concord people have already made arrangements for a course of lyceum lectures this winter, having engaged Gough, Curtis, Dr. Holland, and others, and a stereopticon.

—— Mr. Elijah K. Lovejoy of Landaff, whose age exemps him from draft, a man of considerabte propery and having a wife in feeble health and seven children, recently enlisted for three years. He was rejected in consequence of the loss of his front teeth, but he procured a set of artificial teeth, again offered himself and was accepted.

——A recent letter from Valparaiso says that Albert H. Thompson, a fine hale young sailor from New Hampshire, who was under sentence of death for manslaughter, has had his sentence commuted by President Perez and the Council of State, to five years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

—— A letter from a member of the 9th N. H. regiment has the following incident:—"Gen. Reno rode up to Col. Fellows and congratulated him upon the good behavior of his regiment (now the 'Bloody 9th,') and had scarcely turned his horse in departing, when he received his death wound. His last words were in praise of New Hampshire Volunteers." Gen. Reno undoubtedly referred to the splendid bayonet charge made by Col. Fellows' men.

☞ Rev. Charles A. Hay, pastor of the Lutheran Church at Harrisburg, Pa., has been arrested and taken to Baltimore, by order of Gen. Wool. The cause of his arrest is supposed to be a communication signed by him and published, censuring the authorities of Baltimore because of the difficulties experieaced by friends of Union wounded soldiers in procuring the privilege of taking them home and attending to their wants, while rebel sympathizers are freely accorded a similar privilege in aid of rebel prisoners. A committee of citizens have gone to Washington to lay the facts of the case before the President, and obtain the release of the prisoner.

☞ In Nevada Territory a new copper mine has been discovered in Mariposa county, which attracts much attention.—The ore resembles the celebrated Coppermopolis vein, and is traceable several miles. The copper resources of California are already becoming important, and promise to be second to none but gold.

☞ The total amount of wool produced in the United States in 1850, was but little rising fifty million pounds, which is about the amount the army needs to-day. Probably the product to-day is fifty per cent. larger than in 1850, but is far below the demand, even if we had a supply of cotton, and with cotton at present prices, wool growing must be among the most profitable branches of husbandry, as wool manufacturing is the most profitable manufacture of cloths.

☞ Mrs. J. H. Long, the soprano of the Trinity Church choir, Boston, and widely known as a vocalist, was robbed of nearly her whole wardrobe a few days since, the rogue having entered the room where they were by false keys. The dresses included nearly all that she was accustomed to wear at public concerts.

☞ Blackwood's Magazine, the organ of the extreme conservatives in England, contains a discussion in the September number on "sermons," arguing in favor of omitting sermons, wherever it may be convenient, from divine service, and supplying their place by prayers and litanies.

☞ Rev. Dr. Loomis, President of Lewisburg University, Pa., formerly a Professor at Waterville, Me., went into the ranks of the Union army as a private, at the commencement of the war, and is still serving in that capacity, though a commission has been urged upon him.

☞ A correspondent, writing from the army to the Brunswick Telegraph, says:—"I never fully appreciated the value of a local paper until last Sunday; through the kindness of Lt. Col. Chamberlain, I was supplied with your paper, and read it thro', deaths, marriages, advertisements and all."

This is the opinion of all absent from home, in relation to local papers; they never appreciate them fully till they are deprived of their regular perusal. To the soldier especially, a home paper is highly valuable.—How important that their friends at home should see that they are furnished regularly.

NAVAL.—The U. S. steamer Tuscarora, Commander Craven, arrived at Fayal, Oct. 6, from Cadiz, and left on the 7th; the U. S. Steamer Kearsarge, Commander Pickering, from Gibraltar, arrived Oct. 7, and was to leave on the 9th, both in search of the Alabama.

Noel B. Davis of Enfield, N. H., has been appointed Acting Ensign in the U. S. Navy.

Acting Master's Mates A. O. Child of Roxbury, and John S. Russ, who has been under instruction at Boston, have been ordered to frigate Colorado, 48, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

☞ Chaplain Theodore B. Bartow, U. S. Navy, who has recently been residing in this city, has been ordered to the receiving ship at New York.

Chaplain David X. Junkins has been relieved from duty on board the receiving ship at New Yoak, and ordered to the U. S. steam frigate Colorado at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

Lieut. Boyd, of Portland, who came home in the Colorado, has been ordered to the U. S. screw propeller Ossipee, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard

Acting Ensigns Charles W. Adams and Henry S. Lambert, of this city, have also been ordered to the Ossipee.

Orders have been received at Boston from Washington for the Minnesota to proceed to Portsmouth Navy Yard, where she will go into the dry dock and have her bottom repaired, after which, it is said, she will return to Charlestown for the completion of her repairs.

Mr. John Q. Adams, of this city, has been appointed Gunner in the Navy, and ordered to the Ossipee.

☞ The Caledonian says there are but two of the original captains of the 3d Vt. Regiment now in the field, and not one has been killed in battle or died of disease.

At our present quotations for cotton duck the canvas for a suit of sails for a ship of 1000 tons, would cost not less than $5500, not including boltrope manufacture, &c., reckoning 7500 yards for the suit, at an average price of 75c per yard. For a ship of 1000 tons, No. 3 duck is used which weighs one pound to the yard, a fact that will give some adequate idea of the amount of cotton used, as well as the weight of a suit of sails. —Portland Price Current.

☞ The Department of Agriculture is in the receipt from Gov. Doty, Indian Superintendent in Utah, of four varieties of currants, which in size more nearly approach grapes than our common currants. Cuttings are soon expected.

Pickwickian explanations are frequent, and on the whole are rather useful than otherwise. But the ambiguous policy is a much higher work of art—as when a man who had accused his neighbor of falsehood, made the following seeming retraction:—"I called you a liar,—it is true. You spoke truth; I have told a lie."

☞ The London Saturday Review complains that Charles Lamb's grave is disgracefully neglected and out of repair, and adorned by an epitaph, for writing which a schoolboy would be flogged.

☞ Charles Francis Adams refuses to be the People's Party candidate for U. S. Senator from Massachusetts; and James M. Beebe, Esq. of Boston, declines to run for Representative to Congress, as the candidate of the same party.

The ground assumed by the War Department in the case of Gen. Jeff. C Davis, is said to be, that as Gen. Davis nor Gen. Nelson was on duty at the time the latter was shot by the former, the military authorities have nothing to do with the matter.—Boston Herald.

☞ The office of the American Volunteer, printed at Carlisle, Pa., was demolished by a party of artisans and soldiers on the evening of the 24th inst., on account of an outrageous article by the editor.

☞ Securities to the amount of $5000, picked from the pocket of a lady while looking into a window on Washington street, in Boston, in May last, have just been recovered by the Chief of Police, and restored to the loser.

We are pleased to learn of the improved health of Mr. William Akerman, for many years a gentlemanly conductor on the P. S. & P. Railroad. He has been off from his place as a conductor for a year or more through ill health. He is now on a visit to friends in Newburyport.—Saco Democrat.

☞ Gen. Butler has arrested an Episcopal clergyman in New Orleans, for avowing himself a secessionist, and refusing to pray for the President of the United States.

On Saturday week it snowed heavily at Bic, Canada. The Journal de Quebec, says that the villages on the North Shore, below Saguenay, were covered with their wintry curtain early last week.—St. John Globe.

☞ The funeral of ten Roxbury, Mass., soldiers, killed at the battle of Antietam, took place from Rev. Dr. Bartholomew's Church in that city, on Tuesday afternoon.

☞ Co. K, 16th regiment, Capt. Thacher, will leave for Concord this, Thursday, afternoon, at forty minutes past four o'clk. The City Government have made arrangements for a procession, which will form on Pleasant street, with the right resting near the Universalist Church—Maj. Joseph B. Adams, Chief Marshal. It will consist of the Home Guard, Capt. Beck; Capt. Jenness' company of Volunteers; Engine Cos., arranged according to their numbers; City Government, and invited guests; Citizens; Capt. Thacher's Company.

The store-keepers are requested to close their stores from half-past 2 till 5 P. M.—The bells will be rung at half-past 2. Persons having flags, are requested to display them during the day.

The Engine companies will form on State street, with the right resting on Pleasant.

The Citizens will form at the Post Office, and it is earnestly requested that all citizens will join in the procession.

Addresses will be made at the depot, by several of our citizens. After the departure of the cars, the procession will reform and return to the City Rooms, where it will be dismissed.

☞ For the unavoidable disappointment of the public by their non-appearance at the Temple last evening, the Alleghanians are to give us a double concert, or selections from their two programmes, at the Temple this (Thursday) evening. We hope to see them have a crowded house, and regret that they cannot prolong their stay here, which their engagements in Boston prevent.

PERSONAL.—The Earl and Countess of Mulgrave—the two Ladies Phillips, Miss Baybrold and Suite, with servants, who arrived in Portland by special train from Canada, on Monday evening, passed through this city in a special car attached to Conductor Rowe's train, on Tuesday morning, en route for Boston.

☞ In reply to inquiries, we state that we shall make no reduction in the price of the N. H. Gazette, this year, in the way of giving new subscribers the paper for the balance of the old year, &c. The advance price of the paper is too low now—only one dollar a year,—and we may increase it. Meanwhile, those who pay in advance, are sure of getting it at the old low rate.

To those few who do not pay in advance, and whom we do not strike from our lists, there will positively be no reduction from the regular price, $1.50 per year.

GRACE'S SALVE.—Not having had the fortune, or misfortune, to need any healing ointment, of late—our most serious wounds having been inflicted by the popguns of the Ballot and American—we are unable to testify from personal experience, as to the efficacy of Grace's celebrated Salve—unless indeed, it has been the knowledge that his salve was so readily procurable, and so filled with healing, which has kept us freer than usual from wounds and bruises. But from the shower of testimonials which Mr. Grace is continually receiving—many of them from gentlemen of the highest respectability, and wothy of all confidence, with whom we are acquainted—and from hosts of others in all parts of the country; we have no hesitation in recommending a trial of Grace's Salve, to all who need anything of the sort,—as we believe it to be one of the most powerful and pleasant ointments which can be procrued. See advertisement.

☞ The steamer Blanche, lately burned while ashore on the coast of Cuba, was, as supposed, the rebel steamer General Rusk, which had been nominally sold to an English house, and was under English colors at the time of her destruction. The Blanche was run ashore by her captain, and then set on fire by him, while our men were on the deck of the vessel.

The captain, Leon Smith, formerly resided in this city. He is a nephew of Hon. Caleb. B. Smith, Secretary of the Interior. His relatives now reside in Cincinnati, Ohio.

☞ The New Orleans journals report not a solitary bale of cotton on hand there.

☞ Maine last year published in book form the muster rolls of all her troops sent to the war.

Unless there's different management right off, the American eagle will have to disguise hisself as a Shanghai rooster and make tracks for Canady; while the Goddess of Liberty will have to go out doin' gin'ral housework at two dollars a week.—Artemas Ward.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Positively Two Nights Only! 23

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY EVES., Oct. 29th and 30th.

THE ALLEGHANIANS VOCALISTS AND SWISS BELL RINGERS

Lately returned from a four years' tour round the world, and having since their return, given SIXTY-TWO SUCCESSFUL CONCERTS in the city of New York; also visited Washington, Baltimore, and many of the principal cities of the Western States, in all of which the concerts have been attended by the largest, most fashionable and delighted audiences that ever greeted musical artists, would now respectfully announce TWO of their highly popular MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENTS, as above.

Their Repertoire embraces a choice collection of Vocal Gems, arranged in their own peculiar style, also a variety of the choicest English, Irish, Scotch, German and Spanish ballads extant, Humorous Songs, Duets, &c., Arias, Cavatinas and Scenas, from the works of the most popular Italian and French Masters. In addition to their usual choice selections of Vocal Music, they will play, each evening, several pieces on the celebrated SWISS BELLS.

They will also introduce the wonderful WOOD AND STRAW PIANO, the most astonishing musical instrument of the age.

THE ALLEGHANIANS

Feel leave to state to their numerous friends and patrons of former years, that about four years ago they added the SWISS BELLS to their already superior Concerts, and the Press, as well as all competent musical critics, have pronounced their Bell Playing superior to anything of the kind ever heard in this country, not excepting that of the original Swiss Bell ringers who appeared in the United States about 15 years since.

Admission 25 cts.! Children 15 cts.

Commences at 7½ o'clock.

During their sojourn in foreign lands, the concerts of the ALLEGHANIANS were honored by the attendance of hundreds of thousands of delighted listeners—Kings, Queens, Nobles, and the most distinguished men of the age patronized their entertainments, and bestowed upon them the most flattering demonstrations of approval.

BUY CALIFORNIA WINES

They are the Purest!
The Best!
The Cheapest!

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angelos" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Rock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine.

"Port" has a fine flavor and body; and "The Port" is certain to recommend it to pure.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

EYE, N. H., Feb. 26, 1862. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her going out, and so ill affected her that she very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrups, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There has not been the remotest sign of the disease since than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS."

About seventeen years ago I discovered a tumor growing in my breast, attended with severe piercing pains, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of his Panacea, my breast was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE H. SWETT."

The statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 15, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And several bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the disease since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with fifteen at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating, and was advised by my friends to try Dr. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1863. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest, night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. F. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the diseases above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicine shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. feb7 2w

THE MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and address heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for filling the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling out of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, the saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Trenowell, Oren Eragon, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John E. Holbrook, Geo. B. Freeth, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pinder, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon, Charles Simpson, Kinsley Thomas, J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT" VENTILATING & AIR WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable improvement in ventilation.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus, with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off, with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, brick, and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE,

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

Of almost all other kinds on hand and for sale CHEAP AS THE CHEAPEST.

MATHEWS' ARNICA HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D has made the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, such as Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the Head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Impotency, Scrotula, digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for their use, on receipt of a letter of your case. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. These for $1 and a red stamp.

April 7—1y 3aw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted in all female diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new and decisive treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Reports, Specifications, Claims, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research has been made into AMERICAN and FOREIGN works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters appertaining thereto. Models of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unexpressed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast variety of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and its usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, or more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

It is now asserted that Bragg's retreat from Kentucky is one of the most disastrous blows which the rebel Confederacy have received; and that he escaped almost as empty handed as he entered the State.—Beyond Crab Orchard he turned at one time 3500 bbls pork, over 1000 bbls of flour, and 700 wagons. For five days he was so closely pressed by Crittenden that he was compelled to destroy most of the stores remaining. Beside this our army captured most of the cattle and other stock stolen, which he was attempting to drive out of the State.

The Philadelphia Press again hints that Gen. Banks is to head an expedition to the Coast of Texas. It also says that Gen. McClernand's expedition, after clearing the West of its obstructions, is to go to the interior of Texas.

The rebel Generals Hill, Jackson and Hampton are encamped between Martinsburg and Bunker Hill, the majority being near the latter place.

The Baltimore American's correspondent states that since Saturday last the movements of troops in the vicinity of Harper's Ferry have been constant, and, with the exception of Sumner's (now Couch's) corps, on Bolivar Heights, our whole army may now be said to be in motion. The impression increases at head-quarters that the rebel army has already retreated. It would seem, however, that unless Lee's retreat is much further advanced than is probable, Gen. McClellan can, by a vigorous forward movement, aided by a similar advance from Washington, force Lee to stop and fight before he gains Gordonsville.

The Richmond papers publish a dispatch that a greater number of Federal vessels than usual, have been blockading Charleston harbor.

An officer direct from Gen. Grant's head-quarters reports that the rebels were massing their forces 9 miles below Grand Junction on Sunday.

The Richmond Dispatch says the Federal fleet off Galveston, Texas, attacked that city Oct. 4th. A Federal steamer ran past the battery at Fort Point, under a heavy fire, and laid to at Central wharf. The battery was then destroyed by the rebels, who marched to Virginia Point.

The Wachuta, an iron steamer built in London, was brought into Port Royal on Thursday last, a prize. She was captured after a full day's chase, off the coast of North Carolina. She threw overboard the greater portion of her cargo, and so strained her engines as to be unable to make steam. She is believed to have been loaded with arms and ammunition.

The President has sent an order to the War Department, directing the release of the committee arrested in Baltimore by Gen. Wool. They had not been released on Friday. Gov. Bradford had gone to Washington to see the President.

3000 rebels were routed near Fayetteville, Ark., on the 28th, by an inferior Union force.

☞ One Wm. H. Winder, of Philadelphia, a political prisoner, who has been confined in Fort Warren, Boston, since Sept. 1861, refuses to take the oath of allegiance; and the habeas corpus game has been attempted in his favor. But we don't believe Col. Dimick will heed it much; and Winder or any other man ought to die in Fort Warren or some worse place, if they won't support the Constitution of their country.

☞ A train of twenty cars, laden with hay, oats and corn, was burned at Harper's Ferry on Wednesday, and about 250 feet of the trestle-work of the bridge destroyed. The space under the trestle-work on the Virginia side of the river is used sometimes as a depot for hay. The engineer of the forage train, in passing the trestle-work, left the ash-pan of his engine open, sprinkling a line of fire the whole distance, which was immediately fanned into a flame by a high wind. In backing his train over the flames, it also caught fire, and in order to save the bridge it became necessary to run the train to the Maryland side, where it was instantly consumed.

Another account says that some teamsters were cooking their dinners under the trestle-work, and the fire was communicated to the hay. This is the fourth time these extensive trestle-works have been destroyed during the war.

☞ The traitor discovered in the War office is said to be James M. Wright, a confidential clerk in the Adjutant General's office. He lives in Prince George's county, Maryland.

☞ The Mrs. Bishop who was recently burned to death at St. Paul, Me., was not the well-known vocalist, Madame Anna Bishop.

☞ Rev. C. A. Hay, after an examination by Gen. Wool, in Baltimore, was discharged. His arrest is to be investigated.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The 12th Regt., Col. Potter, left their camp on Arlington Heights on the 17th inst., and joined the army of the Potomac the next day, near Harper's Ferry. They encamped near Knoxville, Md., about 3 miles from Gen. McClellan's headquarters.

—— Rev. Andrew Rankin, late pastor of the Congregational church in Danbury, died Oct. 22, aged nearly 66 years. The funeral exercises were attended at the meeting house in Danbury; sermon by Rev. Dr. Bouton of Concord. Mr. Rankin was pastor of a church at South Berwick about twenty-five years ago.

—— Rev. S. S. N. Greeley, of Grand Rapids, Mich., has accepted the Chaplaincy of the 6th Michigan Cavalry. He is a native of New Hampshire.

—— It is stated that the State's quota of nine months' men lacks from 500 to 800 of being full. As soon as the exact figures are known, it is probable that a limited time will be given to make up the deficiency by voluntary enlistments, at the expiration of which the draft for the balance will be peremptorily enforced.

——Dover seems to be supplying the Chaplains for our regiments.

—— Lieut. Col. Samuel G. Langley of the 5th Regt., returned to Manchester, Tuesday, on a furlough. His health is very poor, and he is troubled greatly with fever and ague.

—— Edward L. Bailey, Capt. of Co. I, 2d Regt., who for some time past has been acting Major of the Regiment in place of Maj. Stevens, resigned, has been commissioned for that place by the Governor.

—— It is currently reported in Concord that D. P. Russell, of Nashua, whom the soldiers rode on a rail for cheating in gambling, has died of his injuries.

—— Rev. William Patrick died at his residence in Boscawen, Oct. 24th, in the 91st year of his age. He was formerly pastor in Canterbury.

—— Rev. John W. Underhill died in North Amherst, 17th inst. He was settled pastor of the Congregational church in that place Oct. 5, 1859.

—— Godfrey Jahonnet and Jason Miller have been arrested, as accomplices in the robbery of Mr. Samuel Orr, Goffstown, on Sept. 29th. They entered his house masked, bound him hand and foot, and robbed him, while one stood over him with a pistol.

THE LOUISIANA SUGAR PLANTATIONS. A New Orleans letter in the New York Journal of Commerce says the plantations in the vicinity are all deserted. The cane is said to be beautiful and ready for cutting, but no one to do it. Many persons are buying crops as they stand, some intending to try white labor, others are trying to hire negroes. Gen. Butler says the negroes may be hired at ten dollars for the men and five dollars for the women a month, to be worked ten hours a day, and that he will not force them to remain on the plantation unless they wish to remain.—The planters intend grinding all their cane, leaving none for seed, so this year will probably be the last sugar growing year for some time to come.

MRS. FREMONT AS AN AUTHORESS.—"The Story of the Guard; a Chronicle of the war," is the title of a volume soon to be issued from the press of Messrs. Ticknor and Fields. The writer is Mrs. Jessie Fremont, the well known wife of the General. Colonel Benton's daughter no doubt is a skillful writer, and she will record in her forth-coming book many romantic incidents, and telling home truths appertaining to her husband's much abused campaign in Missouri. We understand the volume will contain several private domestic letters of great interest from her husband and his soldiers. The profits of the bookare to be devoted by Mrs. Fremont to the support of the widows and children of the fallen brave officers who perished in the Springfield fight. Such a book by such a writer will be a welcome volume everywhere.

☞ Commodore Nutt attended a meeting of the Cabinet, at Washington, a few days since. He was introduced by the President to the Secretaries. Mr. Welles claimed jurisdiction over him as a lord of the sea. Mr. Chase promised to recommend him as his successor, in consideration of his faculty of making money; but he could not make it so fast as Mr. Stanton could spend it. Mr. Lincoln expressed the opinion that if he were shipwrecked he would hardly wade ashore; and the Commodore thought Mr. Lincoln's legs were better adapted than his to that business.

☞ A Commission has been ordered to assemble in Washington to examine and report upon the plan of the present fort and sufficiency of the present system of defence of the city. The Commission consists of Maj. Gen. Banks, Brevet Brig. Gen. Totten, Brig. Gens. Meigs, Barry, Barnard and Cullom.

☞ The rebel steamer Herald was at Bermuda Oct. 25th, with 600 bales of cotton, and Professor Maury as passenger.

SUNDAY SERVICES,

A LECTURE

Delivered in the Universalist Church, Portsmouth, Sunday evening, Oct. 19th,

BY THE PASTOR.

Continued.

But I undertook to show in the second place, that so much preaching is a useless waste of energy—that it is not only useless, but hurtful, alike to minister and people.

In intellectual instruction, it is deemed important to give the pupil only so much at one time, as he can retain and understand. Should the teacher crowd so much into one day's instruction, that it all become mingled and confused in the pupil's mind, that day of labor would be lost. If you were to enter any of our public schools, and find the teacher employing himself in reading long chapters to your children, on mathematics, or astronomy, or any other branch of study, without giving them an opportunity to meditate upon, and digest the matter presented, you would condemn his course of instruction and immediately demand a change. You know very well that in order to profit them he must give them a brief lesson, and then let them have time to fix it in the memory. Why demand in the teacher of religion, that which you condemn in the teacher of science?

Now I venture the opinion that a man who is qualified to preach at all, will, after meditating for days upon a subject, say about as much in half an hour concerning it, as the people can remember. If he have but one sermon, they can grasp it in all its outlines, and it will afford them food for reflection through the remainder of the day—may be through the whole week.

Hence it becomes to them a source of real profit. But if he have two, the second comes in and dissipates the first. There is a great deal of truth in the pungent saying of Beecher, that "sermons are like wads in a popgun, the last drives out the first."—But this figure does not express the whole truth. It would leave the inference that we retain the second sermon. This is not the case. The second not only drives the first from memory, but the two become so intermingled in the mind that we have no clear conception of either. There are elements in nature, which, coming in contact, destroy each other. It is very much so with sermons.

Do you ask proof of this? Look into your hearts and you shall find it. How many of the sermons to which you have listened, do you remember? One of the most thoughtful members of this congregation, a man who never absents himself from public worship when he has strength sufficient to bring him here, who enjoys sermons as well, and remembers them as long as any man with whom I am acquainted, told me a few days since, that he derives more profit from one sermon in a day than two; that the past year has been to him he most useful year of my whole ministry, and that if I had health and strength to preach ten times a day, he would decidedly object to a return to the two sermon system. "One," said he, "is all I can remember; why desire to clog my brain with more."

One is all that any man can remember. And here an evil is suggested that attends the two sermon system. The people cannot remember both. Experience so demonstrates this truth. If they undertake to retain them, they are so blended in their minds as to have neither system, form nor comeliness. So they make no effort to remember either. They listen to them merely as a present entertainment, and let them pass away "like water spilt upon the ground." Does not your own experience corroborate this statement? Do you really tax your own intellect to comprehend, carry out, and retain the trains of thought?—Are your hearts open to all redeeming influences? Are your hands ready to carry out all good suggestions? And if you simply listen mechanically, with little present or future reflection, can you derive much benefit from preaching? You need to think, and feel, and do, as well as hear.

But, says one, the sermon exerts an influence upon us, however indifferently we may listen. It does indeed exert an influence, but are you sure it is an influence for good? Are you sure it is a "savor of life unto life" and not of "death unto death?" If you partake of temporal food while your system does not digest or appropriate, is it a source of strength or of weakness? Evidently of weakness, sickness, may be death. If you have just risen from a bountiful table, is it well to sit down immediately, and eat again? Now there is striking parallel between the spiritual and the material nature. It will not answer to surfeit the one more than the other. Let it have what it can digest and appropriate, and no more. I believe that spiritual dyspepsy is not uncommon in our churches. I believe that in our large towns and cities, two or three sermons per Sunday have been poured into the people's ears until they have almost lost their influence for good. I have seen congregations in the country, where they listen to less preaching, swayed like reeds before the tempest—melted into tears—thrilled to the highest pitch of enthusiastic joy, by the very arguments and appeals which fell upon the city congregation without moving them one whit more than icebergs are melted away by moonbeams. And is it an advantage to individuals or congregations, to be bombarded with sermons, until they become indifferent to religious appeals? Is it not better to give them time to think, and act, and feel; to encourage and help them to exercise their own spiritual powers; so to arrange our public services as to make them "doers of the word" and not "hearers only."

It is said that two sermons are necessary to keep the people from desecrating the Sabbath,—that unless we have a service in the afternoon, they will be riding, walking, visiting their friends, or loitering at their homes.—I would have a service in the afternoon; but it should be a service in which they may do, as well as hear. It is said that such a service is not sufficiently attractive to induce the people to attend. I answer that if the people have so little interest in individual culture, that they will only go where they are attracted by pleasing sounds, they might about as well amuse themselves among the flowers or forests, or by visiting their friends, or playing with their children. Unless improvement be our aim, in attending religious worship, we shall derive but little benefit from such attendance; and if this be our object, there are other means of instruction quite as efficient as continual preaching.

But experience has demonstrated that two sermons will not "attract" the people to the church all day. There are a few, indeed, who go from a sense of duty. But a large majority either absent themselves in the morning or the afternoon. The lovers of good dinners come in the morning. The lovers of morning naps come in the afternoon. And so the parish dwindles into two congregations. Not more than half of all the persons connected with any congregation in this city, where they have preaching morning and afternoon, hear more than half the sermons. Some come and hear one, some the other. Just enough attend all day to prevent the preacher from using the same sermon morning and afternoon. None of them hear half as good a sermon as they might if they permitted him to put the labor of both into one; and none enjoy the service half so well as they might if they all come and worshipped together.

Local.

☞ Capt. Thacher's company of volunteers left this city, on their return to camp at Concord, on Thursday afternoon. There was a large gathering of citizens to bid them God speed, and the procession which escorted them to the depot was quite lengthy. It was headed by a platoon of the Governor's Horse Guards, Sergt. M. Eldredge, in full uniform. Then came the Home Guard, Col. Beck, about 50 muskets; Capt. Jenness' Company of Volunteers; Granite State Ex-1's in uniform, each member bearing the Stars and Stripes; the City Government and U. S. officials; officers of the Army and Navy, and many citizens.—Brief and pertinent addresses were made at the depot by Rev. Messrs. Eddy and Waterhouse, which were received with cheers. The Portsmouth Cornet Band furnished some of its best and most soul-stirring music; and altogether the good-by given them was as heart-felt as such brave fellows deserve.

☞ The screw frigate Minnesota arrived at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Thursday, where she will go into the Dry Dock to have her bottom repaired. But we cannot see the necessity of her returning to the Charlestown Navy Yard for the completion of her repairs. If work can be done any cheaper or better anywhere than at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, we should like to know the place.

The following is a list of the officers of the Minnesota:—

Commander—N. B. Harrison.
Lieut. Com —E. C. Grafton, (ex-officer,) John Watters.
Lieutenant—Adolphus Dexter.
Surgeon—John S. Kitchen.
Asst. Surgeons—S. J. Jones, Edward R. Dodge.

2d Lieut. of Marines—Charles H. Williams.

Master's Mates—W. Hunter, W. R. Hunter, C. W. Campbell, Jas. Birtwistle.
Boatswain—Paul Atkinson.
Gunner—C. W. Homer.
Carpenter—Ebenezer Thompson.
Sailmaker—A. A. Warren.

☞ The "tural-oral" editor, who left this city for the city's good, a couple of years ago, after "imposing on" the Portsmouth public as long as he could—and who now ekes out a whining existence in a neighboring inland town, by printing an obscure weakly sheet devoted chiefly to blackguarding everything and everybody in whose way he comes—was in town a few days ago, trying to delude some of our merchants into wasting more money, (in the way of advertising, &c.) on his sinking concern. But our traders, most of those who are sharp enough to advertise at all, know better than to fool away their money on a languishing up-country paper, when there are two live weeklies printed here at home, (which go abroad everywhere, however,) and the daily, which of course no wide-awake business man would miss reading or advertising in. O, tom-ass, it's no use; in 1853, your wish was father to the prophecy — that this daily would "soon die out for want of wind." Now if we were to say that your bawl-at stands a good chance of meeting a like fate, from too much "wind," we dare say we should "hit it" as near as that unprophet-able snarleyow did, to say least.

☞ The Steubenville, O., Union says that for some time the house of John A. Bingham the Abolitionist, has had to be guarded. Some of the conscripts or drafted men were so indignant against him that his house and person are in danger.

MONSTER GUN.—The steamer Thorn arrived at the Charlestown Navy Yard on Thursday from Washington, bringing one of the new 15-inch guns, which weighs 49,700 pounds, or nearly twenty-five tons.

☞ Two regiments from Maine have been detained in New York, and several New Hampshire and Connecticut regiments are expected to be detained there. Gen. Banks is there.

☞ Mr. Corwin, the American Minister in Mexico, is very ill in the Mexican capital, and it is thought he cannot long survive.

☞ John G. Whittier, the "Quaker Poet," has declined the nomination for State Senator in his district.

☞ It is said that Tennyson, the English laureate, has pronounced against the Federal cause.

MARRIAGES.

In this city, Oct. 30, by Rev. Mr. Gage assisted by Rev. Mr. Patterson,—Mr. WILLIAM W. HUNT of Amherst, to Miss ELIZA J. BARTON, youngest daughter of Mr. James Barton of this city.

DEATHS.

In this city, Oct. 28, Mrs. ABIGAIL WILSON, aged 88.

☞ Nick Biddle's partner, Baron Steinberger, died in St. Louis on the 14th inst., in reduced circumstances. With Biddle he once divided three millions of dollars in a cotton speculation. He used to give dinners which cost ten thousand dollars. Finally, however, he took to speculating, lost his money, began to drink, and at last "threw up his hand" poor and friendless.

We have reason to believe that a correspondence is in progress between the Executive of Massachusetts and U. S. officials, who have charge of the contrabands who are multiplying by the thousands on the hands of the Government. It is reported that this correspondence was opened by Maj. Gen. Dix, who applied to Gov. Andrew to provide for 500 negro families, as the first instalment of that State's quota.—Boston Post.

ANOTHER MONITOR.—One of Captain Ericsson's nine "Monitors" (the Sangamon) was launched Monday, at Chester, Penn. The Montauk, Nahant, Passaic, Sangamon, Patapsco, of the nine Monitors, are afloat; the Weehawken, Nantucket, Lehigh and Cattskill have yet to be launched.

☞ A Washington dispatch says that the testimony taken by the Commission exonerates Col. Miles from the imputation of having betrayed his command at Harper's Ferry, into the hands of the enemy.

☞ Any amount of American silver coin is said to be circulating in Canada—three cent pieces, five cent pieces, dimes, &c.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

☞ MATHEWS' ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled for the removal of dandruff. Its operations in this particular are magical, and their results are thorough and complete. Oct24 1md

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK
FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has met with very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Huntress, Jos. D Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Randall, Geo. Rice, Benj. F. Cannoy, Benj M. Parker, Charles A. Wiggin, George W. Plumer, Nath'l Dennett, Henry F. Gerrish, John Barratt, Thos Murphy, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Joseph Stiles, John Senter, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John E. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel I. Pryor, Cashman Pryor, of Treffethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Furnald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; E. F. VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with the confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal-hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

Ayer's SARSAPARILLA,

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Eden, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Mass.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never yet one bottle which failed of the desired effect and satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Sam. Bishop, Stratton, Bristol, Maine.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged ten, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure until we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mercdene E. Rice, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Pennsville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was very troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

Prof. Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the middle house, Gage, Murray & Co., manufacturers of enamelled Leather in Natick, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became an intolerable affliction. I tried almost everything I could of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, as you told me it would for a time; but in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any body's, and quite without any symptom of the humor. I think it. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purity the Blood.

From Dr. Bell, Second Houston St., New York.

DR. AYER: I seldom fail to remove Eruptions and Scrofulous Sores by the preferring use of your SARSAPARILLA and I have lost none cured in cases of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied to the profession as well as to the people."

From J. S. Johnston, Esq., Selma, Wilcox Co., Alabama.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could reach, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicine. The ulcers were so bad that the cords became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and some of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now as well and sound as any body. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the afflicted."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Harvey Sickler, Esq., the able editor of the Tamaqua (Schuylkill County) Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, about three years of age, was attacked by pimples on the face, which soon greatly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his feet, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. We tried every known vegetable or silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, tied with them by the side of his sore, suffering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began to give your SARSAPARILLA and applying the iodide of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and was well before we had finished the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other child in our neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Bream Sheet, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more efficient remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicines we have."

From A. A. Brinch, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., who is a prominent member of the Legislature of Massachusetts.

"DR. AYER: My dear SIR: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis both of the primary and secondary types, and effected in some cases that had been obstinately resistant to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Mr. Chas. S. Peck, Lime, of New Brunswick, N. J.

"Had dreadful sores on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or mercurial disease, which grew more and more aggravated, and defied the skill of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. Few cases have baffled the skill of more physicians than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him."

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weakness,

are generally produced by internal Scrofulous Corruption, and yield readily to the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases require, however, in aid of the SARSAPARILLA, the skillful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely-celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrill, of Tuckaseah.

"I have found your AYER'S SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of Irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and Fond Debility, arising from the scrofulous diathesis, have yielded to it, when no other medicine, I am free to say, would have done so."

A lady, unwilling to allow the publication of her name, writes:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by two bottles of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are speedily cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

possess so many advantages over the other purgatives in the market, and their superior virtues are so universally known, that we need not do more than to assure the public their quality is maintained equal to the best it ever has been, and that they may be depended on to do all that they have ever done.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

EYE, N. H., Feb. 22, 1846. "I hereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so bad that I feared her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago, and no other medicine equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe pleuring pains, which continued for a few days, when it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and I knowingly swallowed one bottle of medicine which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SILAS SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1851.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And even before Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe I have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1852. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which practised quite rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add, that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20

THE MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE,

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water, also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which the bread can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Leo. A. Treadwell, Otis Bridgdon, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John E. Holbrook, Geo. B. Fitch, Frank Jones, John Stokes, Farmer H. Pindar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon, Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moderated agreeable,—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel. Economy.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so difficult to expand and put out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert H. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is a spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. Dow has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Inflammatory, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Disappointment of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

April 7—1y 3taw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every nature, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Drawings, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting one Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that more MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

The "sunny slopes" of "Los Angeios" have announced to the world that America is a wine growing country, and as the discovery of gold sent a thrill through the old world, so will the discovery of these Wines startle them again, as it says, "one more link broken which has bound us to Europe," "one more step to independence." Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

The "Angelica" and "Muscatel" are melting, luscious and rich, and will take the place of Malaga, Tokay, or other rich Wine.

The Port has a fine flavor and body; and The Port is excellent because it is pure.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1862.

THE VOLUNTEERS SHOULD VOTE.—No good reason can be given why our citizen soldiers, the volunteers or drafted men, should not vote; but on the contrary, three are good and sufficient reasons in favor of their voting.

The fact that taking their lives in their hands, they have obeyed the call of the national and state governments, and gone out armed to quell the rebellion, does not render them less fit than before, as to their judgment, to vote on the choice of men or measures;—and surely no man can have a better right than they, to vote on a question of war or peace,—or on any other question involved in these.

The only objection of any weight, which can be brought against their voting, is, that there is no provision for it in our constitution or laws. This is true; for, the reason, probably, that no such condition of affairs as we now see, was so much as dreamed of by the framers of our Constitution or the legislators who have made our statutes.

We shall presently have out of, the State of New Hamesh're, say in round numbers 15,000 volunteers in the field. If two-thirds of these are of age; 10,000 voters may be away from home next March. In March, 1861, New Hampshire cast 67,000 votes for Governor; in March 1863, 62,400;—a diminution nearly equal to the number of our soldiers in the field.

It does not seem just nor equal, to deprive one-sixth or seventh of all our voters, especially such men, of the privilege of voting, merely because there is no law now on the books for it.

There is no law nor Constitution in New Hampshire against it. How easy then it then it would be, to hold a special session of the General Court, and authorize every regiment, company of cavalry, and battery, from the State, to vote for Governor, Members of Congress, and perhaps Counsellors and State Senators. The details and regulations could be readily arranged,—and the soldiers would feel that they were in the State, and it politically.

THE REBELLION.

The N. Y. Times states that Gen. Banks is not organizing a Texas expedition, but is a member of a committee to examine the fortifications in the harbor of New York.

The N. Y. Commercial says the Army of the Potomac will hereafter consist of three grand armies, under Gens. Hooker, Burnside and Sumner.

Gen. Burnside has already advanced down along the eastern base of the Blue Ridge and formed a practical junction with Gen. Sigel, their lines of pickets joining.—Stoneman's cavalry occupied Leesburg without resistance. It is believed that General Bragg is on the way from Cumberland Gap to join Gen. Lee. Rebel citizens in Virginia, in anticipation of the movement of the national troops, are sending all their horses to the rebel army for service. Gen. Pleasanton is now seizing all the horses to be found for the use of the U. S. Government.

The loyal citizens of Baltimore who were arrested by order of Gen. Wool, have been unconditionally released by order of the President.

Advices from Fortress Monroe indicate that the rebels are in force and continually increasing at Petersburg. There is no truth in the report that Wise is advancing on Yorktown.

The N. Y. Express gives an extract from a private letter dated Beaufort, S. C., Oct. 24th, from an officer in the army, in which the writer in speaking of the recent expedition, says:—

"The troops had rations for eight days, and expected to find the rebels unprepared. This morning brought the return of the expedition totally defeated and terribly cut up. The rebels knew of the expedition from the start, and were anxious to meet it. This affair is even more disastrous than that of James Island. Four negroes left Port Royal as the expedition was ready to move, and were seen fighting in the rebel ranks. Gen. Mitchell did not accompany the expedition, intending to follow it with reinforcements in a few days."

The Columbus, Ga., Times of the 17th says Gen. Butler, with 7000 men, has landed at Pensacola, and it was expected would advance on the junction of the Mobile, Montgomery and Pensacola roads.

Maj. Gen. Wallace has been assigned to the Department of Tennessee.

It is believed that the pirate Alabama is now on the track of the Aspinwall steamers, to intercept a treasure ship.

Advices from Bermuda represent that the inhabitants are excited about Admiral Wilkes' movements. Some of the journals say that our cruisers have instituted a blockade of that island. The English vessels Alert, James and Gladiator were brought to lately by order of Admiral Wilkes.

It is reported that the gunboat Montgomery chased a rebel steamer ashore on the 7th inst. The crew set the steamer on fire and abandoned her. She was loaded with cotton.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated — By UNCLE TOBY.

Moodey and Cranfield—Poverty in the Colony—Refugees.

That Cranfield and Moodey should come into collision, was not strange. The former suspected that the great and general influence of the latter was the chief obstacle in the way of his schemes of wealth and aggrandisement. And we have little or no doubt, that to some extent this suspicion was well founded. Moodey's pulpit discourses are said to have been free and plain. If so, they could not fail, either expressly or by implication, to condemn almost every act of Cranfield's administration, which was a singular compound of pride and hypocrisy, fraud and violence, craft and avarice.

He, Cranfield, must appear to great disadvantage in this article, as indeed he does in every account we have of him in these transactions. Yet even he must not be judged too harshly, as if he were the worst man in the world then, or as if there were none like him him now. His previous conduct, and his subsequent actions, as recorded by his opponents, were of another character. It is said of him, when afterwards he was collector at Barbadoes, that he treated with great respect and kindness all such shipmasters and other persons belonging to Portsmouth, as visited that place.

But in this government of the Province of New Hampshire, utterly disappointed as he was in his hope of making a fortune in a hurry, he did not, as he might, set this disappointment down as arising from the fact that no such rapid fortunes were to be made there by anybody. He therefore suspected some secret obstacle in his way, and blamed such persons as he supposed most likely to place it there. He found the people of New England stubborn and untractable, and the leading men the most so of any. He, Cranfield, did not properly consider or make allowance for the difference between the people he had left at home, and those whom he found on this side the water. Yet there was a great difference, both in their situation and character. In Old England, though surrounded by poor persons, there were many commercial men of great wealth, who could readily command large sums of money. In the new fishing and lumbering colony of Piscataqua, there were no such men. Their greatest men had been the head servants of Mason's company, or were their immediate descendants.

And, when disappointed in his effort to get money from the people by mild and lawful means, he endeavored to do it by fraud and intimidations, he reckoned again without his host.

In Old England the Commonwealth had been broken down for a quarter of a century, and the restoration of Charles II. had been operating annually, these twenty-five years, to kill off or drive off the most turbulent rebels and the most stubborn non-conformists. The more timid and the more prudent, had in the meantime gradually yielded to the rule of the king; his authority, in church and state, had become almost absolute; and he even took away the charters of the city of London and other cities, and dissolved Parliament saying as he did so, he would never call another.

During these same twenty-five years, scores of these rebels and regicides, and hundreds of the non-conforming Ministers and their peculiar adherents, took refuge in New England, bringing with them their principles, cherishing their prejudices, and remembering, perhaps resenting, the persecutions which they had suffered from the English crown, some in the name of the church, others of the state, many of both united.

Not a few of these men had settled in Massachusetts. With Massachusetts, New Hampshire was united, by the voice of the people, only a few years after Mr. Mason, the old patentee, had deceased. And under the laws of Massachusetts, and her usages, civil, military and religious, the people of New Hampshire had lived, greatly to their own satisfaction, until Randolph's commission, by the King's command, broke off the connexion. Many of the refugees were men of strong minds, firm purpose, and iron will. Some were men of letters; others mighty men of valor. As they came over and dwelt here, they tinctured the whole community with their views; and their influence, though necessarily silent and unseen for the most part, was yet like the leaven hid in the meal, steadily progressing till the whole mass was leavened.

☞ Mr. F. W. Bird in a published letter states that Gov. Andrew "promptly and decidedly declared his disapproval of the whole scheme" of Gen. Dix to send 500 negroes into Massachusetts, and to remain until the Government could colonize them.

☞ The Journal states that on Monday last, while delirious from brain fever, Miss Abby Keay of Berwick, daughter of the late Col. Keay, sprang from her bed-room window and was drowned in the Salmon Falls river. Her age was 25.

☞ The President has appointed David Davis of Illinois to fill one of the vacancies on the bench of the Supreme Court.

SUNDAY SERVICES,

A LECTURE

Delivered in the Universalist Church, Portsmouth, Sunday evening, Oct. 19th,

BY THE PASTOR.

Continued.

But I hear some mother whispering that she cannot go to church in the morning, in consequence of her domestic cares; that unless there is a sermon in the afternoon, she must be deprived of religious privileges altogether. I admit the force of the objection. There are a few, perhaps, who find it inconvenient to attend a morning service, and who would esteem it a privilege to go in the afternoon. And this is the only valid objection to our system. This is the only argument of any weight, that I have ever heard in favor of the second sermon.

But I apprehend that if these "Marthas" will make a little effort to re-adjust their domestic arrangements, and if their families will exercise a spirit of accommodation, this difficulty can be removed. And even if there be a few who cannot come in the morning, they are not denied a religious service in the afternoon. There will be a service quite as interesting, quite as instructive as a sermon. Let them come and sit down in the Bible Class. They will hear half a chapter explained instead of a single text. I submit whether this should be deemed a deprivation. And if it be a trifling loss, I submit whether a whole congregation ought to suffer for the sake of these few individuals. They are all, or nearly all mothers. Such a claim from one who has no family is false and futile. And I submit whether they should not consult the interests of their children as well as their own interests.

This will lead me to consider in the third place, the claims of the Sunday School. I wish I had time to do better justice to this department of my subject, for it is most important of all. But I must condense my thought as much as possible.

It is a well known fact that children are seldom interested in sermons. They cannot comprehend an extended train of reasoning. Their minds are too tender, their range of thought too limited. They require another kind of instruction, more direct, brief, simple, abounding in familiar illustrations.

Look around over any congregation, and you shall find that a considerable proportion of the persons composing it are too young to be profited by sermons. These childhood years are their most important years. They will lay the foundation of their manhood, draw the outline of their character. Impressions received now will never be effaced. Instruction imparted now, will never be forgotten. The motives awakened, the principles and opinions planted, before they are able to comprehend an elaborate sermon, will have more influence in directing the current of their lives than all the instruction of subsequent years.—These will constitute the germs of character from which we may expect an abundant harvest of good or of evil. They will never need careful guidance and instruction so much as now.

I appeal to your candid judgment therefore, whether it is justice to the children to require the minister to prepare and preach two sermons every week, for the instruction and gratification of the older minds, while he scarcely devotes a thought or word to their especial instruction. If he preach twice on Sunday he can of course do little in the Sunday School.

But this is not all. Unless we give the School one half the day, make it an especial service, it must either precede or follow a public service, and the two in connection are too long to be of interest or advantage to any child.

The parents are unwilling to be connected with the Sunday School, because it is so confining and fatiguing. Indeed they can hardly sit patiently through the public services if they happen to be protracted beyond the usual limits. How common the remark that the sermon was very good if it had not been so long, but the last ten minutes spoiled it. How would these sufferers endure those last ten minutes, if they had, like the teachers and pupils, entered church from a confined and perhaps damp and dingy Sunday School room, where mind and heart had been under strain for an hour or more? Or how would they like to go from this long, tedious, fatiguing service, into the Sunday School, and spend another hour in earnest spiritual endeavor? The parents understand the sermon. They find in it much to interest and profit. It does not seem so long to them as to their children, yet it fatigues them. The children, who do And not understand it, or feel interested in it; to whom it is only a long string of meaningless sounds, are not only expected, with all their restless, impulsive, buoyant spirits, to endure it patiently, but to add another hour of confinement and labor. Is this making the Sabbath a day of rest to the children? Is it not rather a day of work, the hardest of all the seven? Is it not also calculated to render irksome and distasteful that service which should be pleasing, fascinating, joy inspiring to their young and ardent natures?

S. J. COURT.

FRIDAY.—In the case of Goodall v. Pickering, the jury returned a verdict for Deft. for $192.55.

Goodall and Hackett for Plf. Hoyt for Deft.

Case Sanborn, Richardson & Co., vs Nath'l. K. Leavitt, was taken up. This is an action of replevin for ale barrels, malt, ale and porter, taken by deft. as Deputy Sheriff on sundry writs of attachment against I. S. Brown & Co., brewers at Exeter, and claimed by plfs. as mortagees of said Brown & Co. Wood and Hatch for Plfs. Bell and Christie for Deft.

☞ A man employed on the gun-deck of the U. S. steam frigate Colorado at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, on Friday afternoon, fell through the hatchway, but was caught by some workmen on the berth-deck, as he was making a rapid descent into the hold. It was a narrow escape, and the presence of mind manifested by those who saw him falling and caught him, is somewhat marvellous.

☞ A few evenings since, about 11 o'clock, the watchmen found a man in a state of partial intoxication sitting on a stick of timber, which was lying on the flats, near Martin's mast and spar yard at the North End; and after considerable difficulty in climbing over slimy timber and through mud and mire, succeeded in getting him safe on terra firma, when the following information was elicited from him relative to the reasons for his being in such a place at such a time. He stated that he some time ago fell in love with a fair damsel, and continued his visits to her house until recently, when she abruptly refused him entrance. He informed her—amid smothered sighs and blinding tears—that he would adopt the most extreme measures whereby to consummate his revenge, and intimated in the plainest terms that the next time she saw him alive, he would be a corpse! Still the fair one remained inexorable, and at last closed the door against him; so in order to carry out his threat, and establish his veracity, he proceeded to the place above mentioned, and was awaiting the rise of the tide to complete his designs, which as intimated above, the watchmen frustrated. At the watch house he had abundant opportunity for reflection, and, doubtless realizing that "none but the brave deserve the fair," he has since enlisted and "gone for to be a soldier."

☞ The Alleghanians had a crowded house, Thursday night—and gave a grand concert too, according to programme. As everybody was there, it is not much to particularize as to performances. Their quartet singing was more like the Hutchinsons' than any other we ever heard, and was very sweet. And the songs were all well given, and received with encore. The bell performances were finely executed, some of the pieces being very difficult. The troupe appear at the Boston Aquarial Gardens during next week. Our citizens would be glad to greet them here again with a full house.

☞ In reply to the intimation of the ever-grumbling Ishmael of the bawl-at, that we quibbled on the word 'official' in reference to the late Fair here, we will simply say, (what all our readers now know,) that any man who says the Chronicle helped extend the idea that the exhibition was to be a regular State Fair—"is a liar, and the truth is not in him."

☞ Friday was one of the finest days of the season—and it was "the last Friday," too, which weatherwises (or otherwises) say "governs the next month."

☞ The crew of the U. S. screw frigate Minnesota at the Portsmouth Navy Yard are to have a ten days' furlough.

LADIES' HUMANE SOCIETY.—The meetings of the Humane Society will be held, this season, at No. 58 State Street. They will be commenced on Monday, the 3d of November. Ladies not members of the Society are invited to attend the meetings.

Portsmouth, Nov. 1, 1862.

☞ The writ of habeas corpus for the release from Fort Warren, of W. H. Winder, is not yet served. No man can cross the ferry to the island without a pass from Col. Dimick, on whom the writ must be served, and it seems quite unlikely that he will feel obliged to aid the officer in the matter by sending him a pass.

☞ Appleton Oaksmith arrived at Havana on a sailing vessel about the 20th inst., and has gone to a neighboring plantation to recruit his health.

☞ The National Intelligencer denies that it has been sold for the purpose of being made an administration organ. No change has taken place.

A REQUEST.—Each and every person who is indebted to The Chronicle or The Gazette office, for newspapers, advertising or job printing, is hereby desired to settle the same as soon as convenient. And all having claims, to present them.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— An Irish woman named Hannah Farley, was arrested in the post office at Manchester, on Tuesday evening, for picking a lady's pocket, and has been bound over. She is an old offender, and has been in jail twice for a like offence. Her husband is in the third regiment.

—— The Nashua Gazette says that the late Gen. Gage had a life insurance in one of the Hartford companies for $5000.

—— Some of the papers are urging a special session of the Legislature, to give the soldiers now in the army the right of suffrage, as in some other States. It is stated that the Governor and Council have the matter under consideration.

—— Wm. M. Weed, Esq., of Sandwich, declines the office of Lieut. Colonel of the 15th Regt., and Maj. G. W. Frost of New Market has been promoted to that position. W. H. Blair, of Plymouth, who declined the Majorship of the 17th Regt., has been appointed Major of the 16th.

—— The 8th Regt., near New Orleans, has recently had new Enfield rifles given them in exchange for the old Austrian rifles that they carried with them when they left the State.

☞ See ion fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

☞ MATHEWS' ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled for the removal of dandruff. Its operations in this particular are magical, and their results are thorough and complete. Oct24 1md

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann T. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Wm. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Gen. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Huntress, Jos. D. Akerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Fryer, Cashman Fryer, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Ferrnald, Mrs. Wm Locke, Kittery; R. T. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made.

The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with neatness.

The peculiar taint or infection which we call SCROFULA lurks in the constitutions of multitudes of men. It either produces or is produced by an enfeebled, vitiated state of the blood, wherein that fluid becomes incompetent to sustain the vital forces in their vigorous action, and leaves the system to fall into disorder and decay. The scrofulous contamination is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered digestion from unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children." The diseases it originates take various names, according to the organs it attacks. In the lungs, Scrofula produces tubercles, and finally Consumption; in the glands, swellings which suppurate and become ulcerous sores; in the stomach and bowels, derangements which produce indigestion, dyspepsia, and liver complaints; on the skin, eruptive and cutaneous affections. These, all having the same origin, require the same remedy, viz., purification and invigoration of the blood. Purify the blood, and these dangerous distempers leave you. With feeble, foul, or corrupted blood, you cannot have health; with that "life of the flesh" healthy, you cannot have scrofulous disease.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

is compounded from the most effectual antidotes that medical science has discovered for this afflicting distemper, and for the cure of the disorders it entails. That it is far superior to any other remedy yet devised, is known by all who have given it a trial. That it does combine virtues truly extraordinary in their effect upon this class of complaints, is indisputably proven by the great multitude of publicly known and remarkable cures it has made of the following diseases: King's Evil, or Glandular Swellings, Tumors, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches and Sores, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Coughs from tuberculous deposits in the lungs, White Swellings, Debility, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Syphilis and Syphilitic Infections, Mercurial Diseases, Female Weaknesses, and, indeed, the whole series of complaints that arise from impurity of the blood. Minute reports of individual cases may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, which is furnished to the druggists for gratuitous distribution, wherein may be learned the directions for its use, and some of the remarkable cures which it has made when all other remedies had failed to afford relief. These cases are purposely taken from all sections of the country, in order that every reader may have access to some one who can speak to him of its benefits from personal experience. Scrofula depresses the vital energies, and thus leaves its victims far more subject to disease and its fatal results than are healthy constitutions. Hence it tends to shorten, and does greatly shorten, the average duration of human life. The vast importance of these considerations has led us to spend years in perfecting a remedy which is adequate to its cure. This we now offer to the public under the name of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, although it is composed of ingredients, some of which exceed the best of Sarsaparilla in alterative power. By its aid you may protect yourself from the suffering and danger of these disorders. Purge out the foul corruptions that rot and fester in the blood, purge out the causes of disease, and vigorous health will follow. By its peculiar virtues this remedy stimulates the vital functions, and thus expels the distempers which lurk within the system or burst out on any part of it.

We know the public have been deceived by many compounds of Sarsaparilla, that promised much and did nothing; but they will neither be deceived nor disappointed in this. Its virtues have been proven by abundant trial, and therefore remains no question of its surpassing excellence for the cure of the afflicting diseases it is intended to reach. Although under the same name, it is a very different medicine from any other which has been before the people, and is far more effectual than any other which has ever been available to them.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

EYE, N.H., Feb. 25, 1862. "Thereby certify that my daughter has had the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so bad that she could not labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended to the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla, Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some ten or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as this cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicine can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were afflicted, and witnessed many full cures effected by it since I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago, I discovered a bunch growing in my breast, attended with severe pleuring pain, which soon grew large as a hen's egg, it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant testimony I had of the good effect of Mr Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and I hesitated no longer, but procured five bottles, which he prepared, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, my Cancer was fully cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE H. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct. SIMON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 18, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, causing many sores on my side. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors. HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with ulcers at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food. Nothing did after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which relieved me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a cure in my case. On the whole would add—that by the use of it my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints.

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ESDRA I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may20w

THE MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and cast iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be confined day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. Bradlee, Geo. Rundlett, Gordon, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John R. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Hinds, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon; Charles Stimpson, Kittery; Thomas J. Tarlton, Newcastle; and the host of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 14 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never been so far first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrotula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Rightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Debangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with good rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and red stamp.

April 7—1y Staw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 A 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted persons are rejoiced in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

April 7, 1862—1y Staw.

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

DR. DOW is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. in relation, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Models, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, not attaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The numerous testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty-years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast amount of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDWARD BLUNDELL,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on three rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Let every man, woman and child who uses Wine, see to it that they buy none other than these.

"The Hock" is a most delicious Wine, and rivals in delicacy its German predecessor.

STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS ON HABEAS CORPUS.—The following is an extract from a speech in Congress by Mr. Douglas in 1844, in defence of Gen. Jackson's course at New Orleans, for which the General had been fined $1000 by a Federal judge,—and upon a proposition to refund that fine with interest. Gen. Jackson—once considered a very fair Democrat—was fined for refusal to recognize the writ of habeas corpus, or obey it. When the judge afterwards called Gen. Jackson before him, and fined him $1000, Gen. J. paid the fine, exactly as the U. S. Marshal in Vermont has recently paid $100 for a similar offence.

Mr. Douglas, who was then and long afterward considered a good democrat, defended Gen. Jackson and his course.

For this speech, ex-President Jackson, but a short time before his death, thanked Mr. Douglas in person, saying that he was the first one of his friends in Congress to ask for the refunding of his fine on the true ground—on the ground that he did right at New Orleans, and usurped no authorized power, but that he was authorized to take the steps for which he was fined, by the terrible exigencies of the occasion. It was on the bill to refund the fine with interest, to Gen. Jackson, that Mr. Douglas said:

He cared not whether Gen. Jackson violated the Constitution or not. He cared not whether Gen. Jackson suspended all civil authority or not. If his acts were necessary to the defence of the country, that necessity was above all law. Gen. Jackson hazarded everything; he hazarded both life and reputation on that step, which might render him immortal if he saved the country, or, on the contrary, make him ignominious, and a by-word and a reproach; and the man that dared to do that deserved the protection and plaudits of his country.

He did not envy the feelings of that man who could get up and talk calmly and coolly, under such circumstances, about rules of court and technicalities of proceeding, when the city might be in flames, and the utmost barbarity might be committed. What were rules of court but mere cobwebs when they found an enemy with his cannon at the doors of their courts, and they saw the flames encircling the cupola?

Talk then about the rules of court, and the formalities of proceedings! The man that would do this, would fiddle while the Capitol was burning. [Sensation.] He could not envy any man the possession of such stoical philosophy. Talk about illegality! Talk about formalities! Why, there was but one formality to be observed, and that was the formality of directing the cannon and destroying the enemy, regardless of the means, whether it be by the seizure of cotton bags or the seizure of persons, if the necessity of the case required it. The God of nature has conferred this right on men and nations; and therefore let him not be told that it was unconstitutional to use the necessary means.

The Constitution was adopted for the protection of the country, and under the Constitution the nation had the right to exercise all the powers that were necessary for the protection of the country. If martial law was necessary to the salvation of the country, martial law was legal for that purpose. If it was necessary for a judge, for the preservation of order, to punish for a contempt, he thought it was necessary for a General to exercise control over his cannon, to imprison traitors, and to arrest spies, and to intercept communication with the enemy. If this was necessary, this was legal.

☞ Ex-President Buchanan has written a reply to Gen. Scott's second letter, in which he asserts that Gen. Scott, "without the least cause," attributes the refusal to garrison the southern forts to the influence of Sec. Floyd. "All my Cabinet," Mr. Buchanan says, "must bear me witness that I was President myself, and responsible for all the acts of the Administration; * * during the last six months, previous to his resignation, he (Floyd) exerted less influence on the Administration than any other member of the Cabinet." He then says "there were no available troops within reach, which could be sent to those fortifications." Of course, Gen. Scott did not know whether there were any available troops or not; Mr. Buchanan could set him right in that matter! But even admitting that there were no troops available, who is responsible for the, at least, unfortunate disposition of troops, &c., at that time?

The reply closes with a complaint that Gen. Scott first published his letter in January, 1861, without the President's knowledge or consent.

☞ The Ship Alleghanian, of New York loaded with flour, from Baltimore for London, was set on fire on Tuesday night, while lying at anchor in Chesapeake Bay, below the mouth of the Rappahannock. A boat's crew from a U. S. mortar vessel went on board and extinguished the flames. A portion of the crew were picked up and have arrived in Washington. Others of the crew have arrived at Fortress Monroe. They state that the ship was set on fire by the rebels, and that their captain, mate and pilot were taken prisoners and carried off. It was believed at Fortress Monroe, however, that it was a case of mutiny.

☞ 17,000 of the French troops ordered to Mexico, have arrived.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Hindman is in prison at Little Rock, and will be shortly taken to Richmond for trial. Albert Pike is poking sharp sticks at him.

Gen. Banks has established a camp at East New York. Two Maine regiments are now there, and other New England regiments on arriving will be quartered at the same place.

An extensive movement southward of rebel troops, without baggage, is reported in the Shenandoah Valley on Thursday.—Jackson was then at Perryville.

There is said to be a large rebel force at Kingston, N. C., 40 miles up the Neuse river, the shores of which are lined with new and powerful batteries.

Richmond papers announce the arrival in that city of Gen. Bragg and staff.

The drafted militia of Maryland have been assured that they will not be obliged to leave the State, but will perform only garrison duty.

Our army seems to be pushing forward into Virginia. Maj. Gen. Cox's division arrived at Charlestown on Friday. The rebels under Echols, Floyd and Jenkins retreated hence on the Monday previous.

Gov. Stanley has proposed an interview to Gov. Vance of North Carolina, or the appointment of commissioners to confer with him on State public affairs. The rebels have two iron clads on the Roanoke river, which will soon be ready for operations.

The Times' Washington dispatch says Gen. Longstreet is at Petersburg, and is to command the rebel army moving to attack Suffolk. Gen. Dix is said to be strong in the belief that an attack is to be made there, and at Yorktown and Fortress Monroe.

It is reported that seven immense iron clad frigates are being constructed in England for the rebels.

The old Pennsylvania regiments are to be filled at once with drafted men.

THIRD N. H. REGIMENT.

Camp 3d Regt., Co. D, N. H. Vols.,
HILTON HEAD, S. C., Oct. 20.

Friend Miller:—Enclosed you will find a copy of the "New South" newspaper published last Saturday. It contains many interesting items, one of which is a roster of the "3d," which shows that there are seven officers from Rockingham county, viz: Col. Jackson of Portsmouth; Capt. Wilber of Exeter; 1st Lieut. Cornelius of Portsmo.; 1st Lieut. Fogg of Exeter; 1st Lieut. Dearborn of Hampton; 1st Lieut. Jackson of Portsmouth, and 2d Lieut. Head of Exeter. Lieut. Cornelius is now in New Hampshire on recruiting service, and Lieut. Dearborn is an Aid to Gen. Cox in the "Army of the Potomac."

The Portsmouth boys are all attached to Co. D,—eleven in all,—Corp'l Johnson having lately been discharged for disability. Of the eleven, one is a Sergeant, Tredick; two Corporals, Entwistle and Plaisted; two are on extra duty in the Quartermaster's Department, Wiggin and Bunker, as boatmen in Gen. Mitchell's boat; one, Stoodley, is on extra duty in our Commissary Department, and is a universal favorite: the remaining five are Moore, Horrocks, H. E. Johnson, Gates and Parker: the latter is a "character" and is familiarly known as "the Sutler," Sergt. Tredick prides himself on having the cleanest, nicest looking rifle in the regiment. No Portsmouth boy has died in this regiment, and all are now on duty. Capt. Maxwell, of Manchester, has command of Co. D, and looks sharp after the comfort and interest of his men. At the Sunday morning inspection yesterday morning, Co. D, were marked No. 1 in every particular.

Saturday we rejoiced and were exceeding glad at the appearance of Maj. Mason, U. S. Paymaster, who proceeded, after 3 months' vacation, to dispense the "green backs." At this payment the allotment took effect. Many were dissatisfied, as they were induced to sign the allotment rolls, thinking the amounts allotted would be sent to their families immediately after each 2 months payment should become due, and it now appears that allotments for the payment due Aug. 31st have not yet reached New Hampshire. Mr. George C. Harris of Boston, who enlisted in Portsmouth about the middle of August for this regiment, came out with Capt. Allen and about 200 recruits, having charge of them most of the time. Immediately on his arrival here, he was made Orderly Sergeant of Co. H. He has acted as a Lieutenant part of the time since his arrival, and performs his duties with credit to himself and the city that sent him out here.

We are now making preparations for some expedition of importance. I will endeavor to give you an account of the affair on return of the expedition.

Yours, &c., J. T. M.

FOREIGN.—M. Thouvenel, the French foreign minister has resigned. Sir E. G. Lewis, the English War Minister, has been speaking against the recognition of the South. Their independence is not accomplished yet. Earl Hardwick has endorsed Gladstone's views. The London Times shows the inexpediency of the recognition of the South, at present.

SUNDAY SERVICES,

A LECTURE

Delivered in the Universalist Church, Portsmouth, Sunday evening, Oct. 19th,

BY THE PASTOR.

Continued.

What a blessed influence the Sunday School is capable of exerting! What a beauty and joy it may become in the earth! Why have its claims been so long neglected? Why has it been compelled to steal an hour as best it could for its important services? Because of our reverence for long established custom. Because of our distrust of innovation. We have had a sermon in the morning and another in the afternoon from the time of the pilgrim fathers, and it were sacrilege almost to interrupt the order they established.

But remember that when they introduced this custom, the Sunday School was a thing unknown. It was a thought of after generations. They appropriated all the time to religious services which they considered profitable. They were zealous, devout men, not in danger of neglecting their religious altars. There was no Sunday School; so they gave the day, morning and afternoon, to religious exercises. If they had known its worth, we may well believe their calm, deliberate, christian judgment, would have appropriated to it one half the day.

We know, in part, at least, its value.—We have found that the surest means of making christian men and women is to bring the children up in the "nurture and admonition of the Lord." We regard the Sunday School second to no other influence in the cause of christian culture. Shall we make no especial provisions for its service? Shall we continue to crowd it in, as best we may, between the hours devoted by our fathers to religious worship? Are we more devout than they? Are we so much stronger in muscle, mind and soul, that we can successfully perform this additional amount of labor? Shall the school be an after-thought with us, as it was with them? Shall we say to the children, in deed if not in word: your religious instruction is of comparatively little importance! We can give you none of our Pastor's time, nor of the hours of God's sacred day, save such as will not interfere with our established customs. Shall we not rather cheerfully and gladly recognize the claims of this most important interest, and give the children their proper place in the work and worship of the Christian Sabbath?

I believe the time has come, when the well-being of the church and world demands this change. I congratulate you, my brethren, in being in the van of such reform. I wish I had a trumpet voice to proclaim it to all the churches.

Let the morning be devoted to a sermon. Let the minister prepare it with thought and care, and make it, if possible, a spiritual and intellectual banquet to his people.—Let him come to the house of God and lay it before them fresh and warm, from a free, full, strong and healthy heart. Let all engage in this service as a hungry man sits down to a rich repast.

Let the afternoon be devoted more especially to a service for the children. But let it not be a children's service merely.—Let fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, all come together to the house of prayer. Let them blend their voices in our beautiful services and songs of devotion. Let the Pastor gather the older ones into a great Bible Class, and instruct them in the scriptures while the classes attend to their recitations. At the close of recitation, let him talk for five or ten minutes in a familiar manner to the children, employing such language and illustrations as will rivet their attention, convince their judgments, and improve their hearts. It is believed that such a service may be interesting and profitable to young and old.

Then let the minister, if he have strength, deliver during the lecture season, a course of Sunday evening lectures.

Such would be my order of public services. And I honestly believe that if adopted with an earnestness of spirit, it would do more for the churches and Sunday Schools of this city, and all our towns and cities where stated preaching is maintained, than almost anything that may be named. It would impart new strength and vigor to the Pastor, new zeal and interest to the people, old and young—new spirit and life to all their christian exercise.

Such is the order we have adopted at this church. It has worked to the entire satisfaction of all who have participated in the second service. So far as I know there is not one who would return to the old custom of two sermons.

That we may fully experience its benefits, we have decided to hold the service for the children in the church. And I call upon you, brethren and sisters, old and young, to come and participate in this most delightful exercise. If you do not enjoy it and profit by it, it will be because you do not participate in it. Above all, do not condemn it until you have tried it. Test its practical workings and then judge. Let us study and work together like earnest christian men and women, for our own spiritual improvement and the well-being of our children. Then our Parish, putting on fresh plumage, will rejoice in her strength, her beauty, her abundant prosperity.

Important to Females.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice.—They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from the interruption of nature.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

are the most effectual remedy ever known for all complaints peculiar to FEMALES. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box.—The Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

Pills sent by mail, promptly, by remitting to the Proprietor. Sold by Druggists generally.

Local.

S. J. COURT—PORTSMOUTH.

SATURDAY MORNING.—The Exeter Beer Barrel case broke down, and some amendments being needful, the case was continued. The Court adjourned to Monday.

☞ In the list of New Hampshire soldiers in the Hospitals at Washington, we find the following from this city and vicinity:—

Nathaniel Young, Portsmouth, Co. H, 6th Regt.—had typhoid fever; better. Henry L. Richards, Portsmouth, Co. F, 2d Sharpshooters,—wounded in side and foot; doing well.

David Locke, Rye, Co. K, 13th Regt. erysipelas, pretty bad; a little better.

☞ We are authorized to state that the workmen at the Portsmouth Navy Yard will be paid off on Tuesday, 4th inst.

☞ A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror speaks highly of the conduct of Col. Jackson, of the 3d regiment, among other officers, in the recent attack on the Charleston & Savannah railroad.

☞ A private letter from a member of the 27th Maine regiment, for the whole of which we have not space, speaks in high praise of the treatment they had received, and of the officers of the regiment. Dr. Wentworth, of Kittery, is Lt. Col. of the regiment, and is represented to be doing all he can for the comfort of the men. There are many volunteers from this vicinity in the regiment and all were well at the date of the letter—Oct. 28.

Maine has now sent all her regiments into the field, the last having passed through this city a few days since. The State has manifested a commendable and patriotic energy in filling her quotas.

☞ A large barn on the premises of the heirs of the late Oliver Philbrick, in Kittery, was totally destroyed by fire on Friday evening. It contained nearly twenty tons of hay. The origin of the fire, we understand, was accidental. The alarm in portions of this city on that evening, was occasioned by this fire.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Littleton Journal says a company of individuals have commence operations upon the slate quarries in that town. The enterprise promises well, the specimens comparing favorably in color, rift, thickness and elasticity with any slate in New England.

—— A gentleman in an inland town tendered a dollar bill to pay a charge of sixty cents, and was gravely offered forty squash seeds to represent the balance due him.

—— Dr. C. F. P. Hildreth of Concord, has been appointed Acting Assistant Surgeon in the navy.

John T. G. Smart and his two sons, Samuel J. and John M., of Barnstead, all enlisted in the Eighth Regiment and all died at Camp Parapet within a few days of each other.]

—— The following non-commissioned officers of the Fifth Regiment have been recommended for promotion on account of gallant and meritorious conduct: Sergeants Robert S. Dame, Wm. O. Lyford, Geo. R. Shapleigh, A. D. Sanborn, John H. Waite, Charles C. Shattuck, Daniel Libbey, Chas. Phelps, Thomas A. Walker, and Corporal Charles A. Hale.

—— Rev. Liberty Billings, recently of Concord, chaplain of the Fourth Regiment, has been appointed Lieut. Colonel of the First South Carolina (Black) Volunteers.

—— On Tuesday last, a convict, called Reuben Wright, escaped from State Prison. In the charge of an officer, he with one other convict had been set to work outside the walls before daybreak. Taking advantage of the thick darkness, he threw off his shoes and took to his heels. Pursuit has up to this time proved fruitless.

——George L. Dearborn, of Concord twenty-two years of age, employed as a clerk in Boston, was drowned in that city, on Wednesday evening, while bathing.—He was taken with a fit as is supposed, to which he was subject, and fell into the bathing tub and was drowned.

☞ It is understood that Gen. Wool defends his conduct in arresting the Union citizens in Baltimore, on the ground that they were circulating a petition for his removal, in which he was spoken of very harshly, among the soldiers under his command—a serious military offence.

☞ The Nassau Guardian says the pilots of that port have been forbidden, under the penalty of deprivation of their commissions, to bring in any belligerent vessel in future, unless the permission of the Governor is first obtained.

☞ There has been serious uprising of the negro laborers against the proprietors and managers at St. Vincient, W. I. The whites turned out and killed 7 of the rioters and took about 200 prisoners. The insurrection was soon quelled.

LADIES' HUMANE SOCIETY.—The meetings of the Humane Society will be held, this season, at No. 58 State Street. They will be commenced on Monday, the 3d of November. Ladies not members of the Society are invited to attend the meetings.

Portsmouth, Nov. 1, 1862.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambucci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

☞ MATHEWS' ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled for the removal of dandruff. Its operations in this particular are magical, and their results are thorough and complete. Oct24 1md

ANOTHER NEW STOVE!

THE MODEL COOK

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 feet long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! A check draft is applied to this Stove by means of which the consumption of fuel is greatly lessened, and a steady fire can be kept day and night if desired.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the true stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

We believe the MODEL COOK to be the very best Stove in the Market, and invite every one to examine it whether they wish to purchase or not. It has had a very extensive sale since its introduction. Reference might be made to more than a hundred families in this city or vicinity who are using the Stove, and give it the highest commendation.

We refer to the following individuals who have purchased the Model Cook:—

David Kimball, Thos. F. Burt, John T. French, Rev. Mr. Davies, Wm. Pettigrew, Capt. John Davis, Jeremiah Raitt, Mrs. Ann M. Perkins, James W. Jarvis, Francis C. Jarvis, Thos. L. Tullock, Jacob Wendell, Capt. Jacob Thompson, Geo. J. G. Hadley, G. Melvin Hunitress, Jos. D. Ackerman, James F. Shores, Wm. C. Newton, Horton D. Walker, Benj. Cheever, John Trundy, Richard L. Randall, Geo. Rice, Benj. F. Cannon, Benj M. Parker, Charles A. W. Wiggin, George W. Plumer, Nath'l Dennett, Henry F. Gerrish, John Harratt, Thos Murphy, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Joseph Stiles, John Seater, Wm. Bell, Cyrus Plumer, Freeman Hurd, James M. Locke, Daniel L. Randall, Isaiah Wilson, John K. Roberts—of Portsmouth; Samuel C. Dixon, Daniel J. Pryor, Chahman Pryor, of Trefethen's Island; Geo. N. Dixon, Samuel F. Paul, Elias Remick, Timothy Dame, Eliot; Wm. S. Locke, Benj. Furnald, Mrs. Wm. Locke, Kittery; E. F. Gerrish, Kittery Point; Hon. VICTOR COAL STOVE.

We offer this beautiful coal burner to the public, with full confidence in its merits.

It was brought into market two years since, and has come rapidly into use.

The Victor is one of the handsomest parlor stoves in the market, and is perfect in its operation. The arrangement for dumping the ashes is very fine—no dust need escape into the room—a continuous fire may be kept throughout the winter—the coal all burned, and no clinkers made. The quantity of fuel used is very small indeed. There is in this stove an excellent arrangement for ventilating the room in which it is placed; a feature not possessed by any other parlor stove.

Some of the sizes are provided with an oven and boiling place, making them very desirable for a dining room.

We sold a large number of Victor Stoves in our city last season, and they receive the highest commendation from those who are using them.

We have also the celebrated McGregor Stove, so well known in the market as to need no commendation.

A great variety of cheaper Stoves for coal and wood—Coal-hods—Patent Coal-sifters.

COAL LININGS,

and Repairing pieces for most of the stoves in use. Job Work attended to with dispatch.

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR

Scrofula and Scrofulous Diseases.

From Emery Ellis, a well-known merchant of Oxford, Maine.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, and can say that one bottle which failed of the desired effect had full satisfaction to those who took it. As fast as our people try it, they agree there has been no medicine like it before in our community."

Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Ulcers, Sores, and all Diseases of the Skin.

From Rev. Bold. Stratton, Bristol, England.

"I only do my duty to you and the public, when I add my testimony to that you publish of the medicinal virtues of your SARSAPARILLA. My daughter, aged 19, had an afflicting humor in her ears, eyes, and hair for years, which we were unable to cure, and we tried your SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From Mrs. Jane E. Hipe, a well-known and much-esteemed lady of Dennisville, Cape May Co., N. J.

"My daughter has suffered for a year past with a scrofulous eruption, which was severe and troublesome. Nothing afforded any relief until we tried your SARSAPARILLA, which soon completely cured her."

From Charles P. Gage, Esq., of the widely known firm of Gage, Murray & Co., manufacturers of cassimeres, Nashua, N. H.

"I had for several years a very troublesome humor in my face, which grew constantly worse until it disfigured my features and became in intolerable affliction. I tried almost everything, and was cured of both advice and medicine, but without any relief whatever, until I took your SARSAPARILLA. It immediately made my face worse, so much so that I thought for a time that in a few weeks the new skin began to form under the blotches, and continued until my face is as smooth as any baby's, and I am without any symptoms of the disease that I know of. I enjoy perfect health, and without a doubt owe it to your SARSAPARILLA."

Erysipelas—General Debility—Purify the Blood.

From Dr. Robt. Smith, Houston St., New York.

"DR. AYER: I seldom fail to remove Erysipelas and Scrofulous Sores by the judicious use of your SARSAPARILLA, and I have not yet met with a case of Malignant Erysipelas with it. No alterative we possess equals the SARSAPARILLA you have supplied the profession as well as to the people."

From J. E. Johnston, Esq., Hickory, Ohio.

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Erysipelas on my right arm, during which time I tried all the celebrated physicians I could hear of, and took hundreds of dollars worth of medicine. The ulcers were so bad that the bone became visible, and the doctors decided that my arm must be amputated. I began taking your SARSAPARILLA. Took two bottles, and none of your PILLS. Together they have cured me. I am now well and sound in every limb. Being in a public place, my case is known to every body in this community, and excites the wonder of all."

From Hon. Henry Monro, M. P. P., of Newcastle, C. W., a leading member of the Canadian Parliament.

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, for general debility, and for purifying the blood, with very beneficial results, and feel confidence in commending it to the public."

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Eyes.

From Hervey Shelby, Esq., the able editor of the Tuskaloosa Democrat, Pennsylvania.

"Our only child, when three years of age, was attacked by Erysipelas in his face. The disease rapidly spread until they formed a loathsome and virulent sore, which covered his face, and actually blinded his eyes for some days. We resorted to the usual nitrate of silver and other remedies, without any apparent effect. For fifteen days we guarded his hands, lest with them he should tear open the festering and corrupt wound which covered his whole face. Having tried every thing else we had any hope from, we began giving your SARSAPARILLA, and applying the lotion of potash lotion, as you direct. The sore began to heal when we had given the first bottle, and we knew it was well before the second. The child's eyelashes, which had come out, grew again, and he is now as healthy and fair as any other. The whole neighborhood predicted that the child must die."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease

From Dr. Hiram Stout, of St. Louis, Missouri.

"I find your SARSAPARILLA a more efficient remedy for the secondary symptoms of Syphilis and for syphilitic disease than any other we possess. The profession are indebted to you for some of the best medicine we have."

From A. A. French, M. D., an eminent physician of Lawrence, Mass., and U. S. Pension Surgeon.

"DR. AYER: My dear Sir: I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent remedy for Syphilis, both of the primary and secondary types, and for that most obstinate form of disease, too common to yield to other remedies. I do not know what we can employ with more certainty of success, where a powerful alterative is required."

Dr. Chas. S. Hanks, Lee, of New Brunswick, N. J.

had dreadful ulcers on his legs, caused by the abuse of mercury, or rather by the cure. He was grown weak and emaciated for years, in spite of every remedy or treatment that could be applied, until the persevering use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA relieved him. A few cases just as desperate and distressing than this, and it took several dozen bottles to cure him.

Leucorrhœa, Whites, Female Weaknesses, are generally produced by scrofulous taint in the system, and are very often cured by the alterative effect of this SARSAPARILLA. Some cases, though, requiring in addition the use of AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS, the skillful application of local remedies.

From the well-known and widely celebrated Dr. Jacob Morrell, of Cincinnati.

"I have found your SARSAPARILLA an excellent alterative in diseases of females. Many cases of irregularity, Leucorrhœa, Internal Ulceration, and local pelvic pains, which have resisted other means, have yielded to it, and there are few that do not, when its effect is properly aided by local treatment."

A lady wishing to be publication of her name, writes us as follows, under date of Nov. 1, 1860:

"My daughter and myself have been cured of a very debilitating Leucorrhœa of long standing, by the use of your SARSAPARILLA."

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Neuralgia,

when caused by Scrofula in the system, are rapidly cured by this EXT. SARSAPARILLA.

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!

EXETER, Feb. 26, 1862. I hereby certify that my daughter has used the salt rheum for a number of years—some of the time so badly as to prevent her labor, or even rest—as it affected her hands very much. A large sum had been expended by the most celebrated physicians, for Sarsaparilla Syrup, &c., &c., but she obtained no relief until I procured some sets or twelve bottles of Dr. Swett's PANACEA, and several bottles of his Humor Wash, which have effected a cure. There can be no mistake, as the cure was effected more than three years ago. No other medicines can equal Dr. Swett's in removing the various kinds of humors. I have sold it to a number of my acquaintances, who were satisfied, and witnessed many full cures effected by it. Office I have acted as agent for the sale of it. JOSIAH JENNESS.

About seventeen years ago I discovered a beast growing in my breast, attended with severe pleuring pain, and when about as large as a hen's egg it broke out, and proved to be a Cancer of the most dangerous character. And from the abundant evidence I had of the good effect of Mr. Swett's Panacea in many such cases, I was encouraged to depend upon it for a cure in this case, and by keeping my stomach pure by emetics, which he prescribed, and taking twelve bottles of Panacea, and Humor Wash, I was cured in about two months, and I have had no trouble from it since. CAROLINE B. SWETT.

This statement of my wife is correct.
SIMEON SWETT.

Portsmouth, N. H., April 15, 1861.

I have been greatly afflicted with a Humor called by the doctors Salt Rheum and Erysipelas, coming from the top of my head. And seven bottles of Dr. Swett's Panacea I believe have effected a radical cure, as I have had no sign of the complaint since. I believe this medicine to be the most sure remedy in the world for Humors.
HANNAH ROWE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been affected with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cared me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure in me; and I would add—that by the use of it, my health has been gradually improved. I believe it to be generally recommended as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

FROM ELDER I CHESTER, Lee, May 21, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Perhaps to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicine shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may29

THE MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

The subscribers, having received their Fall stock of Stoves, would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

As the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise. We would refer to Messrs. Geo. L. Treadwell, Oren Hoag, don, J. B. Upham, J. Woodman Moses, John L. Holbrook, Geo. B. French, Frank Jones, John Stokell, James H. Pindar, James Shaw, Charles A. Hodgdon, Charles Simpson, Kittery; Thomas A. Taylor, Newcastle; and the list of others who are using them.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market to examine the

MAGEE COOK

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable,—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fine or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation, by one half.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

MATHEWS ARNICA HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all disease.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

NO PARTY—ONE COUNTRY.

"The Union as it was — the Constitution as it is."

"Bound to no party—to no sect confined;
The world our home; our brethren, all mankind.
Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all;
Exalt the right, though every item fall."

"Let me warn you in the most solemn manner against the baneful effects of the spirit of Party, generally. It is spirit not to be encouraged.—Its common and continual mischief is sufficient to make it the interest and duty of a wise people to discourage and restrain it. In government of the popular form, it is seen in its greatest rankness, and is truly their worst enemy."—Washington's Farewell Address.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of animated extent, DR. DOW has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal soil, impure blood, Scrofula, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving description of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale his French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three for $1 and a red stamp.

April 7—1y 3taw.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 & 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt that greater experience in the care of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain four red stamps, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every nature and nature; having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red ☞ stamp.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove this point. There is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANCED SKILL AND ABILITY, he would say that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE REBELLION.

Port Royal dates state that two British rebel steamers, valued with their cargoes at a million of dollars, were captured Oct. 27th and taken to Port Royal. Another British vessel was run ashore and destroyed. It was was reported at Port Royal that a rebel ram was coming down the river from Savannah.

Several rebel bands have been defeated in Missouri. The Texas expedition it is said will be materially balked by the premature publication of the particulars by the New York papers. The Nashville Union of Oct. 25 says no appehension need be indulged for the safety of that city.

The capture of Sabine Pass, Oct. 1st, by the U. S. steamer Kensington, Capt. Crocker, and schooners Seaman and Jonas, is confirmed. Crocker, with a small body of men, advanced into the country, and defeated two bands of rebels. The result of his operations was the capture of one fort, two camps, thirty buildings, and ten rebel vessels, which were burned.

A rumor prevails that Mobile has been attacked and captured. It comes by way of rebel prisoners taken in Mississippi and brought into Corinth.

Gen. Dix, who was at Washington last week on business, returned to his command at Fortress Monroe, on Friday. It is said that he is strong in the belief that Longstreet's army at Petersburg is merely a vanguard of an attack to be made upon his lines at Yorktown, for the capture of the depots of stores collected at that point, with the further object of then marching against Fortress Monroe. The General is confident that he can repel the present force under Longstreet, but is anxious to be heavily reinforced if he is called upon to fight the whole rebel army.

A dispatch from Gen. Sigel dated Fairfax, says the rebels are making demonstrations towards Manassas, and had run off a train near Bull Run bridge. Gen. Sigel says:—"I have sent a strong force to Bull Run bridge to restore the train to the track."

A Frederick dispatch states that the Secessionists there say that a rebel force from Western Virginia has joined Gen. Lee and been added to Jackson's division.

The Centreville correspondent of the N. Y. Times says the rebel Gen. Walker, with 11,000 men, was driven from Upperville through Thoroughfare Gap.

A correspondent of the N. Y. Herald says the advance, which has so far taken place slowly but surely into the rebel territory, will be accelerated to a rate which will ere long bring us to the main body of the enemy, or at least to where they are supposed to be. One of the striking features of the advance so far has been the almost entire cessation of stragglers, owing to a judicious system of provost marshalship, by which the men are kept with their regiments and ranks under certain penalties.

Gen. Pleasonton came up with the rebels' cavalry and artillery at Philemont, Va., on Saturday forenoon. A fight, wholly with artillery, ensued, for five hours, when the rebels retreated to Union, about three miles beyond. On Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, Gen. Pleasanton renewed the attack.—At 1 o'clock the rebels fell back and our troops occupied the town. Our troops also hold Snickerville Gap.

Gen. McClellan reports that he was in full possession of Snicker's Gap on Sunday evening, the rebel cavalry occupying it being driven out by 5000 or 6000 of our infantry. The rebels advanced to retake it, but were dispersed by the fire of our rifled guns. The position is a strong one for either side. Gens. Jackson and A. P. Hill are reported to be in the valley opposite.—Gen. Pleasanton had driven the enemy's cavalry several miles beyond Union at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, exploding one of their caissons and capturing ten of their wounded who were left behind.

It is said a regiment of cavalry for three years, is to be raised at once for Gen. Banks' expedition to Texas.

☞ Col. J. H. Jackson, at Port Royal, S. C., and another friend there, have just sent us copies of The New South, of Oct. 18, which contains an editorial in favor of promotion from the ranks,—a communication on "the demon-possessed South,"—and Gen. Mitchell's Address at the "Dedication of the Negro Church." He advises the people before him to practice industry, cleanliness, and virtue,—promises them freedom, land, the avails of their labor, and good schools,—and assures them if they are industrious and well behaved, the question, "what will you do with the black man after you have liberated him?"—will be answered, by making him a "useful, industrious citizen,—giving him family, wife, children; giving him his own earnings,—and as a man giving him what the Lord ordained him to have."

The paper contains a good variety of other matters.

THE PIRATE ON THE COAST.—The brig Baron de Castine, of Boston, Capt. Saunders, arrived at Boston, Sunday, having on board the officers and crew of six American vessels that have fallen a prey to the pirate steamer Alabama, or "290." The Baron de Castine sailed from Bangor for Cardenas, with lumber. Her captain reports that on the 29th of October, lat. 39, lon. 69, she was captured by the Alabama, and was ransomed by giving bonds in $6000—$4000 on the vessel and $2000 on the cargo. The officers and crews previously captured were put on board the brig, when she returned.

Six American vessels had been burnt, and two ransomed. The following is a list of the vessels captured and burnt or ransomed:—

Ship Lafayette, of New Haven, Captain Small, from New York Oct. 18, for Belfast, Ireland. Captured Oct. 29. She had 13,396 bushels of wheat, 47,663 bushels corn, and 16,850 lbs. lard.

Bark Lamplighter, of Boston, Capt. Harding, from New York for Gibraltar, with 300 hdds. tobacco, captured Oct. 15.

Bark Lauretta, of Boston, Capt. Wells, from New York for Madeira, with flour, nails, hemp, &c., captured Oct. 28.

Schooner Grenshaw, of New York, with flour and wheat; captured Oct. 26.

Ship Manchester, of New York, Capt. Landerkin, from New York, Oct. 3, for Liverpool. Date of capture not given. She was 1075 tons, built in Portsmouth, N. H., in 1860. She had on board 45,141 bushels wheat, and 14,666 bushels corn.

Brig Dunkirk, of Elsworth, Me., from New York, with flour and staves.

Ship Tonawanda, Capt. Julius, of and from Philadelphia Sept. 30, for Liverpool, was captured and released on giving a bond for $30,000, her cargo being insured in England.

The pirate when first seen, carried the British flag, but this was soon displaced by a Confederate flag. She carries ten guns.

☞ The Newport News says that a young man there, named Randall Pullen, recently enlisted and received $200 bounty. When he was quite young his mother was left a widow, and in struggling to bring up her children, she was compelled to run into debt. There was outstanding against her, the sum of one hundred dollars in small amounts. These were all outlawed, but Randall, upon receiving his money went to every creditor of his mother and paid every claim.

☞ An item in the papers state that Rev. Matthew Hale Smith has recently joined the Baptist Communion. He is the sprightly New York gossip writer "Burleigh" of the Boston Journal, and has belonged to sundry denominations, as orthodox, universalist, episcopal, &c. He has also studied law, and practiced a little.

☞ Gen. Banks arrived in Boston on Saturday night, by the midnight train. He was received by a large crowd. Governor Washburn, of Maine, went to Boston on Monday, Gen. Banks having requested an interview.

☞ The California papers contain a statement of the total wreck of the ship Swordfish, July 13, outside Woosung. A schooner had left Shanghae to take off the crew and save what could be found. The ship Sweepstakes is also reported lost near Tangier.

AN INVITE ACCEPTED.—Mrs. Jenkins requests the pleasure of Capt. Brown's company at a small party on Friday evening next.

Capt. Brown presents his compliments to Mrs. Jenkins, and regrets that thirteen privates will be detained by habeas corpus writs, and two sergeants are on the sick list; the rest of Capt. Brown's Company will have much pleasure in waiting on Mrs. Jenkins on Friday evening.

☞ The Lynchburg Republican of the 24th says the constitutionality of the conscription act will be tested in the Court of Appeals in Virginia. The case is made up by the Confederate State authorities.

☞ It is currently reported in Baltimore that Ex-Gov. Hicks is to be appointed Military Governor of Maryland, and will locate his office at Baltimore.

☞ The Grenada Appeal says that the rebel Generals Jackson, Longstreet, Polk, Hardee, Pemberton, Kirby Smith and Holmes have been promoted to Lieut. Generals.

☞ The Suffolk County Bank, at Sag Harbor, L. I., was broken open on Friday night, and robbed of $13,500—$8000 in bills and the balance in bonds.

☞ After the flames of the ship Alleghanian, in Chesapeake bay, had been subdued by the crew of the U. S. steamers, they broke out again, and the vessel was burned to the water's edge.

☞ The Common Council of Rochester, N. Y., have ordered the issue of one hundred thousand dollars in small change notes.

☞ The Government tax on the telegraphic despatches to the seven daily papers in Boston, amounts to $40 per week.

☞ Gen. Fremont has been presented with a sword by the Germans in St. Louis.

☞ They had nearly 500 cases of yellow fever in Wilmington, N. C., within 7 days.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The News Letter states that the family of Mr. Augustus Weeks, of Exeter, had anarrow escape one night last week. A lamp filled with kerosene oil, was left in a chamber where members of the family were sleeping, and the blaze burned down into the lamp, igniting the oil and producing a suffocating odor, which awakened a person sleeping in an adjoining room, who extinguished the light and prevented an explosion.

—— A house in Exeter was set on fire last week by the spontaneous combustion of some straw and oil. The fire was extinguished.

—— The meanest man in the world has recently visited Epping. On Thursday night he entered the Town Hall and stole fifty bushels of dried apples, which the ladies of that town had prepared for our soldiers in the army.

—— Frederick Robinson, of Brentwood, has three sons, all of whom are in the army. He is, moreover, old and infirm. Last Tuesday evening he was sitting quietly in his barn, husking corn, when fourteen young ladies drove him into the house and occupied the barn. They remained until 10 o'clock, and finished the husking—100 bushels.

THIRD N. H. REGIMENT.

Headquarters 3d N. H. Vols.
HILTON HEAD, S. C., Oct. 27.

Friend Miller:—Please find enclosed a "New South," containing an account of the "Pocotaligo Expedition," in which were the 3d and 4th N. H. Regts. This, I believe, is the first time the 4th has been under fire, and they proved themselves true sons of the Old Granite State. Orderly Sergeant J. W. Brewster, of Portsmouth, was struck in the leg with a shell, but will recover without the loss of the limb. He was the only Portsmouth man wounded, I believe.

The 3d took up their position under a heavy fire, to protect the left flank of our forces, and were therefore not actively engaged, but are honorably mentioned in the Report. They had 3 men slightly wounded, each in the hand. No Portsmouth man was injured. A new recruit of Capt. Randlett's Company (F) of Nashua, named Merrill, died from congestive fever, the day after the expedition, caused by exposure at that time. These are all the casualties in this regiment resulting from the expedition.

Lt. Smith, of the 3d, with a detachment of men, captured a picket of 1 Lieutenant and 3 men, also the horses of the privates, with all their equipments. The Lt.'s horse got loose and they were compelled to shoot him. This capture is not mentioned in the Report. It was the only successful part of the expedition; for, though our forces drove the rebels—still we could not accomplish our object. In haste, Yours, &c.,

T. M. J.

☞ There are strange scenes in war, mingling the sublime, the horrible, the fraternal, social, touching. A young Massachusetts volunteer, in the battle of Antietam, was mortally wounded by a rifle ball, in the abdomen, and fell backward, his lower limbs being entirely paralyzed by the wound.

He was to all appearance helpless, yet he aided in the fight. Having fallen almost at the beginning of the action his cartridge box was nearly full. Having excellent teeth, he handled and tore the cartridges from his box till it was empty, rapidly passing them to his comrades who stood over him: and then, as they found he aided their speed in firing, they took the cartridges, from their boxes, and he tore them till their ammunition was expended, when they bore him to the quiet bed of death: he being all the time as calm, deliberate, and earnest, as those who remained unhurt.

☞ The N. Y. Times has a dispatch that a short time since, Mr. Carpenter, of Charles county, Md., went into Virginia to persuade his son, a volunteer in the rebel army, to return home. While absent his farm negroes, six in number, attacked his house early one morning with the design of murdering his family. They retired, however, a gun being aimed from a window by Mrs. Carpenter. These facts becoming known, the neighbors assembled with the intention of hanging all the negroes on the farm, but through the remonstrances of their mistress they were finally let off with 39 lashes on the bare back. These events occurred within sight of our gunboats on the Potomac.

S. J. COURT—PORTSMOUTH.

MONDAY.—The case of Thomas H. Grenville vs. Daniel R. Rogers was commenced this morning. Christie and Frink for Plf. Goodall for Deft.

This suit is brought to test the title to certain real estate on the corner of Church and Congress streets, Portsmouth, formerly the property of Hon. Wm. Ham, deceased, and now held by deeds derived from the late Joseph Locke, Esq., through other parties.

PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.—We learn that orders were received last week, for the building of another new U. S. vessel here, a side wheel steamer. There are now, in various stages of building here, new vessels—the Agamenticus, iron-plated; the Nipsic, screw steamer; and the Sassacus, side wheel steamer,—besides the Minnesota and Colorado being repaired.

Edward F. Maxfield, of New Bedford, has been appointed Acting 1st Asst. Engineer, and ordered to the screw sloop Ossipee, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

MORTARS FOR FORT CONSTITUTION.—A number of the largest size sea coast mortars have arrived at our Navy Yard, where they will be mounted on substantial carriages, preparatory to their being placed in the Fort, after the repairs have been made. They carry a shell weighing 250 lbs.

☞ There were one or two cries of "fire" in the central portion of the city on Saturday night, about half past 11 o'clock. A drunken man, who had been taken to the watch-house by the police, attempted to dissipate his woes in the smoke of tobacco, and in lighting his pipe, set fire to his bed. The watch extinguished the flames, but some outsider raised the cry of fire and one of the engines was got out.

☞ We learn that Capt. Geo. Frank Towle, of this city, Co. F, 4th N. H. Regt. had a shoulder strap shot off, in the recent attack on the Charleston and Savannah Railroad. A contemporary recently suggested that when such cases occurred, it would be a good plan to replace the lost epaulette with that of the next higher grade.
